U. S. and Russia Split on Question Of Early Hearing of Iran Charges

Pepper Declares Big Three Must Restore Unity Outside of UNO

Senator Raps Vandenberg in Urging Release of Atom Secrets

RECOMMENDS THAT U. S. GRANT LOAN TO RUSSIA

Rep. Merrow Calls for Meeting between Truman and Stalin

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Sen. Pepper (D-Fla) declared today that "the United Nations Organization is not the way out of this web of fear"—that the Big Three must re-establish unity outside it through an unprecedented conference of their generals, workers, businessmen and statesmen.

He sharply assailed Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich) as leader of the "newest form of isolationism"—exclusive American possession of the atomic bomb and military control of atomic energy.

Pepper asserted that before entering the conference, the United States, with Britain and Canada, "should destroy every atomic bomb we have and smash every facility we possess" for making it.

The conference he outlined to the Senate would deal with all matters which would wipe out distrust among the United States, Russia and Britain and assure their security. Specifically he urged:

1. That all knowledge of atomic energy "be freely poured into the international channels of science."

2. That Russia have "fair access" to the oil of the Middle East and other "territories outside her own homeland, as do the other big two." He said this would implement the Atlantic Charter's promise of equal access by the nations to raw materials.

U.S. Loans Are Urged

3. That all "strategic bases and areas of the world" be under joint occupation through the Security council.

4. That the United States grant the loans which he said other nations need for "useful purposes," including the $6,000,000,000 credit Russia has requested.

"To deny that loan because we fear Russia or hate communism means," he said, "that we drive Russia to tightening instead of liberalizing her economy, to restricting instead of extending the liberties and the living standards of her people, and that we force her to the conclusion that we will never be her real friend, and her future must be made only through her own strength and her own separate way."

In this connection, government officials who could not be quoted by name reported that the United States has invited Moscow to send representatives to discuss a $1,000,000,000 credit but that the Soviets

Coal Operators, Union Plan To Meet Daily

WASHINGTON, March 20. (AP)—Bituminous coal wage negotiations settled down today to the unspectacular business of seeing "what the other fellow has to offer."

That is the way one person close to the bargaining negotiations between John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers and the soft coal operators described the opening stage of the bargaining. However, the discussion has been limited almost entirely to Lewis's demand for a health and welfare fund, he said.

Actual bargaining began Tuesday afternoon. The committee representing the union and the operators arranged to meet every day from 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. until a contract is written.

Gen. MacArthur Orders Homma To Be Executed

Food Crisis May Bring about Pool Of World Supplies

ATLANTIC CITY, March 20 (AP)—The world's mounting food crisis is rapidly crystalizing opinion here, at UNRRA's fourth council meeting, that all world food supplies must be forced into a common pool from which nations may share-and-share-alike.

All supplying nations—which may include many Latin-Americans and some neutrals, such as Sweden and Switzerland—are being considered, but the USSR is foremost on the list.

The Soviet Union has offered for sale to France 400,000 tons of wheat and 100,000 tons of barley and Russia has failed to reply, so far, to a query from UNRRA as to whether it could supply any wheat to help out in the liberated countries, assistant Secretary of State William L. Clayton told the council.

He said, "the report (of Russia's grain sale to France) gives ground for hope that the Soviet Union may be in a position to give a favorable reply to the UNRRA request and thus align itself with the United States and other supplying countries."

Australia suggested "there is no doubt that the Combined Food Board (made up of the United States, the United Kingdom and Canada) would be a better body if Russia were to join and pool information of food supplies."

Russia's chief delegate here, N. I. Feonov, in an interview, said that he has no information on how his government will respond to the discussions. He has, however, criticized the CFB's allotments.

Clayton said the supplying nations will have to cut food shipments to nations which find a "new source of supply" (such as France) in justice to the nations "without access to the new source."

He recalled that the United States has been asked to cut its grain consumption forty per cent, and its fats and oils twenty per cent.

Czechoslovakia's Vladimir Hurban told the council that grain supplies are now so short in his country that flour mills will have to stop grinding by the end of the week.

Nations receiving aid from UNRRA—and several which are doing their own purchasing, such as India—are rapidly being reduced to a 1,200 caloric day. India has said even that low diet cannot be maintained unless it gets 2,000,000 tons of wheat by May.

Allied Commander Speaks Bitterly of Brutalities of Bataan

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Thursday, March 21 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur today consigned to the firing squad Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, conqueror of the Philippines who had driven the surrendered remnants of MacArthur's garrison through the tortures of the 1942 Bataan death mach.

"The savageries which resulted have shocked the world," MacArthur said in his official review of the case. More than 17,000 died. His affirmation of the Manila court-martial condemnation of Homma leaves the convicted war criminal no recourse short of the White House. MacArthur directed Lt. Gen. William D. Styer, commanding army forces of the Western Pacific, to carry out the sentence at Manila. No date was specified.

MacArthur's detailed review of the Homma case spoke bitterly of the brutalities of Bataan—"synonyms of horror," which "mark the lowest ebb of depravity of modern times."

Commenting upon the heroism of the United States Bataan garrison, he added:

"Of all fighting men of all time, none deserved more the honors of war in their final hour of final agony.

"I can find no circumstances of extenuation, although I have searched. . . ."

MacArthur also asserted that he had considered carefully the dissents of Supreme Court Justices Murphy and Rutledge to a court refusal to intervene for Homma. Murphy had denounced the trial as a descent "to the level of revengeful blood purges."

On the contrary, the supreme commander declared, "No trial could have been fairer. . . .Those who would oppose such an honest method can only be a minority who either advocate arbitariness of process above factual realism, or who inherentiy shrink. . . .from capital punishment."

Homma was convicted by a military commission in Manila February 11 of ordering the death march and condoning other atrocities by his troops in the Philippines early in the war.

Said MacArthur:

"If this defendant does not deserve his judicial fate, none in jurisdictional history ever did.

"There can be no greater, more heinous or more dangerous crime than mass destruction under the guise of military authority or military necessity of helpless men in-

Hermann Goering Denies He Ordered Massacres

NUERNBERG, March 20. (AP)—Hermann Goering admitted today he had signed numerous anti-Jewish decrees, shared in looted Jewish art and ordered strong measures against partisans, but denied he practiced wanton looting or ordered massacres in occupied country.

Both Goering and Chief United States Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson showed evidences of strain in the former reichsmarshal's sixth straight day on the witness stand before the international military tribunal.

During Jackson's cross-examination, Goering repeatedly challenged the accuracy of prosecution documents or disagreed with the prosecution's interpretations and translations. He succeeded in forcing some corrections in translation; he cast suspicion upon some pictures of bombings in Poland, and at some points he caused the prosecution to shift from its chosen line of cross-examination.

Wreckage of Two Big Army Planes Yields 32 Bodies

One Other Is Sought at Scene of C-47 Transport Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20. (AP)—The wreckage of twin California air disasters yielded the bodies of thirty-two army and navy men today.

One other, among twenty-six who died yesterday when a C-47 army transport crashed near Truckee in the High Sierra, was still listed as "missing" tonight after weary ground crews vainly probed deep snows about the wreckage.

All seven occupants of an army B-29 bomber from Honolulu, lost Monday night heading for Fairfield army air base near San Francisco, were found dead today when rescue crews pushed through mud and rain to the wreckage on Wauhab ridge thirty miles southwest of San Francisco.

Wreckage Is Scattered

The bomber's wreckage was strewn for half a mile. The big four-engined bomber came to rest with tail high in air at a point some 3,200 feet from ocean level.

It was one of five which flew to the mainland in the "Sunset" project—the assembling of B-29's in this county for overhauling and consignment to surplus property stations. The other four made the trip without incident. The fifth developed engine trouble, and after radioing that it was lost, no more was heard from it.

The twenty-six aboard the C-47 included supposedly "lucky" passengers who won places when the plane, making a regular daily flight from Stockton, Calif., to Ogden, Utah, and Denver, had extra space due to a light cargo load.

It exploded over the mountain ghost town of Hobart Mills and hurtled down into Prosser Canyon. Search parties worked all night in snow, above their heads in some places, to extricate the bodies. Today most of them were taken to Reno.

Seek Missing Planes

Two other missing planes were also sought today in California—a navy torpedo bomber with only the pilot aboard, which failed to arrive at Madera from Alameda naval air base, a distnce of 150 miles, and a Steerman army trainer flown by Cpl. Bernard Wollner, which has been missing since February 22 when it left Napa county airport for Reno.

Names of the seven passengers aboard the B-29 bomber will not be made public until identification of the bodies is positive and next of kin have been notified, Col. W. C. Armstrong, executive offieer at Fairfield army air base, said today.

Airliner Which Crashed Near Morgantown, W. Va. Was Flying Too Low

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board reported today that the crash of a Pennsylvania Central Airlines plane in which twenty persons were killed near Morgantown, W. Va., last April 14 probably was caused by flying too low in bad weather.

The plane was enroute from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Birmingham, Ala., when it smashed into the west slope of Cheat mountain, seven miles east of Morgantown, killing seventeen passengers and three crew members. The plane was destroyed by fire.

Fighting Flares Between Iranian Army and Kurds

19-Year-Olds Are Called to Colors; Rightist Leader Is Held

TEHRAN, March 20—Fighting between Kurdish tribesmen and the Iranian army was reported by a general staff officer today as the government called 19-year-olds to the colors and arrested Rightist Deputy Said Zia Ed-Din, oftern described by political writers as anti-Russian.

The officer said 3,000 tribesmen had been attacking three isolated army garrisons for a week and that Iranian planes were trying to prevent the garrisons from being cut off from their headquarters.

In announcing the conscription of 19-year-olds, the army said it was deferring those in the 22-25-year bracket.

(The Iranian embassy in Washington said that 19-year-olds normally are not given training in the Iranian army. They said the army normally consists of men 20 to 22 years old in training and that those above 22 move automatically into reserve classes after training).

Premier Ordered Arrest

Zia Ed-Din was taken from his home by two men in the uniform of Iranian army colonels. As he sat in the automobile of his captors he told newsmen "I think they are arresting me because I am not liked by the Russians."

Prince Firouz, political undersecretary of state and director of propaganda, said the rightist leader was arrested on orders of Premier Ahmed Qavam Es Saltaneh and was being "put under preventive detention pending investigation of certain charges."

Zia Ed-Din, generally known as a leading opponent of the premier, has given several interviews in recent days, and said yesterday that "Iran's only hope lies with the UNO."

Firouz said the investigation would extend through the Moslem new year holidays which start tonight and continue for about two weeks.

Meanwhile, leftist Tudeh party leaders called a private meeting after it was announced that the government had made a new appeal to the United Nations Security Council against the continued presence of Soviet troops in Iran.

Right-wing sympathizers expressed belief the Tudeh party might lead leftist demonstrations against the government because of the appeal.

Britain Will Disband Exiled Polish Forces

LONDON, March 20. (AP)—Britain will disband the exiled Polish army, navy and air force of 200,000 men under British command as soon as practicable, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today.

His statement, distributed to all Polish armed forces in Italy, Germany, Britain, and the Middle East, urged them to return promptly to their native land.

Bevin included a statement of the Polish government promising that "no punitive measures or reprisals" would be invoked except in specific cases, including those involving men who had served in the German forces or who were guilty of high treason.

Thousands of the exiled Poles have resisted return to Poland without assurances by the Warsaw government that there would be no reprisals for their expressed political beliefs.

Agriculture Department Survey Indicates Another Bumper Crop

Washington, March 20. (AP)—Another bumper crop, carrying with it hopes that the nation may be able to avoid a return to food rationing, was indicated for 1946 by an Agriculture department survey today.

It showed that farmers plan 357,500,000 acres of crops, compared with 357,000,000 last year and 355,000,000 for the 1934-45 average.

While the indicated acreage for sixteen major crops is three per cent below what the government asked, food officials considered it generally favorable in the light of shortages of labor, machinery and other equipment.

Final acreages may be altered, however, by weather, changes in the labor and machinery supply and by any price revisions which might be made before seeding time. Actual yields also will depend, in large part, on weather.

Crops indicated to exceed goals include wheat, oats, peanuts, tobacco and rice. Those which apparently will fall short include corn, hay, sorghums, barley, soybeans, flax, white and sweet potatoes, sugar beets, dry beans and peas.

Another bumper wheat crop appears likely. Famine-stricken areas abroad probably will need a lot of it.

On the basis of the present condition of the winter wheat crop, which was sown last fall, and the indicated acreage of spring wheat, total production should be about 1,007,000,000 bushels, the department said, compared with last year's record of 1,123,143,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop is estimated at about 750,000,000 bushels, and the spring crop at 257,000,000 bushels.

The outlook for livestock feed grains is less favorable. It would seem to indicate that livestock production may have to be reduced from present levels well into 1947, but not sufficiently to require a return of meat rationing.

Of the feed grains, only the oats acreage is likely to exceed the goal. Prospective acreage of the most important feed grain—corn—was reported at 92,867,000 compared with a goal of 97,760,000.

The department said the tight farm labor situation has been slow to improve and prisoners of war and imported laborers are not likely to be available this year.

"Of course, many war veterans are returned to take over and help out on the home farms, but few are available as hard workers at wages farmers think they can pay," the department said.

The volume of new farm machinery is inadequate, it added, and parts to maintain use machines are difficult to obtain.

Russia Desires Friendly Korea, Meeting Is Told

Joint U. S.-Soviet Commission Is Informed of Moscow's Aims

SEOUL, March 20—(AP)—Soviet Russia wants a friendly "democratic and independent" Korea which will "not become a base for an attack on the Soviet Union," Col. Gen. Terenty Shtykov declared today.

Shtykov, commander in Russian-occupied Northern Korea, stated his country's aims at the opening of the joint American-Russian commission convened to discuss creation of a provisional Korean government.

In a blunt reply to the welcoming address of Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American commander in Southern Korea, Shtykov said:

"The Soviet Union has a keen interest in Korea being a true democratic and independent country, friendly to the Soviet Union, so that in the future it will not become a base for an attack on the Soviet Union."

Shtykov declared his country championed "self-determination and free existence," but that "serious difficulties" obstructed realization of democracy in Korea.

These difficulties he ascribed to "furious resistance of reactionary and anti-democratic groups, and certain elements whose object is to undermine the work of creating and firmly establishing a democratic system in Korea."

The Russian commander did not identify these groups and elements, nor was it clear whether he referred only to factions in the American zone. What goes on in the Russian zone is only vaguely conjectured here, there being as yet no free flow of news across the thirty-eighth parallel dividing the Russian and American zones.

Korea's new government, Shtykov emphasized, "must be creaated on the basis of a wide unification of all democratic parties and organizations" loyally supporting the decisions of the Moscow conference of foreign ministers—the conference which agreed on a joint American-Russian trusteeship for the liberated country.

At one point in his speech, Shtykov referred to this arrangement as a "temporary trusteeship."

Schoolgirl Is Beaten And Shot by Salesman

JOLIET, Ill., March 20. — (AP) — Slugged and shot four times, a 9-year old Joliet schoolgirl tonight was in a critical condition and Prosecutor James E. Burke said a 30-year-old traveling salesman had signed a statement confessing the assault.

The girl, Carol Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, was reported by a Silver Cross hospital spokesman in "critical" condition. Sheriff Ralph Newkirk said attending physicians reported she probably will recover.

State's Attorney James E. Burke said James Finney Lincoln, Jr., River Forest, a Chicago suburb, had signed a formal statement that he gave the girl a ride in his car, struck her about the head with a hammer "three to nine times" when she resisted his advances, and shot her twice in her right shoulder, once in her hip and once in the stomach as she fled on foot to her farm home three quarters of a mile distant.

Labor Bill Bans Union "Tribute" From Farmers

Committee Agrees Unanimously To Report Measure to Senate

WASHINGTON, March 20—(AP)—The Senate Labor committee completed action on its labor disputes legislation today by adding a prohibition against unions exacting "tribute" from farmers delivering perishable commodities to market.

The amendment, which Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called a "bob-tailed version of the Hobbs anti-Racketeering Bill," was sponsored by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) and approved 5 to 4.

It would make it a misdemeanor to use violence or threats to prevent a farmer from transporting perishable farm products or to require him to make a payment to a labor organization. Violations would be punishable by fine of $2,000 or imprisonment of a year.

It is aimed at a practice against which Congress long has received complaints. This is the stand by some unions in larger cities that farmers delivering to markets must pay the charges for a union truck driver and union unloaders even though the farmer does the driving and unloading himself.

The House several times has passed a bill by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala) to halt this and other practices Hobbs calls "racketeering," but the Senate always has pigeon-holed it.

Taft voted against the Aiken amendment as did Sen. LaFollette (Prog-Wis), Ball (R-Minn) and Smith (R-NJ). Taft told reporters the opposition was on the ground that the amendment is 'clearly discriminatory" in that it is limited to farmers.

Backing it were Sen. Aiken, Ellender (D-La), Guffey (D-Pa), Morse (R-Ore) and Murray (D-Mont).

Chairman Murray said that with adoption of the Aiken amendment the committee agreed unanimously to report the measure to the Senate.

Aside from that amendment, the bill provides simply for a five-member federal mediation board to try to avert strikes through mediation and conciliation.

The mediation board machinery was drafted by a subcommittee as a substitute for the House-approved Case bill containing various restrictions on unions.

A majority in the full committee fought off all attempts to add provisions similar to the Case bill's. These included a ban on secondary

Soviet Requests Security Council To Postpone Its Monday Meeting

Washington Asks That Issue Be Placed at Head of Agenda

REDS SAY THEY NEED TIME TO PREPARE CASE

Council Goes Ahead with Plans for Session in New York

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The United States and Russia split tonight on the question whether the United Nations Security Council shall give an early hearing to Iran's charges against the Soviets.

Russia asked for a postponement of the scheduled opening of the council in New York, from next Monday until April 10. Ambassador Andrei Gromyko wrote UNO Secretary General Trygve Lie that the Soviet government needed time to prepare its case.

Almost simultaneously, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., American member of the council, filed with Lie a request that the Iranian case be placed "at the head of the agenda" — in other words, be given the quickest possible consideration.

American officials said that when Stettinius made his request on instructions of Secretary of State Byrnes and presumably President Truman as well, he had not known of the Soviet delay proposition. He expected and hoped that the council would plunge into the Iranian case Monday.

Talks Failed, U. S. Hears

Stettinius also proposed that both Russia and Iran be requested to report to the council on their direct negotiations for settlement of their differences. While the Russian note tonight said that negotiations still were going on, informed American officials said that parleys which were held in Moscow evidently ended in failure ten days or two weeks ago.

Iran has appealed to the Security council to help get Russian troops off Iranian soil. The appeal charged that the troops were in Iran in violation of a written agreement and that Soviet agents were interfering in Iran's affairs.

Both American officials and aides on Lie's staff said that under the United Nations Charter it would take unanimous agreement of the eleven members of the council to postpone the meeting.

They pointed out that the charter specifies that any member may request a meeting and have it held at any time.

One UNO official said flatly that "you can count on it that the meeting will be held Monday."

Vote on Delay Wasn't Asked

Earlier in the day Lie had circulated the two letters among the eleven governments composing the Security council. This made it theoretically possible for the council members to agree to the postponement and actually delay opening of

Early Settlement of GM Local Issues Is Seen

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 20. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the CIO-United Auto Workers, tonight predicted settlement within a week of all local union grievances now delaying reopening of General Motors Corporation plants.

Reuther arrived here late tonight for a meeting of the UAW's executive board prior to the opening of its international convention Saturday.

Witness Says He Was "Defrauded" In Stock Purchase from Vardaman

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — Frank O. Bittner, Jr., a shoe manufacturer, testified today he was "defrauded" when he purchased 9,375 shares of stock from Com. James K. Vardaman, Jr., President Truman's naval aide and nominee for a place on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

"I certainly was defrauded January 16, 1942 when I purchased this stock," Bittner told a Senate Banking subcommittee considering the Vardaman nomination.

Bittner's purchase was stock in the Vardaman Shoe Company of St. Louis, which later was reorganized in bankruptcy with Bittner as president of the resulting company.

Earlier Bittner, constantly referring to a bag full of memoranda and company records, had testified that inventories of the Vardaman company had been "padded and plugged," that a steel file case containing papers was "jimmied," and that originals of affidavits his attorney collected from Vardaman employes had been destroyed.

Chairman Radcliffe (D-Md) protested that these affairs "do not have any bearing upon Com. Vardaman."

Sen. Donnell (R-Mo), who has been directing critical testimony on the nomination although not a member of the subcommittee, assured Radcliffe that the commodore will be "asked about these files" when he resumes sworn testimony.

Although Bittner produced a sheaf of photostatic copies of affidavits and minutes of the directors'

Self-Government for Manchurian Provinces Is Chinese Reds' Aim

CHUNGKING, March 20 (AP)—A Chinese Communist spokesman asserted today his party wants only self-rule for Manchuria's provinces similar to that enjoyed by states in the United States, and denied there was any political link with Russia.

The spokesman, Chen Chia-Kang, said the Communists did not want separation from central authority, contrary to reports that independent Communist regimes were being set up in parts of Manchuria. Rather they wanted only self-government, which would be even less than that of the states in America, he declared.

"We don't want nationalist forces to displace Communist forces in Manchuria," Chen said, "until an agreement is reached on the administration of that territory."

Chen asserted that charges of connection between the Chinese Communists and Russia were untrue, and added: "We hope Soviet forces in Manchuria will withdraw as soon as possible."

Chen declared the whole explosive issue could be settled if the government would give the go-ahead to a plan approved by Gen. Marshall to send truce teams into Manchuria to halt the latest outbreak of fighting.

Marshall, special presidential envoy to China now in Washington to report, said Saturday that measures were being taken to dispatch such teams to Manchuria, where he styled the situation was "critical."

The spokesman charged, however, that the government wanted the Communists to agree first to

"The savageries which resulted have shocked the world," MacArthur said in his official review of the case. More than 17,000 died. His affirmation of the Manila court-martial condemnation of Homma leaves the convicted war criminal no recourse short of the White House. MacArthur directed Lt. Gen. William D. Styer, commanding army forces of the Western Pacific, to carry out the sentence at Manila. No date was specified.

MacArthur's detailed review of the Homma case spoke bitterly of the brutalities of Bataan—"synonyms of horror," which "mark the lowest ebb of depravity of modern times."

Commenting upon the heroism of the United States Bataan garrison, he added:

"Of all fighting men of all time, none deserved more the honors of war in their final hour of final agony.

"I can find no circumstances of extenuation, although I have searched. . . ."

MacArthur also asserted that he had considered carefully the dissents of Supreme Court Justices Murphy and Rutledge to a court refusal to intervene for Homma. Murphy had denounced the trial as a descent "to the level of revengeful blood purges."

On the contrary, the supreme commander declared, "No trial could have been fairer. . . .Those who would oppose such an honest method can only be a minority who either advocate arbitrariness of process above factual realism, or who inherently shrink. . . .from capital punishment."

Homma was convicted by a military commission in Manila February 11 of ordering the death march and condoning other atrocities by his troops in the Philippines early in the war.

Said MacArthur:

"If this defendant does not deserve his judicial fate, none in jurisdictional history ever did.

"There can be no greater, more heinous or more dangerous crime than mass destruction under the guise of military authority or military necessity of helpless men in-

Airliner Which Crashed Near Morgantown, W. Va. Was Flying Too Low

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board reported today that the crash of a Pennsylvania Central Airlines plane in which twenty persons were killed near Morgantown, W. Va., last April 14 probably was caused by flying too low in bad weather.

The plane was enroute from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Birmingham, Ala., when it smashed into the west slope of Cheat mountain, seven miles east of Morgantown, killing seventeen passengers and three crew members. The plane was destroyed by fire.

Wreckage of Two Big Army Planes Yields 32 Bodies

One Other Is Sought at Scene of C-47 Transport Crash

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20. (AP)—The wreckage of twin California air disasters yielded the bodies of thirty-two army and navy men today.

One other, among twenty-six who died yesterday when a C-47 army transport crashed near Truckee in the High Sierra, was still listed as "missing" tonight after weary ground crews vainly probed deep snows about the wreckage.

All seven occupants of an army B-29 bomber from Honolulu, lost Monday night heading for Fairfield army air base near San Francisco, were found dead today when rescue crews pushed through mud and rain to the wreckage on Wauhab ridge thirty miles southwest of San Francisco.

Wreckage Is Scattered

The bomber's wreckage was strewn for half a mile. The big four-engined bomber came to rest with tail high in air at a point some 3,200 feet from ocean level.

It was one of five which flew to the mainland in the "Sunset" project—the assembling of B-29's in this county for overhauling and consignment to surplus property stations. The other four made the trip without incident. The fifth developed engine trouble, and after radioing that it was lost, no more was heard from it.

The twenty-six aboard the C-47 included supposedly "lucky" passengers who won places when the plane, making a regular daily flight from Stockton, Calif., to Ogden, Utah, and Denver, had extra space due to a light cargo load.

It exploded over the mountain ghost town of Hobart Mills and hurtled down into Prosser Canyon. Search parties worked all night in snow, above their heads in some places, to extricate the bodies. Today most of them were taken to Reno.

Seek Missing Planes

Two other missing planes were also sought today in California—a navy torpedo bomber with only the pilot aboard, which failed to arrive at Madera from Alameda naval air base, a distnce of 150 miles, and a Steerman army trainer flown by Cpl. Bernard Wollner, which has been missing since February 22 when it left Napa county airport for Reno.

Names of the seven passengers aboard the B-29 bomber will not be made public until identification of the bodies is positive and next of kin have been notified, Col. W. C. Armstrong, executive officer at Fairfield army air base, said today.

Fighting Flares Between Iranian Army and Kurds

19-Year-Olds Are Called to Colors; Rightist Leader Is Held

TEHRAN, March 20—Fighting between Kurdish tribesmen and the Iranian army was reported by a general staff officer today as the government called 19-year-olds to the colors and arrested Rightist Deputy Said Zia Ed-Din, oftern described by political writers as anti-Russian.

The officer said 3,000 tribesmen had been attacking three isolated army garrisons for a week and that Iranian planes were trying to prevent the garrisons from being cut off from their headquarters.

In announcing the conscription of 19-year-olds, the army said it was deferring those in the 22-25-year bracket.

(The Iranian embassy in Washington said that 19-year-olds normally are not given training in the Iranian army. They said the army normally consists of men 20 to 22 years old in training and that those above 22 move automatically into reserve classes after training).

Premier Ordered Arrest

Zia Ed-Din was taken from his home by two men in the uniform of Iranian army colonels. As he sat in the automobile of his captors he told newsmen "I think they are arresting me because I am not liked by the Russians."

Prince Firouz, political undersecretary of state and director of propaganda, said the rightist leader was arrested on orders of Premier Ahmed Qavam Es Saltaneh and was being "put under preventive detention pending investigation of certain charges."

Zia Ed-Din, generally known as a leading opponent of the premier, has given several interviews in recent days, and said yesterday that "Iran's only hope lies with the UNO."

Firouz said the investigation would extend through the Moslem new year holidays which start tonight and continue for about two weeks.

Meanwhile, leftist Tudeh party leaders called a private meeting after it was announced that the government had made a new appeal to the United Nations Security Council against the continued presence of Soviet troops in Iran.

Right-wing sympathizers expressed belief the Tudeh party might lead leftist demonstrations against the government because of the appeal.

Britain Will Disband Exiled Polish Forces

LONDON, March 20. (AP)—Britain will disband the exiled Polish army, navy and air force of 200,000 men under British command as soon as practicable, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today.

His statement, distributed to all Polish armed forces in Italy, Germany, Britain, and the Middle East, urged them to return promptly to their native land.

Bevin included a statement of the Polish government promising that "no punitive measures or reprisals" would be invoked except in specific cases, including those involving men who had served in the German forces or who were guilty of high treason.

Thousands of the exiled Poles have resisted return to Poland without assurances by the Warsaw government that there would be no reprisals for their expressed political beliefs.

Agriculture Department Survey Indicates Another Bumper Crop

Washington, March 20. (AP)—Another bumper crop, carrying with it hopes that the nation may be able to avoid a return to food rationing, was indicated for 1946 by an Agriculture department survey today.

It showed that farmers plan 357,500,000 acres of crops, compared with 357,000,000 last year and 355,000,000 for the 1934-45 average.

While the indicated acreage for sixteen major crops is three per cent below what the government asked, food officials considered it generally favorable in the light of shortages of labor, machinery and other equipment.

Final acreages may be altered, however, by weather, changes in the labor and machinery supply and by any price revisions which might be made before seeding time. Actual yields also will depend, in large part, on weather.

Crops indicated to exceed goals include wheat, oats, peanuts, tobacco and rice. Those which apparently will fall short include corn, hay, sorghums, barley, soybeans, flax, white and sweet potatoes, sugar beets, dry beans and peas.

Another bumper wheat crop appears likely. Famine-stricken areas abroad probably will need a lot of it.

On the basis of the present condition of the winter wheat crop, which was sown last fall, and the indicated acreage of spring wheat, total production should be about 1,007,000,000 bushels, the department said, compared with last year's record of 1,123,143,000 bushels. The winter wheat crop is estimated at about 750,000,000 bushels, and the spring crop at 257,000,000 bushels.

The outlook for livestock feed grains is less favorable. It would seem to indicate that livestock production may have to be reduced from present levels well into 1947, but not sufficiently to require a return of meat rationing.

Of the feed grains, only the oats acreage is likely to exceed the goal. Prospective acreage of the most important feed grain—corn—was reported at 92,867,000 compared with a goal of 97,760,000.

The department said the tight farm labor situation has been slow to improve and prisoners of war and imported laborers are not likely to be available this year.

"Of course, many war veterans are returned to take over and help out on the home farms, but few are available as hard workers at wages farmers think they can pay," the department said.

The volume of new farm machinery is inadequate, it added, and parts to maintain use machines are difficult to obtain.

Hermann Goering Denies He Ordered Massacres

NUERNBERG, March 20. (AP)—Hermann Goering admitted today he had signed numerous anti-Jewish decrees, shared in looted Jewish art and ordered strong measures against partisans, but denied he practiced wanton looting or ordered massacres in occupied country.

Both Goering and Chief United States Prosecutor Robert H. Jackson showed evidences of strain in the former reichsmarshal's sixth straight day on the witness stand before the international military tribunal.

During Jackson's cross-examination, Goering repeatedly challenged the accuracy of prosecution documents or disagreed with the prosecution's interpretations and translations. He succeeded in forcing some corrections in translation; he cast suspicion upon some pictures of bombings in Poland, and at some points he caused the prosecution to shift from its chosen line of cross-examination.

Russia Desires Friendly Korea, Meeting Is Told

Joint U. S.-Soviet Commission Is Informed of Moscow's Aims

SEOUL, March 20—(AP)—Soviet Russia wants a friendly "democratic and independent" Korea which will "not become a base for an attack on the Soviet Union," Col. Gen. Terenty Shtykov declared today.

Shtykov, commander in Russian-occupied Northern Korea, stated his country's aims at the opening of the joint American-Russian commission convened to discuss creation of a provisional Korean government.

In a blunt reply to the welcoming address of Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American commander in Southern Korea, Shtykov said:

"The Soviet Union has a keen interest in Korea being a true democratic and independent country, friendly to the Soviet Union, so that in the future it will not become a base for an attack on the Soviet Union."

Shtykov declared his country championed "self-determination and free existence," but that "serious difficulties" obstructed realization of democracy in Korea.

These difficulties he ascribed to "furious resistance of reactionary and anti-democratic groups, and certain elements whose object is to undermine the work of creating and firmly establishing a democratic system in Korea."

The Russian commander did not identify these groups and elements, nor was it clear whether he referred only to factions in the American zone. What goes on in the Russian zone is only vaguely conjectured here, there being as yet no free flow of news across the thirty-eighth parallel dividing the Russian and American zones.

Korea's new government, Shtykov emphasized, "must be creaated on the basis of a wide unification of all democratic parties and organizations" loyally supporting the decisions of the Moscow conference of foreign ministers—the conference which agreed on a joint American-Russian trusteeship for the liberated country.

Schoolgirl Is Beaten And Shot by Salesman

JOLIET, Ill., March 20. — (AP) — Slugged and shot four times, a 9-year old Joliet schoolgirl tonight was in a critical condition and Prosecutor James E. Burke said a 30-year-old traveling salesman had signed a statement confessing the assault.

The girl, Carol Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, was reported by a Silver Cross hospital spokesman in "critical" condition. Sheriff Ralph Newkirk said attending physicians reported she probably will recover.

State's Attorney James E. Burke said James Finney Lincoln, Jr., River Forest, a Chicago suburb, had signed a formal statement that he gave the girl a ride in his car, struck her about the head with a hammer "three to nine times" when she resisted his advances, and shot her twice in her right shoulder, once in her hip and once in the stomach as she fled on foot to her farm home three quarters of a mile distant.

Labor Bill Bans Union "Tribute" From Farmers

Committee Agrees Unanimously To Report Measure to Senate

WASHINGTON, March 20—(AP)—The Senate Labor committee completed action on its labor disputes legislation today by adding a prohibition against unions exacting "tribute" from farmers delivering perishable commodities to market.

The amendment, which Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called a "bob-tailed version of the Hobbs anti-Racketeering Bill," was sponsored by Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) and approved 5 to 4.

It would make it a misdemeanor to use violence or threats to prevent a farmer from transporting perishable farm products or to require him to make a payment to a labor organization. Violations would be punishable by fine of $2,000 or imprisonment of a year.

It is aimed at a practice against which Congress long has received complaints. This is the stand by some unions in larger cities that farmers delivering to markets must pay the charges for a union truck driver and union unloaders even though the farmer does the driving and unloading himself.

The House several times has passed a bill by Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala) to halt this and other practices Hobbs calls "racketeering," but the Senate always has pigeon-holed it.

Taft voted against the Aiken amendment as did Sen. LaFollette (Prog-Wis), Ball (R-Minn) and Smith (R-NJ). Taft told reporters the opposition was on the ground that the amendment is 'clearly discriminatory" in that it is limited to farmers.

Backing it were Sen. Aiken, Ellender (D-La), Guffey (D-Pa), Morse (R-Ore) and Murray (D-Mont).

Chairman Murray said that with adoption of the Aiken amendment the committee agreed unanimously to report the measure to the Senate.

Aside from that amendment, the bill provides simply for a five-member federal mediation board to try to avert strikes through mediation and conciliation.

The mediation board machinery was drafted by a subcommittee as a substitute for the House-approved Case bill containing various restrictions on unions.

A majority in the full committee fought off all attempts to add provisions similar to the Case bill's. These included a ban on secondary

Soviet Requests Security Council To Postpone Its Monday Meeting

REDS SAY THEY NEED TIME TO PREPARE CASE

Council Goes Ahead with Plans for Session in New York

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — The United States and Russia split tonight on the question whether the United Nations Security Council shall give an early hearing to Iran's charges against the Soviets.

Russia asked for a postponement of the scheduled opening of the council in New York, from next Monday until April 10. Ambassador Andrei Gromyko wrote UNO Secretary General Trygve Lie that the Soviet government needed time to prepare its case.

Almost simultaneously, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., American member of the council, filed with Lie a request that the Iranian case be placed "at the head of the agenda" — in other words, be given the quickest possible consideration.

American officials said that when Stettinius made his request on instructions of Secretary of State Byrnes and presumably President Truman as well, he had not known of the Soviet delay proposition. He expected and hoped that the council would plunge into the Iranian case Monday.

Talks Failed, U. S. Hears

Stettinius also proposed that both Russia and Iran be requested to report to the council on their direct negotiations for settlement of their differences. While the Russian note tonight said that negotiations still were going on, informed American officials said that parleys which were held in Moscow evidently ended in failure ten days or two weeks ago.

Iran has appealed to the Security council to help get Russian troops off Iranian soil. The appeal charged that the troops were in Iran in violation of a written agreement and that Soviet agents were interfering in Iran's affairs.

Both American officials and aides on Lie's staff said that under the United Nations Charter it would take unanimous agreement of the eleven members of the council to postpone the meeting.

They pointed out that the charter specifies that any member may request a meeting and have it held at any time.

One UNO official said flatly that "you can count on it that the meeting will be held Monday."

Vote on Delay Wasn't Asked

Earlier in the day Lie had circulated the two letters among the eleven governments composing the Security council. This made it theoretically possible for the council members to agree to the postponement and actually delay opening of

Early Settlement of GM Local Issues Is Seen

Reuther arrived here late tonight for a meeting of the UAW's executive board prior to the opening of its international convention Saturday.

Self-Government for Manchurian Provinces Is Chinese Reds' Aim

CHUNGKING, March 20 (AP)—A Chinese Communist spokesman asserted today his party wants only self-rule for Manchuria's provinces similar to that enjoyed by states in the United States, and denied there was any political link with Russia.

The spokesman, Chen Chia-Kang, said the Communists did not want separation from central authority, contrary to reports that independent Communist regimes were being set up in parts of Manchuria. Rather they wanted only self-government, which would be even less than that of the states in America, he declared.

"We don't want nationalist forces to displace Communist forces in Manchuria," Chen said, "until an agreement is reached on the administration of that territory."

Chen asserted that charges of connection between the Chinese Communists and Russia were untrue, and added: "We hope Soviet forces in Manchuria will withdraw as soon as possible."

Chen declared the whole explosive issue could be settled if the government would give the go-ahead to a plan approved by Gen. Marshall to send truce teams into Manchuria to halt the latest outbreak of fighting.

Marshall, special presidential envoy to China now in Washington to report, said Saturday that measures were being taken to dispatch such teams to Manchuria, where he styled the situation was "critical."

The spokesman charged, however, that the government wanted the Communists to agree first to

Witness Says He Was "Defrauded" In Stock Purchase from Vardaman

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP) — Frank O. Bittner, Jr., a shoe manufacturer, testified today he was "defrauded" when he purchased 9,375 shares of stock from Com. James K. Vardaman, Jr., President Truman's naval aide and nominee for a place on the Federal Reserve Board of Governors.

"I certainly was defrauded January 16, 1942 when I purchased this stock," Bittner told a Senate Banking subcommittee considering the Vardaman nomination.

Bittner's purchase was stock in the Vardaman Shoe Company of St. Louis, which later was reorganized in bankruptcy with Bittner as president of the resulting company.

Earlier Bittner, constantly referring to a bag full of memoranda and company records, had testified that inventories of the Vardaman company had been "padded and plugged," that a steel file case containing papers was "jimmied," and that originals of affidavits his attorney collected from Vardaman employes had been destroyed.

Chairman Radcliffe (D-Md) protested that these affairs "do not have any bearing upon Com. Vardaman."

Sen. Donnell (R-Mo), who has been directing critical testimony on the nomination although not a member of the subcommittee, assured Radcliffe that the commodore will be "asked about these files" when he resumes sworn testimony.

Although Bittner produced a sheaf of photostatic copies of affidavits and minutes of the directors'

West Virginia School Reform Resolution Clears First Hurdle

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 20 (AP) — Gov. Clarence W. Meadows's proposed constitutional change for educational reform negotiated its first legislative hurdle in the Senate today but two administration spokesmen there declared their opposition to any revision in the tax structure for schools.

With four Republicans dissenting, the Senate passed 28-4 a resolution submitting to the people a vote on changing the constitution to broaden powers of the state boards of education and university governors.

The measure now goes to the House, where its future is so uncertain that Gov. Meadows will go on the radio tomorrow night to clarify its purposes in a thirty-minute statement to the people.

Administration forces in the House, where delegates had been marking time after passing some minor legislation, immediately tried to forestall efforts by an opposition bloc to send the Senate version of the resolution to committee.

Criticism of Police

blue should give way to miniature brass footballs, so their target would carry the emblem.

"Police headquarters are usually found in the most dilapidated building in town, but, if a modern one, police are usually relegated to the attic, the cellar or the back room, like some discarded piece of furniture, not completely abandoned. . . oh! no! . . . 'we may need it again'.

"The only time a word of commendation or encouragement is wasted upon the nation's local police, comes when one of them happens to lie in a hospital awaiting the last roll call. Then and only then do some people stop to realize that he too is human.

"The police officer is expected to be Simon pure, have no faults and do no wrong, despite the fact that his work consists chiefly of dealing with other people's mistakes. And it's the mistakes made by other people, by the public, if you please, that make police officers essential and necessary."

Annulment Plea Of Soldier Is Denied by Court

The petition of a young soldier to have his marriage annulled was dismissed yesterday in an opinion handed down by Associate Judge Walter C. Capper in Garrett County Circuit Court in which the court stated that there was no evidence to prove that the soldier had been forced to enter into a marriage last April 5 in Oakland.

The petition was filed by William Jerome Bainbridge III, Uniontown, Pa., against Mrs. Stella Marie Galla Bainbridge, also of Uniontown. Walter W. Dawson and A. T. Matthews were attorneys for the soldier with William R. Offutt representing the wife.

The soldier said he was 18 years old last March 26 and that Miss Galla, her sister, and John W. Wright applied for the license at Oakland and that Wright obtained the ring and made all arrangements for the ceremony.

Wright also obtained a room for the couple at a hotel in Ohio Pyle, Pa., after the wedding, it was said.

Five days after the wedding, Bainbridge was inducted and sent to Camp Wheeler, Ga., and several love letters he sent to his wife were introduced as evidence. He also sent for her and she spent two weeks with him at camp. Later he was sent to Camp Dix, N. J., and his parents discovered that he had married Miss Galla, who was a next door neighbor. The parents went to New Jersey and the youth then told his wife that he "was through," she said.

Bainbridge admitted that no force was used to make him marry her and that he went along when the license was obtained. Wright also said Bainbridge asked him to get the license for him and had asked Miss Galla to marry him.

The court stated that "everyone likes to come to the aid of Dan Cupid" and that Wright seemed to be "a very obliging friend, with no ulterior motive" in arranging the ceremony.

Two appeals for occupancy permits will be heard at the session Tuesday.

Barton Man Fires Gun at Prowlers

John "Tupp" Davis, Barton, fired on two youthful prowlers Tuesday night when he came home and saw them attempting to raise a kitchen window. Davis said the home had been ransacked in previous months and that he put a loaded shotgun in an outbuilding in anticipation of another attempt.

Dr. Petiot Reverses Previous Positions

PARIS, March 20 (AP)—Dr. Marcel Petiot admitted at his mass murder trial today that he helped "execute" one of the twenty-seven persons whom the state charges he robbed and murdered.

He previously had maintained that he had not killed any of the twenty-seven named by the state, but had taken part in a "certain number" of the sixty-three "executions" which he said a so-called resistance group had carried out against gestapo informers.

The prosecutor also reversed his previous position and acknowledged that three of the victims, which the state alleges Petiot killed, were gestapo agents.

Fighting Flares

While the three Iranian garrisons held out against the Kurds, other tribesmen were reported by the general staff officer to be fighting with "Democrats" of Soviet-occupied Azerbaijan province.

The besieged garrisons were Sardasht and Baneh, in Northern Kurdistan province, and Saqqiz, on the Aberabaijan-Kurdistan border—an arta adjacent to the semi-autonomous shiekdom of Ghazi Mohammed, leader of a separatist Kurdish movement at Saujbulagh.

Saqqiz is only a few miles south of Bukan, where a Russian combat column was reported last week to have arrived from Tabriz.

The officer expressed confidence that the garrisons still were holding out, but added that heavy snows prevented the movement of reinforcements.

He said "army forces of approximately 3,000 were divided among four garrisons, while the tribesmen may concentrate their entire force against one post at a time."

Seven Iranian planes are operating from airfields at Hamadan and Kermanshah, he said, in support of the army. The planes, carrying light bombs and machineguns, are trying to prevent the tribesmen from cutting the single mountain road southward to army headquarters at Sinneh.

capable of further contribution to war effort.

Referring to the death march on Bataan, MacArthur said:

"There are few parallels in infamy and tragedy with the brutilization of troops who, in good faith, have laid down their arms. It is a peculiar aversion that the victims were a garrison whose heroism and valor have never been surpassed. Of all fighting men of all times, none deserved more the honors of war in their hour of final agony.

"The callousness of denial has never been exceeded. This violation of a fundamental code of chivalry which has ruled all honorable military men throughout the ages, in treatment of defeated opponents, will forever shame the memory of the victorious troops."

Pepper Declares

had balked at some of the conditions, including one which called for a review of Russian economic tie-ups with Eastern European countries.

Truman-Stalin Meeting Asked

At the other side of the capitol, Rep. Merrow (R-NH) introduced a resolution calling for an immediate meeting between President Truman and Generalissimo Stalin to clarify Russian objectives and American policy. Merrow specified that the results be made public.

Pepper, his left hand in the pocket of his blue suit and his right hand gesturing vigorously, warned grimly at the outset of his speech that "we are hurtling toward war again."

"It is a delusion and a snare," he continued, "to regard the present United Nations Organization as the tribunal for the solution of these clashes and conflicts among the Big Three growing out of their fear for their own security."

Calling instead for a meeting of the chiefs of state of the Big Three and "a full-scale conference," Pepper declared that the delegations must be "truly representative of the will to peace of these three countries."

"Among our representatives, for example," he went on, "there should be Eisenhower, and from Russia there must be Zhukov, and from the British, Alexander and others like these men who have worked together. x x x

"And there must be businessmen, labor leaders, leaders of agriculture, women, veterans of this war and the youths who would be the cannon-fodder of another war.

Says Vandenberg "Failed"

"This conference would have the commission of staying in session until its task was won. Its scope and agenda must be the restoration of confidence among the Big Three by working out agreement on the fundamental issues—military, economic, political or cultural—which today are holding up agreement on the specific issues that come before the Security council. The task of the conference is in effect to clear the way for the Security council and the General Assembly."

Turning to Vandenberg, who called for plain speaking to Russia in the Senate last month upon his return from the United Nations sessions in London, Pepper asserted that "the senator from Michigan failed his country as a sentinel when the menace of Hitlerism rose."

"He must himself shudder," Pepper went on, "at what would have been the effect of the success of his policies in those dangerous days as he stood against the repeal of the Neutrality act, the passage of lend-lease and Selective Service.

"As he admonishes Russia today, he may be sure that however fair he intends to be in his counsel, Russia will ever remember that he joined those who voted to make it illegal to extend lend-lease to her three months before Hitler struck here in 1941."

Pepper added that he had not "heard any statement from the able senator" on the British loan or on "the 'fraternal association' in arms proposed by Mr. Winston Churchill which strikes, as many of us see it, at the very heart of the unity of the Big Three."

Through the attack Vandenberg sat quietly, and sauntered from the chamber upon its conclusion without replying.

Soviet Requests

the Security council for the seventeen days.

However, Assistant Secretary General Ben Cohen, UNO public relations chief, said that Lie had not asked for a vote and that he is certain the meeting actually will be held on March 25.

At that time Gromyko may seek to force a vote on an immediate adjournment until April 10.

There seemed to be no doubt that the United States, which has been working for the quickest possible consideration of the Iranian case, would oppose such a motion.

No Delay Is Expected

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—The Iranian question remained in the spotlight tonight as United Nations personnel rushed preparations for Monday's opening session of the powerful Security council.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent British representative on the council, predicted the question would be considered by the council as a "dispute," automatically cancelling Russia's vote.

Sir Alexander said he had no comment on Russia's request for a postponement of the meeting—made public in Washington late today — and declared:

"We expect to meet on Monday as planned."

Others, discussing the request informally, said it would be submitted to the Security council and would require a majority vote in favor in order to be granted. Names of those participating in the discussion were not given.

Trygve Lie, secretary general, is due from Washington tomorrow. He conferred with President Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes today. A UNO spokesman said Lie would hold a news conference Friday and probably would discuss the council's agenda.

Labor Bill Bans

boycotts and making unions liable for damages for breach of contract.

Ball proposed to add the ban on secondary boycotts at today's session but was voted down 11 to 3. Taft and Smith voted with him.

The term is applied to a union's refusal to handle the product of some firm with which it has no direct dispute—refusal by electricians, for instance, to install fixtures made by a certain firm.

Taft proposed an amendment to forbid any form of violence in labor disputes, including use of strike breakers, use of firearms, and employment of industrial espionage. Courts would be authorized to issue injunctions to enforce the ban. This lost 11 to 2 with Ball supporting Taft.

Taft and Ball said they would renew a fight for their amendments when the measure comes up in the Senate.

It was announced that a state executive committee meeting will be held in Hagerstown April 7.

Plans were also completed for a roast beef supper, to be held at the home March 28 from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Berdella Leib, treasurer, reported that the tag sale February 23 netted $56.79.

Self Government

Chungking's "right to move nationalist troops to any point in Manchuria it wished."

Chen presented the Communist side of the controversy as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek sought to close the widening rift with a strong bid for domestic peace before the opening of the All-Party Peoples Political Council.

The Communists refused to send delegates to the council because they feared it would be dominated by Kuomintang (government party) elements bent on undermining the recent unity pact.

Chiang declared China should promote friendly relations with other powers and work for internal peace exclusively by political means, an apparent reference to the Chinese clashes in Manchuria.

Liu Chieh, vice-minister of foreign affairs, told a news conference China still had not been informed when Russian troops would complete their withdrawal from Manchuria.

He also said the Russians had not advised China of any withdrawal between Mukden and Changchun, Manchuria's capital, the area in which the latest government-Communist fighting has been reported.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Tientsin quoted reports to North China newspapers to the effect that Chinese Communists had blown up a railway bridge over the Chin river north of Mukden, further disrupting transportation over Manchuria's main north-south railway.)

meetings of the defunct Vardaman company, details of these were not read into the record. They were examined by the subcommittee and Com. Vardaman, who was accompanied by three naval officers apparently serving as counsel.

Sen. McFarland, (D-Ariz) tried to pin Bittner down about details of the stock sale by Vardaman. He asked if Bittner or Vardaman started the sale, who was present and what was said.

"I don't know," Bittner said squirming about in his chair.

Finally the shoe manufacturer asked:

"Am I on trial? You subpoenaed me here and now you are trying to cross-examine me."

"Certainly I'm trying to cross-examine you," McFarland said. "It's our duty to question you in detail."

Finally Millikin said Bittner had made a "serious charge" that "Com. Vardaman made a false statement to you to buy stock by handing you a false financial statement."

"He did not enlighten me as to the true facts of the company," Bittner replied, adding that Vardaman had told him the company was making money and should move ahead with Bittner as its president.

McFarland and Radcliffe promptly accused Buttner of giving conflicting testimony, pointing out that he previously had replied he could not recall such details.

West Virginia School Reform Resolution Clears First Hurdle

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 20 (AP) — Gov. Clarence W. Meadows's proposed constitutional change for educational reform negotiated its first legislative hurdle in the Senate today but two administration spokesmen there declared their opposition to any revision in the tax structure for schools.

With four Republicans dissenting, the Senate passed 28-4 a resolution submitting to the people a vote on changing the constitution to broaden powers of the state boards of education and university governors.

The measure now goes to the House, where its future is so uncertain that Gov. Meadows will go on the radio tomorrow night to clarify its purposes in a thirty-minute statement to the people.

Administration forces in the House, where delegates had been marking time after passing some minor legislation, immediately tried to forestall efforts by an opposition bloc to send the Senate version of the resolution to committee.

Criticism of Police

blue should give way to miniature brass footballs, so their target would carry the emblem.

"Police headquarters are usually found in the most dilapidated building in town, but, if a modern one, police are usually relegated to the attic, the cellar or the back room, like some discarded piece of furniture, not completely abandoned. . . oh! no! . . . we may need it again'.

"The only time a word of commendation or encouragement is wasted upon the nation's local police, comes when one of them happens to lie in a hospital awaiting the last roll call. Then and only then do some people stop to realize that he too is human.

"The police officer is expected to be Simon pure, have no faults and do no wrong, despite the fact that his work consists chiefly of dealing with other people's mistakes. And it's the mistakes made by other people, by the public, if you please, that make police officers essential and necessary."

Annulment Plea Of Soldier Is Denied by Court

The petition of a young soldier to have his marriage annulled was dismissed yesterday in an opinion handed down by Associate Judge Walter C. Capper in Garrett County Circuit Court in which the court stated that there was no evidence to prove that the soldier had been forced to enter into a marriage last April 5 in Oakland.

The petition was filed by William Jerome Bainbridge III, Uniontown, Pa., against Mrs. Stella Marie Galla Bainbridge, also of Uniontown. Walter W. Dawson and A. T. Matthews were attorneys for the soldier with William R. Offutt representing the wife.

The soldier said he was 18 years old last March 26 and that Miss Galla, her sister, and John W. Wright applied for the license at Oakland and that Wright obtained the ring and made all arrangements for the ceremony.

Wright also obtained a room for the couple at a hotel in Ohio Pyle, Pa., after the wedding, it was said.

Five days after the wedding, Bainbridge was inducted and sent to Camp Wheeler, Ga., and several love letters he sent to his wife were introduced as evidence. He also sent for her and she spent two weeks with him at camp. Later he was sent to Camp Dix, N. J., and his parents discovered that he had married Miss Galla, who was a next door neighbor. The parents went to New Jersey and the youth then told his wife that he "was through," she said.

Bainbridge admitted that no force was used to make him marry her and that he went along when the license was obtained. Wright also said Bainbridge asked him to get the license for him and had asked Miss Galla to marry him.

The court stated that "everyone likes to come to the aid of Dan Cupid" and that Wright seemed to be "a very obliging friend, with no ulterior motive" in arranging the ceremony.

John E. Chaney Enlists in Marines

John Edward Chaney, Central YMCA, son of Alton Chaney, North Branch, has been accepted for enlistment in the marine corps, according to S-Sgt. Murrel Brainerd, local recruiter.

The young man was previously employed by the National Fruit market here, and has been assigned to Parris Island, S. C., for training.

S-Sgt. Brainerd said yesterday that the marine corps is still offering excellent opportunities in aviation, and is especially interested in men seeking a career in radio, radar, mechanics, electricity and flying. Men about to be inducted by Selective Service can enlist in the corps for two, three or four years, Sgt. Brainerd said.

Firemen Are Called When Beans Burn

Central Fire Company No. 1 was called to the home of Irving Laurent, 21 Williams street, yesterday afternoon at 4:16 o'clock when, firemen said, a pan of beans on the stove burned. Firemen said the home was filled with smoke but that there was no damage.

East Side Fire Company No. 4 was called to the rear of 517 Eastern avenue last evening at 6:22 o'clock by a false alarm.

East Side Fire Company extinguished a grass fire at Louisa lane yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Firemen said the blaze was out within a half hour and that no damage was caused.

Zoning Board Meeting Postponed to Tuesday

A meeting of the board of zoning appeals, set for yesterday evening, was postponed until next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. because of the absence of two of the three board members.

J. E. Wetzel, chairman, called a special meeting for next Tuesday, since Joseph R. Mantheiy and Raymond G. Messmer, the other members, were out of town and could not be present at yesterday's meeting.

Two appeals for occupancy permits will be heard at the session Tuesday.

Barton Man Fires Gun at Prowlers

John "Tupp" Davis, Barton, fired on two youthful prowlers Tuesday night when he came home and saw them attempting to raise a kitchen window. Davis said the home had been ransacked in previous months and that he put a loaded shotgun in an outbuilding in anticipation of another attempt.

Davis's sister, Mrs. Nannie Brown, and her daughter were upstairs but said they did not hear the prowlers. Davis and his brother, Edison, operate the Bowl Mor center in Barton.

Darius Dale Jose Enlists in Navy

Darius Dale Jose, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darius D. Jose, Luke, has been accepted for a two-year enlistment in the navy as an apprentice seaman, according to Chief Boatswain's Mate Bradford Smith, local recruiter.

Chief Smith said yesterday that the Baltimore area, of which the Cumberland recruiting station is a part, rated third in number and quality of recruits obtained in the country during the past week.

Writ Is Granted

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper yesterday granted Edward R. Shaffer's request for a writ of habeas corpus to regain the custody of his two children, Barbara A. and Theresa L., who he claimed were being unlawfully detained in the custody of their mother, Mrs. Rosalee Shaffer, at 515 Hill Top Drive. According to the court order signed by the judges, the children are to be returned to the father as of yesterday.

Dr. Petiot Reverses Previous Positions

PARIS, March 20 (AP)—Dr. Marcel Petiot admitted at his mass murder trial today that he helped "execute" one of the twenty-seven persons whom the state charges he robbed and murdered.

He previously had maintained that he had not killed any of the twenty-seven named by the state, but had taken part in a "certain number" of the sixty-three "executions" which he said a so-called resistance group had carried out against gestapo informers.

The prosecutor also reversed his previous position and acknowledged that three of the victims, which the state alleges Petiot killed, were gestapo agents.

Tawes Continues His Campaign at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, March 20 (AP) — State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes continued his campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination at a Twentieth ward rally in Baltimore tonight, while his backers hailed support pledged him by two Eastern Shore organizations.

Four of the six members of the Democratic State Central Committee of Cecil county, and an upper Eastern Shore group headed by S. Scott Beck announced they would support the Tawes candidacy.

185 Die in Brazil's Worst Rail Disaster

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 20—(AP)—One hundred eighty-five persons were killed and several hundred injured in Brazil's worst railway disaster last night.

Grief-stricken relatives rushed to the scene, near Aracaju, capital of the Brazilian coastal state of Sergipe, where a suburban train said to be carrying 1,000 passengers derailed and piled up while descending a mountain incline.

Housing Problem

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 20—(AP)—Ralph Tagg, of the housing registration bureau, Maryland Veterans' Commission, announced 135 veterans and their families were listed with the bureau as needing housing. The families now are living with relatives or friends, he said. Other veterans are in need of small apartments or rooms, Tagg reported.

New Fire Apparatus

EMMITSBURG, Md., March 20—(AP)—New fire-fighting equipment costing approximately $6,000 will be put in service by the Vigilant Hose Company. The apparatus was driven from Battle Creek, Mich., to Emmitsburg by Fire Chief Herbert W. Rodgers and Assistant Chief John J. Hollinger.

While the three Iranian garrisons held out against the Kurds, other tribesmen were reported by the general staff officer to be fighting with "Democrats" of Soviet-occupied Azerbaijan province.

The besieged garrisons were Sardasht and Baneh, in Northern Kurdistan province, and Saqqiz, on the Aberabaijan-Kurdistan border—an arta adjacent to the semi-autonomous shiekdom of Ghazi Mohammed, leader of a separatist Kurdish movement at Saujbulagh.

Saqqiz is only a few miles south of Bukan, where a Russian combat column was reported last week to have arrived from Tabriz.

The officer expressed confidence that the garrisons still were holding out, but added that heavy snows prevented the movement of reinforcements.

He said "army forces of approximately 3,000 were divided among four garrisons, while the tribesmen may concentrate their entire force against one post at a time."

Seven Iranian planes are operating from airfields at Hamadan and Kermanshah, he said, in support of the army. The planes, carrying light bombs and machineguns, are trying to prevent the tribesmen from cutting the single mountain road southward to army headquarters at Sinneh.

capable of further contribution to war effort.

Referring to the death march on Bataan, MacArthur said:

"There are few parallels in infamy and tragedy with the brutilization of troops who, in good faith, have laid down their arms. It is a peculiar aversion that the victims were a garrison whose heroism and valor have never been surpassed. Of all fighting men of all times, none deserved more the honors of war in their hour of final agony.

"The callousness of denial has never been exceeded. This violation of a fundamental code of chivalry which has ruled all honorable military men throughout the ages, in treatment of defeated opponents, will forever shame the memory of the victorious troops."

Food Crisis

Lehman, is seeking here a pledge from the forty-seven member nations to a rigid food conservation program.

Clayton agreed with an emphatic request that all nations with adequate food—"and all those which could become supplying nations, through emergency measures" — make food available.

Guest speaker will be Miss Erica Donovan, director of Theatre Gate, local dramatic group, who will explain the purposes and aims of Theatre Gate here, and plans to develop a dramatic and public speaking school.

Local News in Brief

David Null, 4, 120 Seymour street, was reported "a little better" last evening in Memorial hospital where he was admitted Tuesday evening suffering from a possible fractured skull, fractured right leg and lacerations of the left leg after, police reported, he was struck by a car near his home.

Pepper Declares

had balked at some of the conditions, including one which called for a review of Russian economic tie-ups with Eastern European countries.

Truman-Stalin Meeting Asked

At the other side of the capitol, Rep. Merrow (R-NH) introduced a resolution calling for an immediate meeting between President Truman and Generalissimo Stalin to clarify Russian objectives and American policy. Merrow specified that the results be made public.

Pepper, his left hand in the pocket of his blue suit and his right hand gesturing vigorously, warned grimly at the outset of his speech that "we are hurtling toward war again."

"It is a delusion and a snare," he continued, "to regard the present United Nations Organization as the tribunal for the solution of these clashes and conflicts among the Big Three growing out of their fear for their own security."

Calling instead for a meeting of the chiefs of state of the Big Three and "a full-scale conference," Pepper declared that the delegations must be "truly representative of the will to peace of these three countries."

"Among our representatives, for example," he went on, "there should be Eisenhower, and from Russia there must be Zhukov, and from the British, Alexander and others like these men who have worked together. x x x

"And there must be businessmen, labor leaders, leaders of agriculture, women, veterans of this war and the youths who would be the cannon-fodder of another war.

Says Vandenberg "Failed"

"This conference would have the commission of staying in session until its task was won. Its scope and agenda must be the restoration of confidence among the Big Three by working out agreement on the fundamental issues—military, economic, political or cultural—which today are holding up agreement on the specific issues that come before the Security council. The task of the conference is in effect to clear the way for the Security council and the General Assembly."

Turning to Vandenberg, who called for plain speaking to Russia in the Senate last month upon his return from the United Nations sessions in London, Pepper asserted that "the senator from Michigan failed his country as a sentinel when the menace of Hitlerism rose."

"He must himself shudder," Pepper went on, "at what would have been the effect of the success of his policies in those dangerous days as he stood against the repeal of the Neutrality act, the passage of lend-lease and Selective Service.

"As he admonishes Russia today, he may be sure that however fair he intends to be in his counsel, Russia will ever remember that he joined those who voted to make it illegal to extend lend-lease to her three months before Hitler struck here in 1941."

Pepper added that he had not "heard any statement from the able senator" on the British loan or on "the 'fraternal association' in arms proposed by Mr. Winston Churchill which strikes, as many of us see it, at the very heart of the unity of the Big Three."

Through the attack Vandenberg sat quietly, and sauntered from the chamber upon its conclusion without replying.

Soviet Requests

the Security council for the seventeen days.

However, Assistant Secretary General Ben Cohen, UNO public relations chief, said that Lie had not asked for a vote and that he is certain the meeting actually will be held on March 25.

At that time Gromyko may seek to force a vote on an immediate adjournment until April 10.

There seemed to be no doubt that the United States, which has been working for the quickest possible consideration of the Iranian case, would oppose such a motion.

No Delay Is Expected

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—The Iranian question remained in the spotlight tonight as United Nations personnel rushed preparations for Monday's opening session of the powerful Security council.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, permanent British representative on the council, predicted the question would be considered by the council as a "dispute," automatically cancelling Russia's vote.

Sir Alexander said he had no comment on Russia's request for a postponement of the meeting—made public in Washington late today — and declared:

"We expect to meet on Monday as planned."

Others, discussing the request informally, said it would be submitted to the Security council and would require a majority vote in favor in order to be granted. Names of those participating in the discussion were not given.

Trygve Lie, secretary general, is due from Washington tomorrow. He conferred with President Truman and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes today. A UNO spokesman said Lie would hold a news conference Friday and probably would discuss the council's agenda.

Labor Bill Bans

boycotts and making unions liable for damages for breach of contract.

Ball proposed to add the ban on secondary boycotts at today's session but was voted down 11 to 3. Taft and Smith voted with him.

The term is applied to a union's refusal to handle the product of some firm with which it has no direct dispute—refusal by electricians, for instance, to install fixtures made by a certain firm.

Taft proposed an amendment to forbid any form of violence in labor disputes, including use of strike breakers, use of firearms, and employment of industrial espionage. Courts would be authorized to issue injunctions to enforce the ban. This lost 11 to 2 with Ball supporting Taft.

Taft and Ball said they would renew a fight for their amendments when the measure comes up in the Senate.

State Head Visits Purple Heart Unit

Mrs. Beatrice Donovan, Baltimore state president of Military Order of the Purple Heart auxiliaries, paid an official visit yesterday evening to Mountain Chapter Unit No. 166 at the home on Greene street.

Mrs. Donovan discussed membership activities, and asked the unit to choose delegates for the state convention, to be held in Hagerstown June 16, 17 and 18.

Plans were made to hold a dinner April 3 at 7 o'clock at the home in honor of past unit presidents and chapter commanders. Members of the chapter and the auxiliary will be invited guests.

It was announced that a state executive committee meeting will be held in Hagerstown April 7.

Plans were also completed for a roast beef supper, to be held at the home March 28 from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Berdella Leib, treasurer, reported that the tag sale February 23 netted $56.79.

Mrs. Mary Brinkman, president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Donovan was presented with a gift.

Other officers attending the meeting were Miss Edith Shiveley, state chaplain; Miss Dorothea Frederick, state secretary and state executive committeewoman; Clive Brant, Baltimore, past commander here; and George Leib, state commander and past local commander.

Refreshments were served.

Building Permit Secured For Garage, Apartment

A building permit was granted yesterday in the city engineer's office to K. S. Hopwood, Grace B. Hiser and Aneva N. Hiser to erect a three-car garage with an apartment on the second floor at the rear of 456 North Centre street, at an estimated cost of $3,500.

Q. L. Griffey will do construction work. The building, measuring 24 by 30 feet, will be a concrete block structure with a built up roof.

Paper "Reshapes" Aim

FORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., March 20 (AP)—The Fort Meade Post, camp newspaper, is marking its fourth year of publication. The paper announced it was reshaping its mission for the task "of keeping informed the new peacetime regular army." One of the first editors was Capt. Adolph C. Rosner, former Associated Press photographer who lost an arm in combat in Italy.

Self Government

Chungking's "right to move nationalist troops to any point in Manchuria it wished."

Chen presented the Communist side of the controversy as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek sought to close the widening rift with a strong bid for domestic peace before the opening of the All-Party Peoples Political Council.

The Communists refused to send delegates to the council because they feared it would be dominated by Kuomintang (government party) elements bent on undermining the recent unity pact.

Chiang declared China should promote friendly relations with other powers and work for internal peace exclusively by political means, an apparent reference to the Chinese clashes in Manchuria.

Liu Chieh, vice-minister of foreign affairs, told a news conference China still had not been informed when Russian troops would complete their withdrawal from Manchuria.

He also said the Russians had not advised China of any withdrawal between Mukden and Changchun, Manchuria's capital, the area in which the latest government-Communist fighting has been reported.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Tientsin quoted reports to North China newspapers to the effect that Chinese Communists had blown up a railway bridge over the Chin river north of Mukden, further disrupting transportation over Manchuria's main north-south railway.)

meetings of the defunct Vardaman company, details of these were not read into the record. They were examined by the subcommittee and Com. Vardaman, who was accompanied by three naval officers apparently serving as counsel.

Sen. McFarland, (D-Ariz) tried to pin Bittner down about details of the stock sale by Vardaman. He asked if Bittner or Vardaman started the sale, who was present and what was said.

"I don't know," Bittner said squirming about in his chair.

Finally the shoe manufacturer asked:

"Am I on trial? You subpoenaed me here and now you are trying to cross-examine me."

"Certainly I'm trying to cross-examine you," McFarland said. "It's our duty to question you in detail."

Finally Millikin said Bittner had made a "serious charge" that "Com. Vardaman made a false statement to you to buy stock by handing you a false financial statement."

"He did not enlighten me as to the true facts of the company," Bittner replied, adding that Vardaman had told him the company was making money and should move ahead with Bittner as its president.

McFarland and Radcliffe promptly accused Buttner of giving conflicting testimony, pointing out that he previously had replied he could not recall such details.

A card party will be held Friday evening at the Piedmont library for the benefit of the Piedmont Woman's Club. Mrs. W. R. Gingerich, is chairman of arrangements.

Miss Rosemary Dimasi, who attended the wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Dimasi, Piedmont, has returned to Baltimore.

Pvt. William A. Roye, Aberdeen, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roye, Sr., over the weekend. He was accompanied by Pvt. Frank Rohmeyer, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

To the Voters of Cumberland:

I am deeply grateful for the vote given me in my race for City Council. Although I was not elected, I will continue to work for the best interests of the City of Cumberland and pledge my support to the new administration.

Speedy Flood Control The Real Winner

WHILE Mayor Thomas S. Post won only a Pyrrhic victory in gaining re-election in the biennial city election by failing to put through his slate of councilmanic supporters, thus vindicating the stand of this newspaper for speedy all-out flood control, he deserves congratulations for being re-elected, along with Messrs. Edwards, Fuller, Keegan and Light, who were chosen councilmen, and undoubtedly the good wishes of the people of Cumberland will go with him in his new administration. With that there is the belief that better and more harmonious relations will obtain therein than was the case in his first two years of mayoralty experience.

It was the belief of this newspaper that flood control represented a vital issue for the postwar progress and welfare of the community. It was its original intention not to support any slate or set of candidates but to rest the decision on this paramount issue, putting it up squarely to the people so that the candidates, whoever they might be, who favored the unrestricted furtherance of the project would gain the public favor.

To that end, the columns of this newspaper were freely opened to all the nominees for an expression of their views on the subject, and the response gave the people a full understanding of the issue in all its angles as well as opportunity for all to reaffirm, or reverse, a decision that had previously been rendered on various occasions. In doing this, "The News" believes it rendered a distinct public service.

It happened, however, that Mayor Post unfortunately "spilled the beans" by interposing what this newspaper considered an unnecessary obstacle and an unnecessary added expense by holding out for a referendum on an additional needed issue of bonds. It accordingly felt obliged to dissent from that, and it turned out that his slate failed of approval at the hands of the voters and the position of this newspaper was substantiated.

Those who have been chosen for the council seats are men this newspaper believes can be depended upon to further the flood control project in accordance with the community desires expressed through the election. It is confident that they have sound public-spirited convictions in behalf of anything tending to promote the progress and prosperity of the community, and that they will undoubtedly cooperate therein, in spite of the contention by Mayor Post that only his own slate could bring about needed co-operation in the conduct of city affairs. "The News" believes Mayor Post can find hearty co-operation from the new council, wherein it commends him as well as its members to that end. The election was a pretty good race all in all, with a neck-to-neck pace obtaining in the early reported returns, which added zest to the contest. But now that it is all over, and no hard feelings exist anywhere in consequence, with the decision registered unmistakably in favor of speedy flood control, it is up to the new administration to seek it and to the people to give their hearty co-operation.

Coast-to-Coast Train Service Comes at Last

THE POWER OF PUBLICITY when properly directed has again been emphasized by the announcement that the first daily, coast-to-coast sleeping car service—without change of trains—will be started Sunday, March 31, with at least six railroads participating.

This successfully brings tangible result to a campaign instituted some time since by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and its affiliates in carrying large advertisements in newspapers and magazines advocating such a service and offering to be included in its operation. It is perhaps ironical that the C. and O. is not in the new alignment, which comprises the New York Central, the Santa Fe, the Chicago and North Western, the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific lines. There is reason to believe, however, that it will be included in view of the fact that it was instrumental in starting the ball rolling.

Strangely enough for many years, transcontinental train passengers have had to incur delay and expense in shifting trains at Chicago, St. Louis or New Orleans, although, as pugently noted in the C. and O. advertisements, hogs could ride through without stopping while humans had to suffer the inconvenience of it. There may have been some operational difficulties, but greed of the way-station communities had much to do with it.

The innovation is another step in transportation progress and in the operation of the competitive system, in which air transport is playing an important part, with the traveling public the beneficiary.

The Inept Footstepping Of Secretary Wallace

SECRETARY WALLACE seems to be a glutton for putting his foot into it. His pronouncement that senators and representatives who do not vote with their party on fundamental issues should be expelled from their parties is another conspicuous instance.

As was naturally to be expected, howls of protest have gone up from both sides of the political fence along with some rather curt observations about purging operations, which were essayed by President Roosevelt with somewhat disastrous results to him and his New Deal organization.

It would be detrimental to the republican theory of government and the two-party system itself were every party member put into a straightjacket and made to conform to the wishes and whims of its leaders, to say nothing of the fundamental constitutional guarantees of freedom of conscience and speech. Even leading Democrats emphasize that as, for example, Senator Chavez (NM), who reminded that it was the "philosophy of Hitler and Himmler that they did not want members to think for themselves, but to follow the party movement."

It is wise and politic for party members to disregard strictly personal considerations and to join with their party leaders in support of fundamentals, but not to the extent of violating deep-seated convictions as to whether that leadership may be right or wrong. As this newspaper has hitherto expressed itself you cannot separate the differing thoughts and beliefs of political party members as you would segregate sheep and goats, or trays of beans, or screenings of coal, and it is a wholesome thing to see within a political party various shades and differences of thought in order that the best may come out as based upon truth and justice and true party ideals.

In view of the reactions to Wallace's pronouncement, one may wonder what is really behind it, if not fascist thinking. Can it be that the New Dealers are fearful of the trend of current public sentiment and that again something drastic must be done to whip dissenting members of their own outfit into the collectivist line? But they will have a hard time of that in many cases as, for instance, in that of men of the type of Senator Byrd.

A Needed Measure To Curb Abuses

IF the mills of the federal legislative processes are not as efficient as they might be, there are occasions when their slow grinding results in a remarkably good product. The McCarran-Sumners bill, which is now well on the way toward enactment, is a case in point.

This measure has not been given much public attention recently. Indeed, when the Senate passed it last week, the Washington dispatches reporting its action were brief and the accounts occupied only a few inches of space in the newspapers. But that is because the heat that once surrounded the subject matter of the legislative has been dissipated to such a degree that the Senate gave the bill unanimous approval.

There was a time when the issue involved aroused bitter controversy. Back in 1940 Congress passed a similar bill—it was called the Logan-Walter bill—to impose curbs on federal administrative agencies charged with making and enforcing regulations to effectuate purposes embodied in various laws. The purpose was to eliminate abuses that had grown up because these agencies were entrusted with powers that were quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial as well as executive.

The late President Roosevelt vetoed the bill on the ground that it went too far and would destroy governmental efficiency. He suggested that Congress wait until a commission he had established could study the matter and report. Congress did wait. Then it took a long time to revise the Logan-Walter bill. But it is now apparently ready to pass a milder measure that promises some protection to the public.

There seems to be no reason to doubt that the House will also act favorably and that President Truman will sign the bill into law.

The secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, disagrees with UNRRA Director Herbert Lehman's plea that wartime food controls be re-established in the United States to meet world food needs, and millions of citizens, recalling their experiences with that, hope he is right in the contention that the voluntary basis would prove more practicable. But, it will be up to them.

The soybean may take the place of the egg for cooking purposes, according to a news story, but the chances are that it will be quite a while before restaurant customers will be asking for an order of "ham and soybeans."

Pickets paraded in front of a swank apartment house on Park avenue in New York City wearing derbies, tail coats, dress shirts and black ties. That may be a trifle off formality, yet it is considerably better than the club and rock outfitting.

Perhaps before the food crisis is over many Americans will be eating to live instead of living to eat.

SOURCES OF GROWTH

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

It is from the better qualities of others that we draw so much. We combine goodness with goodness, quality with quality, joy with joy, sorrow with sorrow—thus becoming more and more akin with those whom we look upon as our friends.

I have never forgotten the remark of a famous tennis player who told me that she always tried to pick an opponent who was a better player than she was. This spurred her on to play better. That is what makes hero worshipers of us all—and helps us to gain something of the heroic in our lives.

The mind is both plastic and absorbent. It takes in ideas, mating them with others, and sets many of them aside to combine with others. It has no boundaries. It can overflow, but there is always room for freshness and abundance.

We scent the divine qualities in others, and often, without a word being spoken, adapt and adopt them to ourselves. Often a mere handshake is sufficient. Or a look. You cannot see the rays of the sun, but you can feel them. And a glance at the heavens at night reminds us of our littleness—at the same time inspiring us with the growth and eternity of things.

A seed is planted, and soon it pokes its growth into the air, where it is welcomed by the sunshine, the air, and the rain. Its sources of growth are hidden and full of mystery, but they are there. Likewise we grow from endless sources, seen and unseen. Many of them are absorbed unconsciously. Our eyes, our ears, and our thoughts are agents of growth.

We gain strength of character by dealing with the positives of life. The negatives reduce us and shrink our personality. We walk away from complainers and from those who depress us. There is no source of growth to be gained from them.

A single act of kindness adds to our spiritual growth. Even to look upon such an act, performed by another, enriches us. Much of our mental and spiritual growth is gained from exemplary acts.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Molotoff, Vyshinsky Are Russia's Chief Policy Framers, Drew Pearson Reports

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 20.—It's always hard to find out exactly what is going on inside the Kremlin, but according to latest diplomatic reports, the chief policy framers are now Foreign Commissar Molotoff and Vice-Commissar Vyshinsky.

They, even more than Stalin, according to diplomatic dispatches, are really running top Soviet policy today.

That policy is: Russia must acquire certain strategic areas, such as Iran and the Dardanelles, quickly and without delay. The time factor is important for two reasons:

1. The war weariness of the rest of the world and the general demobilization of the democracies make it impossible for them to resist Russian demands now. So if Russia acts quickly, she can get what she wants without risk of war.

2. If there should be trouble, however, the Russian people will go along with the Soviet government as long as Stalin is alive and at its head. That is another reason for speed, since Stalin's health is failing. He has become a great symbol, and the Russian people will follow him anywhere. However, being just as war weary as the democracies and having no real quarrel with them, the Russian people would be loath to follow any other leader into a war.

These factors, according to diplomatic dispatches just received from Moscow, are why the Russians rushed troops into Iran, have concentrated on the Turkish border and have a tremendous army in Hungary ready to reinforce Tito's Yugoslav army in case there is a march on Trieste.

Stalin is old, and although still the most important personage in Russia, is not nearly as active as formerly. Roosevelt, incidentally, always found Stalin easier to deal with than those around him. So did Hull and Jimmy Byrnes.

Note — Ex-Ambassador Averell Harriman, just returned from Moscow, reported that Stalin now looks very much as Roosevelt did at Yalta, emaciated and not a well man.

Leon Blum's Gloves

When so distinguished a visitor as Leon Blum, former premier of France, arrived at the National airport in Washington, most people would have expected the State department to remove red tape.

Not so, however. The venerable Blum had to go through the usual inspections. In fact, so strict was the red tape, that when French Ambassador Bonnet held out his hand to greet the distinguished visitor, a colonel in the public health service intervened.

"Sorry, Mr. Ambassador," he said, "you can't touch him. He hasn't been through health inspection yet."

But another colonel of public health, noticing M. Blum's hands said: "I guess it will be all right to shake hands. He has gloves on."

Churchill-Stalin Feud

One reason behind Stalin's personal blast against Winston Churchill following his Fulton, Mo., speech was an old personal antipathy between the two men which finally exploded privately at Tehran.

Stalin, of course, never forgot that Churchill had sent Allied troops into Archangel and Siberia at the end of the last war in order to upset the Bolshevik regime. And all during the recent war he was irked over the fact that Churchill hung back against starting the second front across the English channel.

It was not until the Tehran conference that this question of the second front was finally settled. After considerable argument between Churchill and Stalin, Roosevelt threw his weight on the side of Stalin and it was decided to launch the second front through France, not the Balkans, as proposed by Churchill.

So when the two men parted, Churchill held out his hand to Stalin and said:

"Well good-bye Marshal. I'll see you in Berlin."

"Yes," replied Stalin, "I in a tank and you in a Pullman car."

Capital Chaff

A rider has been attached to the Philippine war compensation bill, exactly fifteen words long. Those fifteen words, however, will bring about $150,000,000 to Spanish, British and other foreign residents in the Philippines. They will be able to collect war damages from the USA, which will mean that Filipinos will get less . . . Secretary of War Patterson gave a great and well-deserved boost to Lt. Gen. Robert Richardson when he retired the other day as mid-Pacific commander. This column, four years ago, referred to Richardson as an officer well qualified to be chief of staff. That opinion still stands. A man of Richardson's ability should not be lost to the dwindling ranks of patriotic public servants . . . In the portrait of Winston Churchill painted by Douglas Chandor, the ex-prime minister is wearing the same ring as he wore when, as a youth, he participated in the cavalry charge at Omdurman in the Egyptian Sudan campaign. Churchill became an imperialist then and has remained one ever since . . . Gov. Ellis Arnall, of Georgia, is writing a book on politics and economics. He has taken the title from the Star-Spangled Banner—"The Shore Dimly Seen" . . . Fort McClellan, Alabama, is now requiring all GI packages mailed from the post to be inspected. Officers' packages are not inspected. Reason is the theft of government property allegedly mailed out from the post.

High Poultry Prices

The OPA's removal of ceiling prices on poultry is a trial to see whether it will help increase poultry consumption; also how prices will react. Poultry in storage now totals over 350,000,000 pounds—double the normal supply for this time of the year.

Actually, tie-in sales by which the big meat-packers force their meat and butter customers to purchase poultry, are forcing independent poultry processors to the wall. Because of tie-in sales, independents can't compete. The big packers, by forcing their meat customers to buy poultry from them, are able to control poultry prices regardless of OPA.

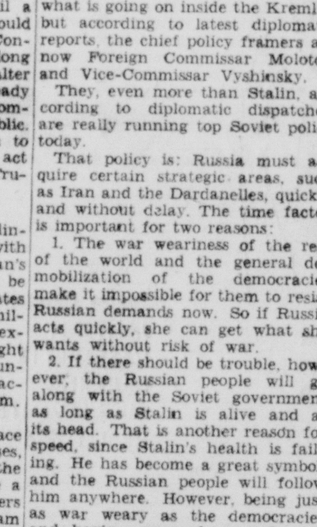

Therefore even before the OPA's new price ceilings, the big packers figure that OPA would probably be forced to put the ceilings back on, and prepared to charge OPA with dirty dealing.

Merry-Go-Round

A strong move is under way to place Boston's Lt. Nathan David, former FCC assistant general counsel, on the Federal Communications Commission as a full-fledged commissioner. The FCC is one agency which has given no recognition to veterans . . . John L. Lewis and David Dubinsky are both pouring money hand over fist into the fight for control of the CIO-United Auto Workers' Union. Lewis and Dubinsky hope to smash CIO control of the auto workers and bring them into the A. F. of L. . . . House sponsors of the full employment bill have proposed twelve excellent names to President Truman, urging that he pick three members of the new Economic Advisory Council created by the bill. The twelve names are: Robert Nathan; Frank Graham of the University of North Carolina; Leon Henderson; O. Max Gardner; Ambassador John Winant; Homer Rainey, ousted from the University of Texas; Georgia's Ellis Arnall; William H. Davis; Maj. Paul Douglas, of Chicago university; Russell Smith; Harold Smith, of the Budget Bureau, and Randolph Paul, formerly of the Treasury department . . . An excellent group of congressmen also has been named for the joint congressional committee created by the bill, including Democrats Outland, of California; Patman, of Texas; Huber, of Ohio, and Ed Hart, of New Jersey. The Republicans include George Bender, of Ohio, Robert Rich, of Pennsylvania, and Walter Judd, of Minnesota. The Senate group has not yet been selected.

Boomerang Is Seen In Unilateral Action On Argentina

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 20 — Though warned on all sides by those familiar with Latin American affairs that the United States must not take unilateral action in this hemisphere, the department of State is revealed as having made a major blunder by acting alone in respect to the Argentine situation.

Associated Press dispatches from Argentina now tell of the disappointment felt by observers there, including many of the anti-fascist groups, that the United States has been placed in the position of having been defeated at the Argentine polls through the election of Peron.

There can be no doubt that Peron is a fascist and that he should not receive the recognition of other governments, even though his election has been brought about theoretically by democratic processes. The fact that for months preceding the election Peron conducted a reign of tyranny and deprived the people of their liberties would seem to indicate that it was a simple matter for him to engineer the election result on the basis of terror and reprisals.

Peron Unwittingly Helped

The department of State unwittingly helped Peron to be elected. Most patriotic nationals resent interference in internal affairs from outside their country. The department of State actually carried on for a while, through our ambassador there, a public campaign against the Peron groups and then brought the ambassador to Washington and made him assistant secretary of state. Then came the "Blue Book" which, while justified as to contents, placed the United States alone as back of the denunciation of Peron.

It was most unfortunate that so-called liberals and "left wingers" in this country needled the department of State after the San Francisco conference and made it appear that a mistake had been made in dealing with the Farrell regime. Actually the policy of admitting Argentina to the United Nations was decided upon by the late President Roosevelt before the conference at Mexico City or San Francisco. Documents on this point have never been made public, though almost everybody who is familiar with Latin American affairs in Washington has seen the memorandum outlining such a policy which was initialed by "FDR."

Ill-Advised Repudiation

The "left-wing" raised a fuss about what the American delegation did at San Francisco and misled Secretary Byrnes into an ill-advised repudiation of the policies of those who had been endeavoring to accomplish the same objective—the downfall of the Peron group—but through the united action of the Pan-American republics.

Now the United States government is in deeper water than ever before. There is a way out, but it will be a difficult one to pursue. The United States considers Peron a tool of Nazi power in this hemisphere. Do the other Latin American governments who were co-belligerents with us in the war feel the same way? If so, a statement should be made by all that no government, whether assuming power through elections or otherwise, will be recognized if it harbors Nazi and fascist groups and permits a threat to democracy.

No Basis for Recognition

The fact that Peron won an election cannot be viewed as a basis for recognition. It is not who acquires power by constitutional methods but what the record shows as to how he uses the power. Hitler observed all the forms of the German constitution when he acquired the post of chancellor in Germany in 1933. Fascism can use constitutional processes, too, but that doesn't make fascism any more eligible for the support of democratic nations.

The Argentine people in due time will find their own means of dealing with Peron, but it is more than ever important that the United States and Great Britain and Russia take a stand together against the Peron regime and that as many governments in this hemisphere as possible join the declaration of policy.

Hope of America Is Seen Depending On United Nations

By MARK SULLIVAN

Formally, by Secretary of State Byrnes's speech last Saturday night and otherwise, America puts its dependence on the United Nations Organization. Because we do that, we announce that we will decline to have any special relation to or alliance with Britain, lest that be detrimental to the United Nations as a whole.

That we should cherish the United Nations, that we should hope it will be securely founded and will grow and be successful, and that we should strive to that end, is a belief on the part of the American people as nearly unanimous as any creed or principle they have ever been called to pass upon. It rests upon the conviction that another world war is made unthinkable by the atomic bomb, and that the best safeguard against future war is the collective security to which the United Nations is dedicated.

Two Conditions

How the United Nations will develop, what it becomes and the authority and power it will have, depends mainly on two conditions. One is the whole-heartedness with which nations support it, accept and live up to the obligations that go with it, including the self-denials. The other is the relative force of nations within it. Not necessarily military force, though this cannot be excluded, but force of ideas, earnestness of argument in behalf of ideas, with the aim of ultimate triumph of those ideas which most appeal to the common man throughout the world.

Within the United Nations will be powers of different strength. The strongest is either Russia or the United States. While Russia is the larger in population, we are stronger in productiveness and many other respects, probably we are stronger militarily if we choose to be so.

These two nations differ. Their difference goes to the root of the two conditions which will determine the success of the United Nations, and what it is to become—wholeheartedness by nations in support of it, and ideas that will contend within it.

Russia Inconsistent

Russia subscribes to the United Nations, but follows a course inconsistent with it. The actions of Russia which go counter to the principles of the United Nations compose the present turmoil of the world. These actions by Russia we oppose. We oppose them solely in the interest of the United Nations, and not in any self-interest of our own. If the United Nations did not exist, while we might disapprove Russia's actions, we would not set ourselves in formal opposition to them.

As respects ideas also, the United States and Russia differ. They are at opposite poles. The Russian government holds and practices a set of ideas, grouped as Communism. The United States holds a set of ideas which are a denial of communism.

Views Are Different

On this point there is a difference of view, bearing on the future of the United Nations. One view is that there can be, within the United Nations, countries holding and practicing different ideas about government and the organization of society. To this view the United States would subscribe.

The other view is that as the United Nations grows, the inevitable tendency will be toward a single form of government and society. Russia seems to hold this view, certainly she acts in accordance with it. Before the United Nations was thought of, and since, Russia has sought to extend communism throughout the world.

Russia's course was put by Mr. Winston Churchill in words with which well informed persons agree: "In a great number of countries . . . throughout the world, communist fifth columns are established and work in complete unity and absolute obedience to directions they receive from the communist center. Except in the British commonwealth and in the United States, where communism is in its infancy, the communist parties or fifth column constitute a growing challenge . . ."

Fraternal Union

In the battle of ideas within the United Nations—over whether each nation shall be free to practice its own form of government and society, and leave others free to do the same; and especially in the controversy between communism and the negation of it, in the issues besides—the United States and Britain will stand together.

That unity, call it by any name you please, will be in fact what Mr. Churchill calls a "fraternal association." It will not arise out of any formal alliance, nor be dependent upon it. It is not within the permitting or forbidding of statesmen. It will arise from the facts of history.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

I met Eric Johnston, the new boss of the movie producers, the other night. You know what his job is. . . . when a glamorous star is wearing a sweater in a scene, he's the guy who goes around and tells her how deeply she can breathe.

He looks a little like a movie star himself. If ever things get too tough with his office, he could step into pictures and make some extra coin romancing Greer Garson or Hedy Lamarr for pay. Isn't this a screwy business?

It's reported that the producers have him on a salary of $100,000 a year. That's a lot of money to pay a guy to have him come around and say "no" to you. They tried to get him for $75,000, but he said for that price he could only hold up one finger and say, "huh-uh." But at that he has one distinction in Hollywood. He's the only professional "no" man in a town of professional "yes" men.

But saying "no" isn't his only job. For example, on the day when I do the big kissing scene with Dottie Lamour, he's the guy who stands by to pry her loose and convince me that, after all, she's entitled to go out for dinner.

Speedy Flood Control The Real Winner

WHILE Mayor Thomas S. Post won only a Pyrrhic victory in gaining re-election in the biennial city election by failing to put through his slate of councilmanic supporters, thus vindicating the stand of this newspaper for speedy all-out flood control, he deserves congratulations for being re-elected, along with Messrs. Edwards, Fuller, Keegan and Light, who were chosen councilmen, and undoubtedly the good wishes of the people of Cumberland will go with him in his new administration. With that there is the belief that better and more harmonious relations will obtain therein than was the case in his first two years of mayoralty experience.

It was the belief of this newspaper that flood control represented a vital issue for the postwar progress and welfare of the community. It was its original intention not to support any slate or set of candidates but to rest the decision on this paramount issue, putting it up squarely to the people so that the candidates, whoever they might be, who favored the unrestricted furtherance of the project would gain the public favor.

To that end, the columns of this newspaper were freely opened to all the nominees for an expression of their views on the subject, and the response gave the people a full understanding of the issue in all its angles as well as opportunity for all to reaffirm, or reverse, a decision that had previously been rendered on various occasions. In doing this, "The News" believes it rendered a distinct public service.

It happened, however, that Mayor Post unfortunately "spilled the beans" by interposing what this newspaper considered an unnecessary obstacle and an unnecessary added expense by holding out for a referendum on an additional needed issue of bonds. It accordingly felt obliged to dissent from that, and it turned out that his slate failed of approval at the hands of the voters and the position of this newspaper was substantiated.

Those who have been chosen for the council seats are men this newspaper believes can be depended upon to further the flood control project in accordance with the community desires expressed through the election. It is confident that they have sound public-spirited convictions in behalf of anything tending to promote the progress and prosperity of the community, and that they will undoubtedly cooperate therein, in spite of the contention by Mayor Post that only his own slate could bring about needed co-operation in the conduct of city affairs. "The News" believes Mayor Post can find hearty co-operation from the new council, wherein it commends him as well as its members to that end. The election was a pretty good race all in all, with a neck-to-neck pace obtaining in the early reported returns, which added zest to the contest. But now that it is all over, and no hard feelings exist anywhere in consequence, with the decision registered unmistakably in favor of speedy flood control, it is up to the new administration to seek it and to the people to give their hearty co-operation.

Coast-to-Coast Train Service Comes at Last

THE POWER OF PUBLICITY when properly directed has again been emphasized by the announcement that the first daily, coast-to-coast sleeping car service—without change of trains—will be started Sunday, March 31, with at least six railroads participating.

This successfully brings tangible result to a campaign instituted some time since by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and its affiliates in carrying large advertisements in newspapers and magazines advocating such a service and offering to be included in its operation. It is perhaps ironical that the C. and O. is not in the new alignment, which comprises the New York Central, the Santa Fe, the Chicago and North Western, the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific lines. There is reason to believe, however, that it will be included in view of the fact that it was instrumental in starting the ball rolling.

Strangely enough for many years, transcontinental train passengers have had to incur delay and expense in shifting trains at Chicago, St. Louis or New Orleans, although, as pugently noted in the C. and O. advertisements, hogs could ride through without stopping while humans had to suffer the inconvenience of it. There may have been some operational difficulties, but greed of the way-station communities had much to do with it.

The innovation is another step in transportation progress and in the operation of the competitive system, in which air transport is playing an important part, with the traveling public the beneficiary.

The Inept Footstepping Of Secretary Wallace

SECRETARY WALLACE seems to be a glutton for putting his foot into it. His pronouncement that senators and representatives who do not vote with their party on fundamental issues should be expelled from their parties is another conspicuous instance.

As was naturally to be expected, howls of protest have gone up from both sides of the political fence along with some rather curt observations about purging operations, which were essayed by President Roosevelt with somewhat disastrous results to him and his New Deal organization.

It would be detrimental to the republican theory of government and the two-party system itself were every party member put into a straightjacket and made to conform to the wishes and whims of its leaders, to say nothing of the fundamental constitutional guarantees of freedom of conscience and speech. Even leading Democrats emphasize that as, for example, Senator Chavez (NM), who reminded that it was the "philosophy of Hitler and Himmler that they did not want members to think for themselves, but to follow the party movement."

It is wise and politic for party members to disregard strictly personal considerations and to join with their party leaders in support of fundamentals, but not to the extent of violating deep-seated convictions as to whether that leadership may be right or wrong. As this newspaper has hitherto expressed itself you cannot separate the differing thoughts and beliefs of political party members as you would segregate sheep and goats, or trays of beans, or screenings of coal, and it is a wholesome thing to see within a political party various shades and differences of thought in order that the best may come out as based upon truth and justice and true party ideals.

In view of the reactions to Wallace's pronouncement, one may wonder what is really behind it, if not fascist thinking. Can it be that the New Dealers are fearful of the trend of current public sentiment and that again something drastic must be done to whip dissenting members of their own outfit into the collectivist line? But they will have a hard time of that in many cases as, for instance, in that of men of the type of Senator Byrd.

A Needed Measure To Curb Abuses

IF the mills of the federal legislative processes are not as efficient as they might be, there are occasions when their slow grinding results in a remarkably good product. The McCarran-Sumners bill, which is now well on the way toward enactment, is a case in point.

This measure has not been given much public attention recently. Indeed, when the Senate passed it last week, the Washington dispatches reporting its action were brief and the accounts occupied only a few inches of space in the newspapers. But that is because the heat that once surrounded the subject matter of the legislative has been dissipated to such a degree that the Senate gave the bill unanimous approval.

There was a time when the issue involved aroused bitter controversy. Back in 1940 Congress passed a similar bill—it was called the Logan-Walter bill—to impose curbs on federal administrative agencies charged with making and enforcing regulations to effectuate purposes embodied in various laws. The purpose was to eliminate abuses that had grown up because these agencies were entrusted with powers that were quasi-legislative and quasi-judicial as well as executive.

The late President Roosevelt vetoed the bill on the ground that it went too far and would destroy governmental efficiency. He suggested that Congress wait until a commission he had established could study the matter and report. Congress did wait. Then it took a long time to revise the Logan-Walter bill. But it is now apparently ready to pass a milder measure that promises some protection to the public.

There seems to be no reason to doubt that the House will also act favorably and that President Truman will sign the bill into law.

The secretary of agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson, disagrees with UNRRA Director Herbert Lehman's plea that wartime food controls be re-established in the United States to meet world food needs, and millions of citizens, recalling their experiences with that, hope he is right in the contention that the voluntary basis would prove more practicable. But, it will be up to them.

The soybean may take the place of the egg for cooking purposes, according to a news story, but the chances are that it will be quite a while before restaurant customers will be asking for an order of "ham and soybeans."

Pickets paraded in front of a swank apartment house on Park avenue in New York City wearing derbies, tail coats, dress shirts and black ties. That may be a trifle off formality, yet it is considerably better than the club and rock outfitting.

Perhaps before the food crisis is over many Americans will be eating to live instead of living to eat.

SOURCES OF GROWTH

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

It is from the better qualities of others that we draw so much. We combine goodness with goodness, quality with quality, joy with joy, sorrow with sorrow—thus becoming more and more akin with those whom we look upon as our friends.

I have never forgotten the remark of a famous tennis player who told me that she always tried to pick an opponent who was a better player than she was. This spurred her on to play better. That is what makes hero worshipers of us all—and helps us to gain something of the heroic in our lives.

The mind is both plastic and absorbent. It takes in ideas, mating them with others, and sets many of them aside to combine with others. It has no boundaries. It can overflow, but there is always room for freshness and abundance.

We scent the divine qualities in others, and often, without a word being spoken, adapt and adopt them to ourselves. Often a mere handshake is sufficient. Or a look. You cannot see the rays of the sun, but you can feel them. And a glance at the heavens at night reminds us of our littleness—at the same time inspiring us with the growth and eternity of things.

A seed is planted, and soon it pokes its growth into the air, where it is welcomed by the sunshine, the air, and the rain. Its sources of growth are hidden and full of mystery, but they are there. Likewise we grow from endless sources, seen and unseen. Many of them are absorbed unconsciously. Our eyes, our ears, and our thoughts are agents of growth.

We gain strength of character by dealing with the positives of life. The negatives reduce us and shrink our personality. We walk away from complainers and from those who depress us. There is no source of growth to be gained from them.

A single act of kindness adds to our spiritual growth. Even to look upon such an act, performed by another, enriches us. Much of our mental and spiritual growth is gained from exemplary acts.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, March 20.—It's always hard to find out exactly what is going on inside the Kremlin, but according to latest diplomatic reports the chief policy framers are now Foreign Commissar Molotoff and Vice-Commissar Vyshinsky.

They, even more than Stalin, according to diplomatic dispatches, are really running top Soviet policy today.

That policy is: Russia must acquire certain strategic areas, such as Iran and the Dardanelles, quickly and without delay. The time factor is important for two reasons:

1. The war weariness of the rest of the world and the general demobilization of the democracies make it impossible for them to resist Russian demands now. So if Russia acts quickly, she can get what she wants without risk of war.

2. If there should be trouble, however, the Russian people will go along with the Soviet government as long as Stalin is alive and at its head. That is another reason for speed, since Stalin's health is failing. He has become a great symbol, and the Russian people will follow him anywhere. However, being just as war weary as the democracies and having no real quarrel with them, the Russian people would be loath to follow any other leader into a war.

These factors, according to diplomatic dispatches just received from Moscow, are why the Russians rushed troops into Iran, have concentrated on the Turkish border and have a tremendous army in Hungary ready to reinforce Tito's Yugoslav army in case there is a march on Trieste.

Stalin is old, and although still the most important personage in Russia, is not nearly as active as formerly. Roosevelt, incidentally, always found Stalin easier to deal with than those around him. So did Hull and Jimmy Byrnes.

Note — Ex-Ambassador Averell Harriman, just returned from Moscow, reported that Stalin now looks very much as Roosevelt did at Yalta, emaciated and not a well man.

Leon Blum's Gloves

When so distinguished a visitor as Leon Blum, former premier of France, arrived at the National airport in Washington, most people would have expected the State department to remove red tape.

Not so, however. The venerable Blum had to go through the usual inspections. In fact, so strict was the red tape, that when French Ambassador Bonnet held out his hand to greet the distinguished visitor, a colonel in the public health service intervened.

"Sorry, Mr. Ambassador," he said, "you can't touch him. He hasn't been through health inspection yet."

But another colonel of public health, noticing M. Blum's hands said: "I guess it will be all right to shake hands. He has gloves on."

Churchill-Stalin Feud

One reason behind Stalin's personal blast against Winston Churchill following his Fulton, Mo., speech was an old personal antipathy between the two men which finally exploded privately at Tehran.

Stalin, of course, never forgot that Churchill had sent Allied troops into Archangel and Siberia at the end of the last war in order to upset the Bolshevik regime. And all during the recent war he was irked over the fact that Churchill hung back against starting the second front across the English channel.

It was not until the Tehran conference that this question of the second front was finally settled. After considerable argument between Churchill and Stalin, Roosevelt threw his weight on the side of Stalin and it was decided to launch the second front through France, not the Balkans, as proposed by Churchill.

So when the two men parted, Churchill held out his hand to Stalin and said:

"Well good-bye Marshal. I'll see you in Berlin."

"Yes," replied Stalin, "I in a tank and you in a Pullman car."

Capital Chaff

A rider has been attached to the Philippine war compensation bill, exactly fifteen words long. Those fifteen words, however, will bring about $150,000,000 to Spanish, British and other foreign residents in the Philippines. They will be able to collect war damages from the USA, which will mean that Filipinos will get less . . . Secretary of War Patterson gave a great and well-deserved boost to Lt. Gen. Robert Richardson when he retired the other day as mid-Pacific commander. This column, four years ago, referred to Richardson as an officer well qualified to be chief of staff. That opinion still stands. A man of Richardson's ability should not be lost to the dwindling ranks of patriotic public servants . . . In the portrait of Winston Churchill painted by Douglas Chandor, the ex-prime minister is wearing the same ring as he wore when, as a youth, he participated in the cavalry charge at Omdurman in the Egyptian Sudan campaign. Churchill became an imperialist then and has remained one ever since . . . Gov. Ellis Arnall, of Georgia, is writing a book on politics and economics. He has taken the title from the Star-Spangled Banner—"The Shore Dimly Seen" . . . Fort McClellan, Alabama, is now requiring all GI packages mailed from the post to be inspected. Officers' packages are not inspected. Reason is the theft of government property allegedly mailed out from the post.

High Poultry Prices

The OPA's removal of ceiling prices on poultry is a trial to see whether it will help increase poultry consumption; also how prices will react. Poultry in storage now totals over 350,000,000 pounds—double the normal supply for this time of the year.

Actually, tie-in sales by which the big meat-packers force their meat and butter customers to purchase poultry, are forcing independent poultry processors to the wall. Because of tie-in sales, independents can't compete. The big packers, by forcing their meat customers to buy poultry from them, are able to control poultry prices regardless of OPA.

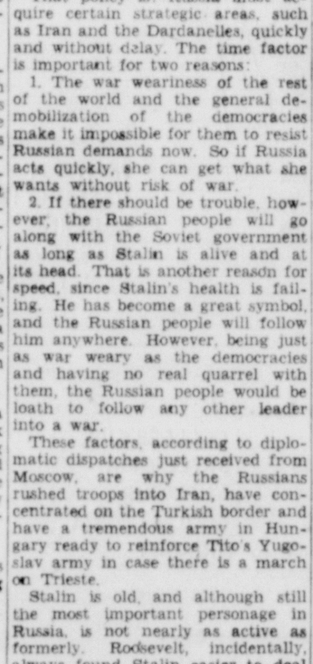

Therefore even before the OPA's new price ceilings, the big packers figure that OPA would probably be forced to put the ceilings back on, and prepared to charge OPA with dirty dealing.

Merry-Go-Round

A strong move is under way to place Boston's Lt. Nathan David, former FCC assistant general counsel, on the Federal Communications Commission as a full-fledged commissioner. The FCC is one agency which has given no recognition to veterans . . . John L. Lewis and David Dubinsky are both pouring money hand over fist into the fight for control of the CIO-United Auto Workers' Union. Lewis and Dubinsky hope to smash CIO control of the auto workers and bring them into the A. F. of L. . . . House sponsors of the full employment bill have proposed twelve excellent names to President Truman, urging that he pick three members of the new Economic Advisory Council created by the bill. The twelve names are: Robert Nathan; Frank Graham of the University of North Carolina; Leon Henderson; O. Max Gardner; Ambassador John Winant; Homer Rainey, ousted from the University of Texas; Georgia's Ellis Arnall; William H. Davis; Maj. Paul Douglas, of Chicago university; Russell Smith; Harold Smith, of the Budget Bureau, and Randolph Paul, formerly of the Treasury department . . . An excellent group of congressmen also has been named for the joint congressional committee created by the bill, including Democrats Outland, of California; Patman, of Texas; Huber, of Ohio, and Ed Hart, of New Jersey. The Republicans include George Bender, of Ohio, Robert Rich, of Pennsylvania, and Walter Judd, of Minnesota. The Senate group has not yet been selected.

Boomerang Is Seen In Unilateral Action On Argentina

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, March 20 — Though warned on all sides by those familiar with Latin American affairs that the United States must not take unilateral action in this hemisphere, the department of State is revealed as having made a major blunder by acting alone in respect to the Argentine situation.

Associated Press dispatches from Argentina now tell of the disappointment felt by observers there, including many of the anti-fascist groups, that the United States has been placed in the position of having been defeated at the Argentine polls through the election of Peron.

There can be no doubt that Peron is a fascist and that he should not receive the recognition of other governments, even though his election has been brought about theoretically by democratic processes. The fact that for months preceding the election Peron conducted a reign of tyranny and deprived the people of their liberties would seem to indicate that it was a simple matter for him to engineer the election result on the basis of terror and reprisals.

Peron Unwittingly Helped

The department of State unwittingly helped Peron to be elected. Most patriotic nationals resent interference in internal affairs from outside their country. The department of State actually carried on for a while, through our ambassador there, a public campaign against the Peron groups and then brought the ambassador to Washington and made him assistant secretary of state. Then came the "Blue Book" which, while justified as to contents, placed the United States alone as back of the denunciation of Peron.

It was most unfortunate that so-called liberals and "left wingers" in this country needled the department of State after the San Francisco conference and made it appear that a mistake had been made in dealing with the Farrell regime. Actually the policy of admitting Argentina to the United Nations was decided upon by the late President Roosevelt before the conference at Mexico City or San Francisco. Documents on this point have never been made public, though almost everybody who is familiar with Latin American affairs in Washington has seen the memorandum outlining such a policy which was initialed by "FDR."

Ill-Advised Repudiation

The "left-wing" raised a fuss about what the American delegation did at San Francisco and misled Secretary Byrnes into an ill-advised repudiation of the policies of those who had been endeavoring to accomplish the same objective—the downfall of the Peron group — but through the united action of the Pan-American republics.

Now the United States government is in deeper water than ever before. There is a way out, but it will be a difficult one to pursue. The United States considers Peron a tool of Nazi power in this hemisphere. Do the other Latin American governments who were co-belligerents with us in the war feel the same way? If so, a statement should be made by all that no government, whether assuming power through elections or otherwise, will be recognized if it harbors Nazi and fascist groups and permits a threat to democracy.

No Basis for Recognition

The fact that Peron won an election cannot be viewed as a basis for recognition. It is not who acquires power by constitutional methods but what the record shows as to how he uses the power. Hitler observed all the forms of the German constitution when he acquired the post of chancellor in Germany in 1933. Fascism can use constitutional processes, too, but that doesn't make fascism any more eligible for the support of democratic nations.

The Argentine people in due time will find their own means of dealing with Peron, but it is more than ever important that the United States and Great Britain and Russia take a stand together against the Peron regime and that as many governments in this hemisphere as possible join the declaration of policy.

Hope of America Is Seen Depending On United Nations

By MARK SULLIVAN

Formally, by Secretary of State Byrnes's speech last Saturday night and otherwise, America puts its dependence on the United Nations Organization. Because we do that, we announce that we will decline to have any special relation to or alliance with Britain, lest that be detrimental to the United Nations as a whole.

That we should cherish the United Nations, that we should hope it will be securely founded and will grow and be successful, and that we should strive to that end, is a belief on the part of the American people as nearly unanimous as any creed or principle they have ever been called to pass upon. It rests upon the conviction that another world war is made unthinkable by the atomic bomb, and that the best safeguard against future war is the collective security to which the United Nations is dedicated.

Two Conditions

How the United Nations will develop, what it becomes and the authority and power it will have, depends mainly on two conditions. One is the whole-heartedness with which nations support it, accept and live up to the obligations that go with it, including the self-denials. The other is the relative force of nations within it. Not necessarily military force, though this cannot be excluded, but force of ideas, earnestness of argument in behalf of ideas, with the aim of ultimate triumph of those ideas which most appeal to the common man throughout the world.

Within the United Nations will be powers of different strength. The strongest is either Russia or the United States. While Russia is the larger in population, we are stronger in productiveness and many other respects, probably we are stronger militarily if we choose to be so.

These two nations differ. Their difference goes to the root of the two conditions which will determine the success of the United Nations, and what it is to become—whole-heartedness by nations in support of it, and ideas that will contend within it.

Russia Inconsistent

Russia subscribes to the United Nations, but follows a course inconsistent with it. The actions of Russia which go counter to the principles of the United Nations compose the present turmoil of the world. These actions by Russia we oppose. We oppose them solely in the interest of the United Nations, and not in any self-interest of our own. If the United Nations did not exist, while we might disapprove Russia's actions, we would not set ourselves in formal opposition to them.

As respects ideas also, the United States and Russia differ. They are at opposite poles. The Russian government holds and practices a set of ideas, grouped as Communism. The United States holds a set of ideas which are a denial of communism.

Views Are Different

On this point there is a difference of view, bearing on the future of the United Nations. One view is that there can be, within the United Nations, countries holding and practicing different ideas about government and the organization of society. To this view the United States would subscribe.

The other view is that as the United Nations grows, the inevitable tendency will be toward a single form of government and society. Russia seems to hold this view, certainly she acts in accordance with it. Before the United Nations was thought of, and since, Russia has sought to extend communism throughout the world.

Russia's course was put by Mr. Winston Churchill in words with which well informed persons agree: "In a great number of countries throughout the world, communist fifth columns are established and work in complete unity and absolute obedience to directions they receive from the communist center. Except in the British commonwealth and in the United States, where communism is in its infancy, the communist parties or fifth column constitute a growing challenge . . ."

Fraternal Union

In the battle of ideas within the United Nations—over whether each nation shall be free to practice its own form of government and society, and leave others free to do the same; and especially in the controversy between communism and the negation of it, in the issues besides—the United States and Britain will stand together.

That unity, call it by any name you please, will be in fact what Mr. Churchill calls a "fraternal association." It will not arise out of any formal alliance, nor be dependent upon it. It is not within the permitting or forbidding of statesmen. It will arise from the facts of history.

Three motor vehicle cases were docketed in trial magistrates court yesterday.

Donald Thomas Trexler, 20 Spring street entered a plea of guilty before Magistrate Frank A Perdew, to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $5.75 including costs. The charge resulted from a two-car collision on Route 51, two miles east of the city.

The driver of the other car was Elmer Poole of this city, who was absolved of any blame, according to state Trooper Glen D. Folk. No one was injured in the mishap.

Ernest A. Slider, RFD No. 1, Oldtown, was fined $1.75 including costs when he entered a plea of guilty for operating a motor vehicle without license tags, on U. S. Route 40.

Ernest Arthur Light, of Pinto, Md., paid a similar fine after pleading guilty to operating a car without a license in his possession. Sgt. Thomas Hignutt of the state police preferred the charges.

Writing Letters To Strange Men Isn't Recommended

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I live in a small town and there are not many teen-agers in my vicinity.

I would like very much to correspond with some serviceman about 17 or 18 years old. I do not know where to obtain any addresses, and would like you to advise me on this. I am 15 years old and would like to know if I'm too young to do this, and if it's proper.

ANXIOUS.

There ought to be better ways for you to find congenial friends than by trying to strike up an acquaintance with some stranger through correspondence, "Anxious." I certainly wouldn't approve of such an idea at all.

I hear quite a lot from teen-agers who live in small towns where there apparently are not too many girls and boys of the same age, and I'm sure it must be a problem sometimes.

But even so, there must be ways out of the difficulty. How about your school friends? You must be in high school, where all sorts of activities for both boys and girls go on all the time. And isn't your town close enough to other towns so that there might be opportunities of making new acquaintances through clubs and other groups? Are you quite sure your opportunities for companionship are really so limited and that you're not just anxious for a little more exciting adventure than perhaps comes your way? Think it over and let me know. Perhaps, if you're really at a loss for friends, I can make some further suggestions.

No Bargain In Charm

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a girl of 15, and am supposed to be going with a boy of 16. He told me one night that he loved me, but at school he talks to me one day and then doesn't even say hello for at least four days.

I admit that at first when he told me he liked me I didn't care for him. But now I love him very much.

What do you think is the best thing for me to do?

A "FAN."

I think the best thing for you to do is not to show too much eagerness to have this boy pay attention to you. And for you to have other boy friends and go out with them and have good times.

If this particular boy isn't sufficiently interested to be more dependable in his friendship for you, I certainly don't think you'd be missing much if you passed him up for a more reliable friend.

Maybe he's decided to play "hard to get," thinking that will intrigue you. But don't forget two can play at that game, and perhaps if you took it up in a moderate sort of way, he might change his tactics.

Men Aren't "Bashful Enough"

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I've just finished reading your column tonight. (Editor's note: About the "Discouraged Veteran" who was too shy to make friends with girls) and I said to myself: "I'd like to meet that bashful boy!" It has been so long since I've seen such a male that I would probably hang on his sleeve like a leech!

I am 22 years old, reasonably good-looking and have an excellent job. I have lots of dates, and all that, but sometimes the evenings do not end on such good cheer. The reason? Simply because most men insist on necking at the front door and never let me go in the house.

Why do they expect this? Is that the usual compensation for a lovely evening? I'm not a prude, but I certainly do not like to be kissed by every Tom, Dick and Harry. In fact, I'd rather save my kisses for the real someone. I am so sick of wolves that I could scream! I'm told that I will be an old maid if I don't throw myself at men. Well, I'd rather be an old maid if I can't find a "bashful boy"!

Tell that "Discouraged Veteran" not to worry. Some really nice girl is going to get him!

DISGUSTED.

And I'll bet you anything you like, "Disgusted," that some really nice boy is going to get you, too, one of these days! They're not all wolves, you know. There are lots of boys who don't try to exact payment in kisses for giving a girl a good time. What do some of the rest of you think about this?

Twenty Tires Are Stolen from Local Tread Service Store

Police were still investigating last evening the theft of twenty new Mohawk automobile tires valued at $300 from the Hawkinson Tread Service, 319 South Centre street, Monday evening between 6:30 and 8 o'clock.

According to C. H. Helmrich, manager, the robbers entered the building after breaking a window in the rear of the place. The safe was not rifled, he reported, but $4 worth of stamps and cigarets were taken from a drawer.

The thieves did not bother a number of tires belonging to customers, the manager reported.

Suffer from constipation? Want relief without drugs? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I am nearly 77 years old. I've been eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every morning for more than 15 years. I am happy to make this unsolicited testimonial. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN has every fine and beneficial quality which you claim for it." Wellman Thrush, R-4, Wabash, Indiana.

You, too, may never have to take another laxative as long as you live—for constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet—if you eat ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. Try it as a delicious cereal—and in muffins.

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a good, wholesome cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat, supplying gentle bulk, helpful to normal laxation. Eat it every day for ten days and drink plenty of water. If not completely satisfied, send empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Mich. Get double your money back.

Last-Hour Buying Reverses Early Irregular Trend in Stock Market

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP) — Last-hour buying in today's stock market reversed an early irregular trend and lifted steels, motors, rails, tobaccos and utilities factions to more than two points.

Dealings were slow most of the season but picked up on the late rally. Volume totaled 1,290,000 shares against 1,050,000 yesterday.

Although international developments still were not clear, customers apparently took a healthier view of the whole picture. Early selling was attributed to mounting evidence of not-too-favorable prospects for dividends and earning in the first quarter.

Higher were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, J. I. Case, Deere Douglas Glenn Martin, American Telephone, North American Electric Power and Light, American Smelting, International Nickel, Air Reduction, General Electric, duPont, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Philip Morris, Sante Fe, Northern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Ligget and Myers "B", Reynolds Tobacco "B" and American Tobacco "B".

Commonwealth and Southern was up one-fourth at four after blocks of as much as much as 100 shares crowded the tape near the close. United States Rubber, Sperry and Standard Oil (N.J.) were off fractions.

Gainers in the Curb included Cities Service, National Rubber Machinery, Solar Aircraft and Technicolor. Transfers here totaled 480,000 shares against 420,000 yesterday.

Except for advances in selected rails, the bond market failed to establish a trend with most changes narrow in quiet dealings.

Sales totaled $4,280,000 compared with $4,750,000 Tuesday.

Woman Is Fined After Accident At Cresaptown

Mrs. Mary M. Clark, 508 Columbia avenue, arrested at 4:40 p. m. Tuesday following a minor collision at the post office intersection at Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Roy Bowman, Cresaptown, on a charge of failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign.

State Trooper G. M. Rotruck, who made the arrest, said he was following another motorist south on Route 220 when Mrs. Clark crossed the highway without stopping.

The car preceding him stopped quickly and almost avoided the accident, the trooper said, but the bumper of the car hooked the left rear fender on the Clark car. Damage was minor and there were no injuries.

Police Are Looking For Harden Again

Police were looking for James H. Harden, Cumberland youth, again last night.

In February, Harden who was being held in the Mineral county jail, Keyser, awaiting to be taken to the West Virginia Reform School, Pruntytown, escaped from a doctor's office where he had been taken by Sheriff James A. Dixon for a blood test.

That night he was found at the home of his grandmother in Cumberland and returned to Keyser. Subsequently he was transferred to the training school.

Last Saturday night, Harden escaped from the training school, according to State Trooper L. E. Proudfoot, and has not been seen since.

The previous week, Proudfoot said, Harden and several other prisoners at the reform school, walked away from the institution, went to Grafton and broke into a building. The officer added that Harden "beat up the boy" who told on him.

Harden was sentenced to the reform school for being implicated in the theft of two automobiles in Ridgeley.

State Police Begin Drive on Parking

Five Drivers Are Arrested at Celanese Plant in Two Days

State police said last night they are conducting a drive against illegal parking on Route 220 at the Celanese plant and reported five arrests in the past two days, four of them Tuesday, to show that they mean business.

Officers said haulers of Celanese employes having been parking in the right lane of traffic to pick up their riders instead of parking off the highway in the space provided, and thus blocked traffic.

Warnings have been issued to drivers in the past several weeks and Monday officers began enforcing the measure. They said it applies to buses as well as to automobiles.

Three motorists arrested yesterday afternoon appeared last night before Magistrate Roy Bowman, Cresaptown, to stand trial. He imposed fines of $2 and costs of seventy-five cents on each of them.

They are Mrs. Lea Patterson, RFD 3, Keyser, W. Va.; Marshall O. Fazenbaker, Lonaconing, and Hollie Arthur, Westernport, William Shearer, Midland, also arrested yesterday, failed to appear for a hearing and forfeited bond of $3.45.

Josephine M. Norris, Mt. Savage, arrested Monday, was fined $2 and seventy-five cents costs Monday night.

All the arrests were made by Trooper G. M. Rotruck.

Divorce Granted Mrs. Amanda Wertz

Mrs. Amanda B. Wertz, 32, 115 Valley street, Tuesday was granted an absolute divorce from Ransom C. Wertz in a decree signed by Chief Judge William A. Huster. The wife represented by Julius E. Schindler, was given the right to resume her maiden name, Amanda Bridges. They were married in November, 1929, and lived together until May, 1944. Desertion was charged. Harold E. Naughton was counsel for the husband.

Asserting that his wife was found in a "beer joint" with a soldier and refused to leave with him, Curtis Clifton Jenkins, 28, Cumberland, a sailor who has served several months overseas, was granted an absolute divorce from Mrs. Marian Agnes Jenkins. The wife was awarded the custody of their daughter temporarily but the court cited that arrangements must be made to have the child placed in the custody of a "suitable person" later.

The sailor, represented by Thomas Lohr Richards, said they were married in 1941 and lived together until May, 1943. He charged that she refused to come to Virginia and California when he was stationed there, despite the fact that he sent money for her fare.

Mrs. Beatrice C. Bucy filed suit for divorce from Bernard C. Bucy, 898 Ridgedale avenue, and also asked for the custody of their son, aged three. The wife, represented by Morgan C. Harris, said they were married in 1942 in Cumberland.

Mrs. Ethel V. Cessna has filed an answer to the divorce action of her husband, James A. Cessna, denying his charge of desertion. The wife, represented by Julius E. Schindler, also filed a cross bill, alleging cruelty and asking a partial divorce.

VFW Membership Hits 2,002 Mark

Arthur B. Hast, 810 Columbia Avenue, Is Member 2,000

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, admitted several new members Tuesday night, and their total paid-up membership is now 2,002.

For some weeks past, members of the post have competed with each other for the distinction of bringing in the two-thousandth member. The honor went to the post judge advocate, Thomas K. Whalley.

The two-thousandth member is Arthur B. Hast, 810 Columbia avenue. He is a veteran of World War II.

L. S. Zieve, Baltimore, department national director of the VFW Women's and Orphans' National Home at Eton Rapids, Mich., was a guest at the meeting and told veterans of activites at the home.

Zieve said there are twenty-four cottages on the 900-acre tract and plans are now underway to break ground for twenty-five more. One of the cottages was built by Maryland posts, and they are asked to build another.

The home houses and provides for 177 children, eighteen mothers, and has an honor roll of 237 men and women who left there for military, naval and marine service. Three men raised at the home lost their lives in World War II. The first boy inducted into the service for World War II was a Marylander, Zieve said, and he distinguished himself in combat and was awarded a Silver Star.

Job-Finding Drive

Several Clay Seams Found in Garrett

An extensive survey of clay deposits of the Castleman district in Garrett county and the Georges Creek valley has so far revealed three seams with possibilities, according to Karl M. Waage, geologist for the U. S. Geological Survey of the Department of Interior.

Waage, working in conjunction with Lloyd Williams, who is making test drillings of possible coal seams in the same area for the Maryland Bureau of Mines, states that one seam of clay containing flint has been mapped in the Castleman area, but it is "spotty" and not continuous. It would be good for making high grade fire brick.

Although Waage and Williams are working on two different projects their work dovetails in that the clay seams are found beneath coal seams in the area being surveyed. This saves both time and effort in checking both the clay and coal deposits.

Waage said that his survey does not take into consideration the tonnage of clay deposits, but is for the purpose of locating and mapping them and also of analyzing their contents to determine the best uses to which they may be put. He made one definite statement to the effect that the clay deposits checked so far could not be obtained by the strip mining method.

He has also located two seams of soft clay in the Castleman area and the depth will be surveyed later. This type of clay is able to withstand a high degree of heat, he added. The winter weather impeded Waage in his survey and he does not expect to complete it until late next fall. He began the survey last August.

Results of his survey will be compiled by the U. S. Geological Survey and then turned over to Maryland officials for publication. Industries interested will be aided by the survey if they wish to make use of deposits in the area.

Woman Is Fined After Accident At Cresaptown

Mrs. Mary M. Clark, 508 Columbia avenue, arrested at 4:40 p. m. Tuesday following a minor collision at the post office intersection at Cresaptown, was fined $5 and costs by Magistrate Roy Bowman, Cresaptown, on a charge of failing to stop at a boulevard stop sign.

State Trooper G. M. Rotruck, who made the arrest, said he was following another motorist south on Route 220 when Mrs. Clark crossed the highway without stopping.

The car preceding him stopped quickly and almost avoided the accident, the trooper said, but the bumper of the car hooked the left rear fender on the Clark car. Damage was minor and there were no injuries.

Police Are Looking For Harden Again

Police were looking for James H. Harden, Cumberland youth, again last night.

In February, Harden who was being held in the Mineral county jail, Keyser, awaiting to be taken to the West Virginia Reform School, Pruntytown, escaped from a doctor's office where he had been taken by Sheriff James A. Dixon for a blood test.

That night he was found at the home of his grandmother in Cumberland and returned to Keyser. Subsequently he was transferred to the training school.

Last Saturday night, Harden escaped from the training school, according to State Trooper L. E. Proudfoot, and has not been seen since.

The previous week, Proudfoot said, Harden and several other prisoners at the reform school, walked away from the institution, went to Grafton and broke into a building. The officer added that Harden "beat up the boy" who told on him.

Harden was sentenced to the reform school for being implicated in the theft of two automobiles in Ridgeley.

State Police Begin Drive on Parking

Five Drivers Are Arrested at Celanese Plant in Two Days

State police said last night they are conducting a drive against illegal parking on Route 220 at the Celanese plant and reported five arrests in the past two days, four of them Tuesday, to show that they mean business.

Officers said haulers of Celanese employes having been parking in the right lane of traffic to pick up their riders instead of parking off the highway in the space provided, and thus blocked traffic.

Warnings have been issued to drivers in the past several weeks and Monday officers began enforcing the measure. They said it applies to buses as well as to automobiles.

Three motorists arrested yesterday afternoon appeared last night before Magistrate Roy Bowman, Cresaptown, to stand trial. He imposed fines of $2 and costs of seventy-five cents on each of them.

They are Mrs. Lea Patterson, RFD 3, Keyser, W. Va.; Marshall O. Fazenbaker, Lonaconing, and Hollie Arthur, Westernport, William Shearer, Midland, also arrested yesterday, failed to appear for a hearing and forfeited bond of $3.45.

Josephine M. Norris, Mt. Savage, arrested Monday, was fined $2 and seventy-five cents costs Monday night.

All the arrests were made by Trooper G. M. Rotruck.

Divorce Granted Mrs. Amanda Wertz

Mrs. Amanda B. Wertz, 32, 115 Valley street, Tuesday was granted an absolute divorce from Ransom C. Wertz in a decree signed by Chief Judge William A. Huster. The wife represented by Julius E. Schindler, was given the right to resume her maiden name, Amanda Bridges. They were married in November, 1929, and lived together until May, 1944. Desertion was charged. Harold E. Naughton was counsel for the husband.

Asserting that his wife was found in a "beer joint" with a soldier and refused to leave with him, Curtis Clifton Jenkins, 28, Cumberland, a sailor who has served several months overseas, was granted an absolute divorce from Mrs. Marian Agnes Jenkins. The wife was awarded the custody of their daughter temporarily but the court cited that arrangements must be made to have the child placed in the custody of a "suitable person" later.

The sailor, represented by Thomas Lohr Richards, said they were married in 1941 and lived together until May, 1943. He charged that she refused to come to Virginia and California when he was stationed there, despite the fact that he sent money for her fare.

Mrs. Beatrice C. Bucy filed suit for divorce from Bernard C. Bucy, 898 Ridgedale avenue, and also asked for the custody of their son, aged three. The wife, represented by Morgan C. Harris, said they were married in 1942 in Cumberland.

Mrs. Ethel V. Cessna has filed an answer to the divorce action of her husband, James A. Cessna, denying his charge of desertion. The wife, represented by Julius E. Schindler, also filed a cross bill, alleging cruelty and asking a partial divorce.

VFW Membership Hits 2,002 Mark

Arthur B. Hast, 810 Columbia Avenue, Is Member 2,000

Henry Hart Post No. 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, admitted several new members Tuesday night, and their total paid-up membership is now 2,002.

For some weeks past, members of the post have competed with each other for the distinction of bringing in the two-thousandth member. The honor went to the post judge advocate, Thomas K. Whalley.

The two-thousandth member is Arthur B. Hast, 810 Columbia avenue. He is a veteran of World War II.

L. S. Zieve, Baltimore, department national director of the VFW Women's and Orphans' National Home at Eton Rapids, Mich., was a guest at the meeting and told veterans of activites at the home.

Zieve said there are twenty-four cottages on the 900-acre tract and plans are now underway to break ground for twenty-five more. One of the cottages was built by Maryland posts, and they are asked to build another.

The home houses and provides for 177 children, eighteen mothers, and has an honor roll of 237 men and women who left there for military, naval and marine service. Three men raised at the home lost their lives in World War II. The first boy inducted into the service for World War II was a Marylander, Zieve said, and he distinguished himself in combat and was awarded a Silver Star.

Job-Finding Drive

Several Clay Seams Found in Garrett

An extensive survey of clay deposits of the Castleman district in Garrett county and the Georges Creek valley has so far revealed three seams with possibilities, according to Karl M. Waage, geologist for the U. S. Geological Survey of the Department of Interior.

Waage, working in conjunction with Lloyd Williams, who is making test drillings of possible coal seams in the same area for the Maryland Bureau of Mines, states that one seam of clay containing flint has been mapped in the Castleman area, but it is "spotty" and not continuous. It would be good for making high grade fire brick.

Although Waage and Williams are working on two different projects their work dovetails in that the clay seams are found beneath coal seams in the area being surveyed. This saves both time and effort in checking both the clay and coal deposits.

Waage said that his survey does not take into consideration the tonnage of clay deposits, but is for the purpose of locating and mapping them and also of analyzing their contents to determine the best uses to which they may be put. He made one definite statement to the effect that the clay deposits checked so far could not be obtained by the strip mining method.

He has also located two seams of soft clay in the Castleman area and the depth will be surveyed later. This type of clay is able to withstand a high degree of heat, he added. The winter weather impeded Waage in his survey and he does not expect to complete it until late next fall. He began the survey last August.

Results of his survey will be compiled by the U. S. Geological Survey and then turned over to Maryland officials for publication. Industries interested will be aided by the survey if they wish to make use of deposits in the area.

THURSDAY, MARCH 21

BY-PASSES: "He passed by . . . on the other side". Luke 10:31. Read Job 31:16-23.

They are building roads now which, to speed traffic, by-pass the cities. Well enough, but there is a vast deal in life which cannot be by-passed. The wounded, by so many kinds of wounds, and the self-defeated are all along the roadsides of life. Easy to say, "my business presses, it is no concern of mine. I can do nothing about it, why should I stop," and pass by on the other side.

But what is thus passed follows and haunts us. The very nature, and maybe the cross, of love, strength and goodness is that they cannot pass by and be true to themselves. They must stop and stoop and share. Nor can we go even safely on and leave the beaten and broken behind. We must go on together one by one; go on together as races and nations, if there is to be any right journey's end.

This is the heart-meaning of Lent. For the Cross of Christ is the witness against every skyline that God himself cannot, does not pass by on the other side. How else could we be saved?

Prayer: O God, our hope and our salvation, forbid that in any haste or pride or love of ease, we should go our way unmoved by any need we have power to meet. Fill us with patient tenderness for others, seeing that we also are in the same case before thee, and make us ready to help and quick to forgive. In His name who heeded every wayside cry. Amen.

Stick-to-the-Ribs Soup

CHOW-MEIN VEGETABLE SOUP . . . A one-dish meal.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Every cook ought to have up her sleeve a few dishes which can be prepared in a hurry and still provide satisfying meals for the family. One of the best solutions to this quick-meal problem is the meal-in-a-dish soup. Let us suggest a few to you—and you go on from there to concoct your own.

Chow-Mein Vegetable Soup

½ package or can chow mein vegetables
¼ pound fresh mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine
1 quart beef stock or 6 bouillon cubes and 1 quart water
½ cup cooked chicken or strips of beef
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup cold water
Soy sauce
Fried noodles
Spinach leaves
Cooked rice

Saute vegetables in butter or margarine until soft but not brown. Add stock and simmer about ten minutes. Pour about a cup of hot stock over cornstarch, mixed with cold water. Return to kettle and boil three minutes. Season to taste with soy sauce and serve hot with cooked rice. Garnish with fried noodles, meat and tiny fresh spinach leaves.

Shrimp Tomato Soup

1 pound cooked shrimp
1½ slices stale bread, broken up
Water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
Dash of cayenne

Shell and clean shrimp and cut them in half. Soak the bread in enough water to soften it. Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan. Add shrimp, onion, bread and seasonings. Cook until onion is golden brown. Meantime, heat soup in a pan with an equal quantity of water. Add shrimp mixture and serve.

Special Soup

1 can condensed mushroom soup
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 teaspoon curry powder
1½ cups milk
1 cup lobster or crab meat
1 wineglass sherry

Combine all ingredients but fish and sherry and heat well in top of double boiler, over hot water. Five minutes before serving add fish and sherry and allow to heat through.

Any of these soups can make a full meal. Accompany with plenty of hot, crisp French bread, a green salad and a dessert. If it is one of your most hurried days, make the dessert canned fruit or a boughten pastry. You'll never get a complaint if you offer us a dinner like this.

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Devotional

Prepared by
DR. GAIUS GLENN ATKINS
of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ of America
Copyright 1946

THURSDAY, MARCH 21

BY-PASSES: "He passed by . . . on the other side". Luke 10:31. Read Job 31:16-23.

They are building roads now which, to speed traffic, by-pass the cities. Well enough, but there is a vast deal in life which cannot be by-passed. The wounded, by so many kinds of wounds, and the self-defeated are all along the roadsides of life. Easy to say, "my business presses, it is no concern of mine. I can do nothing about it, why should I stop," and pass by on the other side.

But what is thus passed follows and haunts us. The very nature, and maybe the cross, of love, strength and goodness is that they cannot pass by and be true to themselves. They must stop and stoop and share. Nor can we go even safely on and leave the beaten and broken behind. We must go on together one by one; go on together as races and nations, if there is to be any right journey's end.

This is the heart-meaning of Lent. For the Cross of Christ is the witness against every skyline that God himself cannot, does not pass by on the other side. How else could we be saved?

Prayer: O God, our hope and our salvation, forbid that in any haste or pride or love of ease, we should go our way unmoved by any need we have power to meet. Fill us with patient tenderness for others, seeing that we also are in the same case before thee, and make us ready to help and quick to forgive. In His name who heeded every wayside cry. Amen.

Stick-to-the-Ribs Soup

CHOW-MEIN VEGETABLE SOUP . . . A one-dish meal.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Every cook ought to have up her sleeve a few dishes which can be prepared in a hurry and still provide satisfying meals for the family. One of the best solutions to this quick-meal problem is the meal-in-a-dish soup. Let us suggest a few to you—and you go on from there to concoct your own.

Chow-Mein Vegetable Soup

½ package or can chow mein vegetables
¼ pound fresh mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter or vitaminized margarine
1 quart beef stock or 6 bouillon cubes and 1 quart water
½ cup cooked chicken or strips of beef
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup cold water
Soy sauce
Fried noodles
Spinach leaves
Cooked rice

Saute vegetables in butter or margarine until soft but not brown. Add stock and simmer about ten minutes. Pour about a cup of hot stock over cornstarch, mixed with cold water. Return to kettle and boil three minutes. Season to taste with soy sauce and serve hot with cooked rice. Garnish with fried noodles, meat and tiny fresh spinach leaves.

Shrimp Tomato Soup

1 pound cooked shrimp
1½ slices stale bread, broken up
Water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium onion, chopped
Salt and pepper to taste
Dash of cayenne

Shell and clean shrimp and cut them in half. Soak the bread in enough water to soften it. Melt butter or margarine in a frying pan. Add shrimp, onion, bread and seasonings. Cook until onion is golden brown. Meantime, heat soup in a pan with an equal quantity of water. Add shrimp mixture and serve.

Special Soup

1 can condensed mushroom soup
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 teaspoon curry powder
1½ cups milk
1 cup lobster or crab meat
1 wineglass sherry

Combine all ingredients but fish and sherry and heat well in top of double boiler, over hot water. Five minutes before serving add fish and sherry and allow to heat through.

Any of these soups can make a full meal. Accompany with plenty of hot, crisp French bread, a green salad and a dessert. If it is one of your most hurried days, make the dessert canned fruit or a boughten pastry. You'll never get a complaint if you offer us a dinner like this.

Insured Associations Showed Record Growth In 1945, Lashley Says

Insured associations throughout the state experienced a greater growth in 1945 than in any previous year, according to Lynn C. Lashley, president of the Maryland Council of Insured Savings and Loan Associations.

Total resources increased $21,000,000 during the year to $112,829,852, an all time high.

Savings and investment share accounts placed in the associations increased $14,600,000, the highest on record. A total of $91,786,094 is now invested in these institutions.

Reflecting the brisk activity in real estate, first mortgage loans increased $11,300,000, against an increase of only $1,500,000 in 1944.

Total mortgage loans on the books of these associations amounted to $75,197,601 at the end of the year.

Much of the activity in loans centered around the G. I. loan program. The insured associations have been extremely active in co-operating with the veterans and endeavoring to assist them to home ownership. During 1945, eighty-five per cent of all such home loans made in Maryland were placed through the insured associations.

As of December 31, 1945, the associations owned a total of $30,304,624 in government bonds. Cash on hand amounted to $4,345,898.

Lashley stated that the associations took advantage during the year to improve their reserve position against future real estate declines, by adding $1,400,000 to their reserve and surplus account after payment of dividends to shareholding members. This account now equals seven and one-half per cent of the liability to shareholders.

One Occupancy, Two Building Permits Are Granted Here

Two building permits and an occupancy permit were granted Tuesday and Monday in the city engineer's office.

Helmeth R. Brant secured a permit to build a second story over a garage at the rear of 30 Potomac street for use as an apartment, at an estimated cost of $500. The one-story addition, measuring 20 by 26 feet, will have frame walls and a ruberoid roof. Work will be done by the owner.

A permit was secured by Walter J. Eyler, 608 Montgomery avenue, to build a new enclosed porch at his home, at a cost of $500. The one-story addition, measuring 24 by 10 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and frame walls. Construction work will be done by W. A. McKinney and Lewis Taylor.

The occupancy permit was granted to Herbert H. Jewell, RFD 1, LaVale, to use the first floor of a building at 160 North Mechanic street as a radio and electrical repair shop. The two-story brick building was formerly occupied by the Walker Auto Radiator shop. The owner is Wesley Chapin, 158 North Mechanic street.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Shaking Heads and Human Liberties

It's a funny thing. Now that the war's over, there's a lot of head-shaking in our town. People saying: "What's the younger generation coming to?" "How can we end these strikes?" "The country's going to the dogs!" "There ought to be a law!" etc.

But when the younger generation was walloping the Axis "supermen"—and labor was doing the most colossal job in history—you never heard a murmur. But now that we're back to our traditional life of personal liberty, just see how the heads begin to shake again.

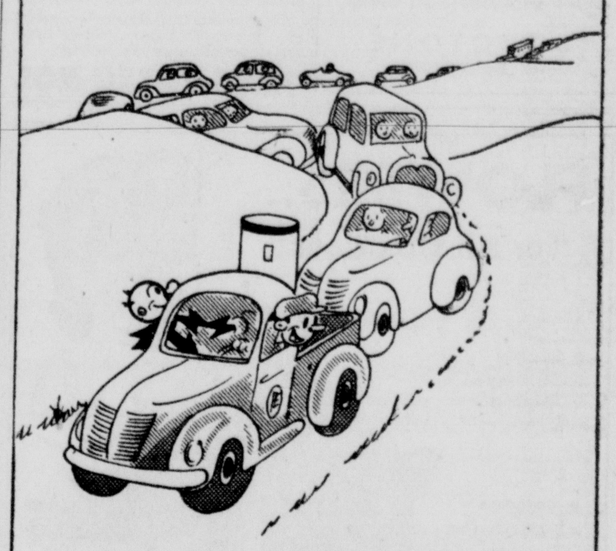

I guess there'll always be head-shakers—folks who feel "there ought to be a law"—who believe that the best form of regulation is suppression, whether it's applied to beer or baseball.

But from where I sit, America's done pretty well with the idea of personal choice and individual liberty. I guess that's just the way Americans are made.

Asks Water Service

Russell Arthur, Franklin, inquired at the recent meeting of Mayor Milton McIntyre and commissioners of Westernport what the prospects were for the town to furnish water for Franklin from Gannon's store to above the old Franklin school house. Arthur said the gas company was preparing to lay a service line to the section and pointed out that while the ditch was open a water line could be laid with very little extra cost.

Arthur was advised that no promise could be made since the town's water supply depended upon the completion of the Savage river dam or the relaying of the present wood lines.

Horace P. Whitworth, town attorney, asked that damages to his property be given attention. About forty feet of wall on the old Bloomington road fell on his property, damaging his coal house which he requested repaired. It was ordered that section of old Bloomington road from Vine to Walnut street be closed, where the wall had fallen in.

Fazenbaker Trial To Open Tuesday In Oakland Court

Bittinger Man Is Charged with Fatal Shooting of Loman Wilt

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND, March 20 — Charged with murder, Herman Fazenbaker, 23, Bittinger, will go on trial next Tuesday morning before a jury in Garrett county circuit court here.

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper, Cumberland, and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, will preside.

Fazenbaker has been held without bond in the Oakland jail since last October 17, when Loman Wilt, 42, also of the Bittinger section, was fatally wounded while in the woods. Fazenbaker was indicted two weeks ago by the Garrett county grand jury.

Died In Local Hospital

Wilt was struck in the abdomen, groin and right arm when Fazenbaker fired a shotgun, according to State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley, and died several days after being admitted to Memorial hospital here.

Fraley said he was informed that Wilt and Allen Stanton were hunting together in the woods on October 17 and were walking homeward after nightfall on a back road when they heard a shot fired in the nearby woods.

They spotted Fazenbaker in the woods because of a carbide lamp on his hat, officers were told, and shone a flashlight on him. Fazenbaker promptly fired his gun, police were informed, and Wilt was struck.

Admitted Firing Gun

Stanton took the wounded man to the local hospital, where an operation was performed shortly after he was admitted.

Fraley said Fazenbaker admitted firing the shot and declared the light from the flashlight frightened him. Fazenbaker was also quoted as saying he was hunting deer out of season, and that his first shot was fired at what he thought was a deer in the woods.

Sgt. Harold C. Carl, who has since resigned from the state police force and lives in Frostburg, was assisted in the investigation by State Trooper Glenn D. Folk.

Criminal trials of the March term will open Monday at Oakland, with Associate Judges Capper and Mish presiding. Other indictments on the docket are for minor offenses, Fraley said.

Lions Club Is Sponsoring Project To Provide Tri-towns Radio Hookup

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., March 20—The Lions club of the Tri-Towns is sponsoring a project to have those towns linked with the Keyser police radio system. Trooper A. M. Spioch, representing the Maryland State Police; John E. Grindle, representing the Lions club; James Harrison, chief of police, representing Piedmont, and George Freeland, from the Romney broadcasting station, met with the Keyser city council Tuesday and presented the proposition.

The council agreed to take the matter under advisement, pending action of a joint session of the councils of the Tri-Towns with the Keyser council at a meeting to be called in the near future.

The present radio system of the Keyser office has two-way communication with the West Virginia state radio station in Romney, and only one-way communication with the local police patrol car. The proposed system would be a two-way service between the Keyser central station and the patrol cars of the four communities, co-operating in the hook-up.

In discussing the merits of the new system, the value of the two-way service, in making it possible for officers out on patrol duty to be in immediate calling contact with the central office, thus saving much time when on emergency calls, was explained to the council.

The Lions club has offered to raise funds for the necessary added equipment, eliminating added expense to any of the four muicipalities in getting the system set up and in working order.

By GEORGE W. DADDYSMAN

WESTERNPORT, March 20—Petitions containing the names of twenty-five citizens requesting that five additional names be placed on the ballot for the town election were filed last night at 10 o'clock with J. Carr Getty, city clerk.

Asks Water Service

Russell Arthur, Franklin, inquired at the recent meeting of Mayor Milton McIntyre and commissioners of Westernport what the prospects were for the town to furnish water for Franklin from Gannon's store to above the old Franklin school house. Arthur said the gas company was preparing to lay a service line to the section and pointed out that while the ditch was open a water line could be laid with very little extra cost.

Arthur was advised that no promise could be made since the town's water supply depended upon the completion of the Savage river dam or the relaying of the present wood lines.

Horace P. Whitworth, town attorney, asked that damages to his property be given attention. About forty feet of wall on the old Bloomington road fell on his property, damaging his coal house which he requested repaired. It was ordered that section of old Bloomington road from Vine to Walnut street be closed, where the wall had fallen in.

Fazenbaker Trial To Open Tuesday In Oakland Court

Bittinger Man Is Charged with Fatal Shooting of Loman Wilt

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND, March 20 — Charged with murder, Herman Fazenbaker, 23, Bittinger, will go on trial next Tuesday morning before a jury in Garrett county circuit court here.

Chief Judge William A. Huster and Associate Judge Walter C. Capper, Cumberland, and Associate Judge Joseph D. Mish, Hagerstown, will preside.

Fazenbaker has been held without bond in the Oakland jail since last October 17, when Loman Wilt, 42, also of the Bittinger section, was fatally wounded while in the woods. Fazenbaker was indicted two weeks ago by the Garrett county grand jury.

Died In Local Hospital

Wilt was struck in the abdomen, groin and right arm when Fazenbaker fired a shotgun, according to State's Attorney Neil C. Fraley, and died several days after being admitted to Memorial hospital here.

Fraley said he was informed that Wilt and Allen Stanton were hunting together in the woods on October 17 and were walking homeward after nightfall on a back road when they heard a shot fired in the nearby woods.

They spotted Fazenbaker in the woods because of a carbide lamp on his hat, officers were told, and shone a flashlight on him. Fazenbaker promptly fired his gun, police were informed, and Wilt was struck.

Admitted Firing Gun

Stanton took the wounded man to the local hospital, where an operation was performed shortly after he was admitted.

Fraley said Fazenbaker admitted firing the shot and declared the light from the flashlight frightened him. Fazenbaker was also quoted as saying he was hunting deer out of season, and that his first shot was fired at what he thought was a deer in the woods.

Sgt. Harold C. Carl, who has since resigned from the state police force and lives in Frostburg, was assisted in the investigation by State Trooper Glenn D. Folk.

Criminal trials of the March term will open Monday at Oakland, with Associate Judges Capper and Mish presiding. Other indictments on the docket are for minor offenses, Fraley said.

Lions Club Is Sponsoring Project To Provide Tri-towns Radio Hookup

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., March 20—The Lions club of the Tri-Towns is sponsoring a project to have those towns linked with the Keyser police radio system. Trooper A. M. Spioch, representing the Maryland State Police; John E. Grindle, representing the Lions club; James Harrison, chief of police, representing Piedmont, and George Freeland, from the Romney broadcasting station, met with the Keyser city council Tuesday and presented the proposition.

The council agreed to take the matter under advisement, pending action of a joint session of the councils of the Tri-Towns with the Keyser council at a meeting to be called in the near future.

The present radio system of the Keyser office has two-way communication with the West Virginia state radio station in Romney, and only one-way communication with the local police patrol car. The proposed system would be a two-way service between the Keyser central station and the patrol cars of the four communities, co-operating in the hook-up.

In discussing the merits of the new system, the value of the two-way service, in making it possible for officers out on patrol duty to be in immediate calling contact with the central office, thus saving much time when on emergency calls, was explained to the council.

The Lions club has offered to raise funds for the necessary added equipment, eliminating added expense to any of the four municipalities in getting the system set up and in working order.

SO HE GETS YOUR GOAT?

There's one in every life. Some particular man or woman whom we instinctively dislike.

You're thinking of one this minute. And he gets your goat?

Something about him — little mannerisms — the way he says things — even the way he dresses — irritates you.

But why?

He's neither a relative of yours nor a friend — not even an intimate acquaintance. Then why let his personality throw you off the beam?

"But he has the most exasperating ideas," you snap. "He affects everyone the same way. He's so prejudiced and so intolerant and so frightfully conceited—"

Even so, what's that to you?

Granted, the qualities you name are disagreeable. Nevertheless he has as much right to his notions and tastes as you have to yours. That's the inalienable right of every human being.

"But we can't let people run around making public nuisances of themselves without some protest," you cry. Oh yes you can, provided their life is in no way involved with yours. The world is filled with odd and irritating people. Or so they seem to you. If we let all of them get our respective goats, we'd soon have neither time nor energy to attend to our own jobs or mind our own manners.

What's more — how do you know this particular person is a public nuisance? His personality may jar on you but that's no proof that it does on other people. Indeed many may admire the very traits you condemn.

And even if he were as obnoxious as you think, who made you his judge? What right have you to demand that any human being — even your nearest and dearest — should measure up to some particular standard of living which you prefer? No two of us are alike, no two of us should be forced into the same mold of behavior.

So what does all your fussing and fuming buy you? Exactly nothing except much wasted time and emotion.

There's just one person who requires your constant attention and criticism. Who is that? Exhibit A. Mind-your-own-business-and-keep-out-of-the-other-fellow's is a bad rule of life. Follow that rule and you'll have your hands full and will probably be much more popular.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

COAL PRICES HAVE BEEN INCREASED

William S. Jenkins, of the Consolidated Fuel Company, Tuesday advised the board of county commissioners that the price of coal has been increased, effective Monday under an order of the Office of Price Administration. Jenkins gave a revised list of coal prices effective in this area showing run of mine fuel increased to $4.25 a ton; smithing coal to $5 a ton and dealers' run of mine to $4.45.

Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka appeared before the board in connection with plans to repair the roof of the court house and advised that fire proof material be used beneath the slate shingles. He was informed that repairs only are planned and that a new roof will not be installed at this time.

Hugh Stevenson, Ellerslie; Delegate Lester B. Reed, Harry Delbrook and Wilbert Paul requested repairs to the Stony Hollow road leading from Route 36 in the Mt. Savage section. There are twenty-seven families on the road, one mile in length, and one third of the road is in use, it was said. The request was referred to County Engineer John H. Carscaden for investigation.

—Seafaring New Englanders were so strongly opposed to the War of 1812 that they talked about seceding from the Union.

Delicatets Rally To Win Spot in Gold Medal Final

Four Games Will Be Played Tonight in Tournament at YMCA; Mac's Big Five Wins

Lacy's Delicatets staged a strong rally in the final quarter last night to defeat the Vogue Big Five, 34-31, and move into the finals in the senior unlimited division of the Gold Medal basketball tournament being played on the Central YMCA court.

Lacy's will face the Davis, W. Va., Eagles tonight for the championship of the division. Davis won a berth in the finals last night by trimming the Coney Legion quint, 32-24.

Mac's Big Five moved into the finals of the junior unlimited class with a 56-32 win and will face St. Paul's Alumni tonight.

Lacy's came back in the second half after a bad first half start to hold the Vogue Big Five to five points in the third quarter and three in the final period while collecting 20 markers in the two periods.

Lacy's Goes Ahead

In the fourth quarter, Montgomery found the hoop for three two-pointers to put Lacy's ahead. Montgomery and Orndorff were the big guns for the winners. Boyle and Hunt led the losers.

St. Paul's Alumni went into the finals of the junior unlimited division with its 38-33 victory over the Racketeers.

The game was well played throughout, but in the closing minutes Lease and Cubbage netted two goals in succession for St. Paul's and the Racketeer's couldn't catch up.

Corbin, with ten points, was high man for the Racketeers. Latimer and Bucy turned in fine floor performances.

Fine Passing Game

In defeating the Coney Legion quint in one of the outstanding games of the tourney, the Davis, W. Va., Eagles, composed of former Davis and Thomas high school players, displayed a fine passing game.

Worden featured the contest with his fine offensive play and led the scorers by racking up 14 points. Maleonski played an outstanding floor game and his passing was a highlight of the contest.

Mac's Big Five showed championship form in its twenty-four point victory over St. Mark's Pony Express. Gene Shaw and Bob Price played outstanding games as well as leading the scorers with 19 and 15 points respectively.

Bill Brehany scored 13 points and Joe Moss had 11 tallies for St. Mark's.

Before tourney games got underway last night, the tourney committee ruled that Lacy's Delicatets' victory over Keegan's Claimers Monday night will stand and that the final quarter of the game will not be replayed.

Four Games Tonight

Previously the committee had decided that the fourth quarter would have to be replayed because of a mixup in the rules. Lacy's won the contest, 47-33.

Pairings for today's games are as follows:

6:30 p. m., Armbruster Radio vs. S. S. Midgets.

7:30 p. m., Harris Spartans vs. Mason's All Stars.

8:30 p. m., Mac's Big Five vs. St. Paul's Alumni.

9:30 p. m., Lacy's Delicatets vs. Davis Eagles.

Chicken Thief Tells How To Silence Birds

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—A youth, confessing to theft of 130 fowls in four chicken roost raids, told Detective Chief Luther Laster he sprayed a "couple of shots" of chloroform over the sleeping birds. The rest, he said, was easy.

"I'd have thought any blade, that good, would sell for a fancy price..."

...then I found PAL HOLLOW GROUND cost no more than ordinary blades."

Lots of men would be perfectly willing to pay plenty for a really superior shave. Now they can have that superior shave, and pay no more.

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Result: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "bearing down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal "Feather Touch" shave

West Virginia Is Easy Winner Over Muhlenberg

Mountaineers Take Third Place in National Invitation Tournament

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, March 20. (AP) — Overcoming an early 7-0 deficit, West Virginia's Mountaineers powered their way to an easy 65-40 triumph over Muhlenberg tonight to finish third in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square garden.

In winning the consolation game which went on before the championship clash between Kentucky and Rhode Island state, the Blue and Gold of West Virginia had a difficult time finding the range in the first three and a half minutes, but once captain Bob Carroll rimmed a jump shot, the Mountaineers were not to be denied.

Leland Byrd and Dave Wilson followed with two pointers and another shot and free throw by Carroll gave West Virginia a 9-7 lead after five minutes.

Mules Start Strong

After an auspicious start, the Mules fell off both in their shooting and pass work while the Mountaineers picked up speed to assume a commanding 37-18 half time lead.

Holding the Allentown (Pa.) five to one basket from the field in the first five minutes of the second half, West Virginia, with Tom Laverte and Howard Beverly joining in the scoring splurge, raced to a 41-19 lead and increased its margin to 53-28 before substituting an entire new team five minutes before the end.

Muhlenberg, which looked like a hustling fighting array in beating Syracuse in the first round and in losing to Rhode Island in the semi-finals, played lackadaisically and showed no trace of its previous scoring punch.

Byrd, with 18 points, led the scorers, with Van Combs topping the losers on six baskets and a free throw for 13 markers.

West Virginia couldn't score a point for the first three and a half minutes as the Mules piled up a 7-0 lead. Then the Mountaineers began hitting as Carroll opened the scoring with a field gdal followed by a foul.

Within two minutes they had taken the lead at 9-7 with Carroll sinking the two pointer that put his team in front after Leland Byrd and Dave Wilson had scored from the floor.

Start Scoring Spree

Another scoring streak got under way after the count had worked up to 11-10 and Carroll netted three field goals and Howard Beverly contributed three fouls to make it 20-10 about half way through the period.

After Harry Donovan and Van Combs had tallied for Muhlenberg, the Mountaineers were off on another eight-point streak which included a pair of field goals by Byrd. Toward the end of the period West Virginia counted five more points in a row with Byrd netting three free throws and Beverly a field goal.

Once they started, the Mountaineers used a fast-breaking attack that seemed to bewilder the Mules, who tried a switching defense. West Virginia played a tight man to man defense that gave Muhlenberg few chances to get in for layup shots.

The Mountaineers still were hot as the second half opened and they rolled up the score to 49-26 midway through the period before they cooled off. Muhlenberg's last faint hope vanished when Red Baldwin, tall sharpshooting forward, fouled out after about seven minutes of play.

105 Horses Named For Four Stakes At Bowie Track

BOWIE, Md., March 20 (AP) — John P. Turner, Bowie racing secretary, announced today that 105 horses had been nominated for the four stakes to be run at the spring meeting starting April 1.

Topping the list is Bernard Seroy's Hillyer Court, winner of the $25,000-added New Orleans Handicap at Fair Grounds March 2. Hillyer Court was named for the $7,500 Bowie Handicap, mile and 70 yards, April 6, and the $10,000-added Southern Maryland Handicap, mile and a sixteenth, April 13.

The Bowie Kindergarten States, a $5,000-added fixture for two-year-olds at four furlongs April 10, drew the largest number of nominees—30.

Gustave Ring's Chally Mally, J. P. Smith's Suribachi, Jouett Shouse's Mesl, and A. G. Vanderbilt's Good Example, were among those named for the Kindergarten.

The Rowe Memorial Handicap, for $7,500-added money, drew 22 sprinters. This six furlong event April 3 probably will see the renewal of a Florida rivalry between A. F. Plock's Ellis and Gustave Ring's Happy Buckle. Another named for this affair is Bobanet, from the Bobanet stable of Bruce Livie of Baltimore.

Twenty-eight were nominated for the Southern Maryland, and 25 horses for the Bowie Handicap.

The SPORTLIGHT By GRANTLAND RICE

A Few Personal Pen Shots

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March. — JOHNNY BEAZLEY — Since we both hail from the same town, Nashville, Tenn., it is only fitting that a few kind words should be tossed in the general direction of this Cardinal pitching star. Beazley, 6 feet 2, 190 pounds, will be 27-years-old in May. In his last season with the Cardinals, before leaving for war service the good looking young Tennessean won 21 games and lost only 6. That was back in 1942, the same year that gave him two world series wins over the Yankees. The pleasant, mild-mannered Cardinal entry may easily be one of the pitching stars of 1946, as he was back in 1942.

"My arm still feels soft and a little weak," Beazley tells me. "But it isn't sore. It's just lack of work. I hope to have a good year for I happen to be with a ball club that can get runs for you, and save possible runs by opposing teams. Any pitcher on this Cardinal team has a good break. Only real hits ever gets by our infield or outfield, and often real hits get turned into putouts."

PHIL RIZZUTO — According to Bill Dickey, Phil Rizzuto, the Yankee infielder, will be one of the stars of the new campaign. Phil is now 27 years old, New York City born, only 5 feet 6 inches above the turf.

"I had Rizzuto on my Navy team for ten games," Dickey says, "and he was a star in every game. He was better than good when he left the Yankees, but he will be better than ever this season. I'd hate to try to pick a better all-around shortstop from either league, not overlooking the fact that he is almost sure to bat over .300. Rizzuto and Gordon will be two of the 1946 sensations." Arkansas Bill is no wild guesser. He has never cared for the end of a limb.

CHARLES RED BARRETT— Red Barrett, another Cardinal pitcher, was 30-years old before he hit the happy road of fame. Traded from the Braves to the Cardinals last season in the Mort Cooper deal, Red picked up 23 Cardinal victories after one of the best seasons in baseball. "This was a great club to pitch for last season," Barrett told me, "and it will be even better this season with that infield and outfield killing off base hits. When they can hit 'em by or through Marty Marion, Kurowski, Terry Moore and others there isn't any cove left on the ball. I love to see this bunch kill off those base hits— even more so when I'm pitching. I feel great already. Bring on the other teams."

Another Eddie Dyer Problem

Eddie Dyer expects to keep a dozen pitchers on his Cardinal squad. But Dyer's case differs considerably from other managers in the same numerical fix. When they have a dozen pitchers it usually means they have four or five starting pitchers with most of the others uncertain, mainly to be used as reserves. But the first dozen pitchers on this Cardinal team are practically all good starting pitchers.

To be effective a pitcher should work at least every fourth day. To be called on only once a week or once every eight days means he will lose much of his effectiveness. He will have a harder time with his control.

Suppose we take a look at some of the leading Red Bird pitchers—Beazley, Pollet, Lanier, Breecheen, Barrett, White, Burkart, Wilks, Martin, Brazle—with Munger due later on. If only four or five from this crop are used as starters, the others will adorn the bench longer than they'd like to. They won't get enough work. No one understands this situation better than Dyer, and the pitchers involved. They all want all the work they can get. But with ten or a dozen good workmen around, how can all of them get this work? The answer is—they can't.

Still Joe McCarthy faces an even tougher problem. He will also keep something like a dozen pitchers on the job, but his problem is getting four or five dependable starting pitchers, pitchers capable of winning eighteen or twenty games. Joe may come up with the four or five he will need to handle most of the work. But he isn't sure about it.

It will take some Yankee pitching to match the Tiger or the Red Sox staff, or the Cleveland staff. You can tell pretty well in advance what such pitchers as Feller, Gromek, Hughson, Ferriss, Newhouser, Trucks and a few others will do. But the Yankee staff is still a guess and a gamble. There won't be any guessing or gambling about the Yankee infield or outfield, or the catching. But the fellows pegging that ball up against hostile bats are a big part of baseball.

Hyndman Firemen Enter Interstate Baseball League

Volunteers Get Nod over Keyser and Cumberland K of C

The application of the Hyndman, Pa., Volunteer Firemen for the Westernport American Legion's franchise in the Interstate Baseball League was accepted by the seven other teams at a meeting last night at the Eagles home, John J. Long, president of the circuit, reported.

Two other teams, Keyser, W. Va., and the Cumberland Knights of Columbus, also sought to fill the Westernport franchise, but their applications were turned down in favor of the Hyndman request.

The Westernport Legion team already had posted its $50 forfeit money in the league but recently asked to be relieved of its franchise. After the action last night, G. Ray Lippold, league secretary, was ordered to return the forfeit money to Westernport.

In view of the acceptance of Hyndman, the circuit will operate with eight teams as planned. The schedule for the season already has been completed and Hyndman will fill dates originally allotted to Westernport.

Finger Injury To Keep Gordon Idle for Month

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP) — Joe Gordon, veteran second baseman, will be lost to the New York Yankees for the next four weeks and thus probably won't be in the lineup when the American League pennant favorites open the season at Philadelphia April 16.

"It will be impossible for Gordon to use a glove for four weeks," said Dr. R. C. Lonergan, of Mound Park hospital.

By JOE REICHLER

Beard's one-pointer, coming after Ernie Calverley had charged him as the great Rhode Island center attempted to intercept a pass, gave the top-seeded Lexington quintet the tourney championship.

Until then, the pint-sized quintet from the smallest state in the union had put up a terrific struggle, which had the final outcome of the game in doubt until the last seconds.

Holding a half-time lead of 27-26, the rough riding Rams, an eleven-point underdog, saw their slim lead vanish in the first ten seconds of the second half, but fought back courageously against their taller opponents to regain the lead 31-30 after five minutes.

After Kentucky's Wallace Jones had committed his fifth personal foul in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent Bob Shea from sinking a layup shot—and he followed with a free throw to give the Rams a 42-40 lead at the fifteen-minute mark—it appeared Rhode Island State, last picked team for the tourney, was about to climax a brilliant series of upsets by defeating the Southeastern Conference champions for the title.

It looked even better for the little Blue and White outfit thirty seconds later when Kentucky's Jack Tingle followed Jones to the bench with five personals. But a pair of free throws by Malcolm Campbell and Joe Holland, substituting for the penalized players, tied the score at 42-all.

Delicatets Rally To Win Spot in Gold Medal Final

Four Games Will Be Played Tonight in Tournament at YMCA; Mac's Big Five Wins

Lacy's Delicatets staged a strong rally in the final quarter last night to defeat the Vogue Big Five, 34-31, and move into the finals in the senior unlimited division of the Gold Medal basketball tournament being played on the Central YMCA court.

Lacy's will face the Davis, W. Va., Eagles tonight for the championship of the division. Davis won a berth in the finals last night by trimming the Coney Legion quint, 32-24.

Mac's Big Five moved into the finals of the junior unlimited class with a 56-32 win and will face St. Paul's Alumni tonight.

Lacy's came back in the second half after a bad first half start to hold the Vogue Big Five to five points in the third quarter and three in the final period while collecting 20 markers in the two periods.

Lacy's Goes Ahead

In the fourth quarter, Montgomery found the hoop for three two-pointers to put Lacy's ahead. Montgomery and Orndorff were the big guns for the winners. Boyle and Hunt led the losers.

St. Paul's Alumni went into the finals of the junior unlimited division with its 38-33 victory over the Racketeers.

The game was well played throughout, but in the closing minutes Lease and Cubbage netted two goals in succession for St. Paul's and the Racketeer's couldn't catch up.

Corbin, with ten points, was high man for the Racketeers. Latimer and Bucy turned in fine floor performances.

Fine Passing Game

In defeating the Coney Legion quint in one of the outstanding games of the tourney, the Davis, W. Va., Eagles, composed of former Davis and Thomas high school players, displayed a fine passing game.

Worden featured the contest with his fine offensive play and led the scorers by racking up 14 points. Maleonski played an outstanding floor game and his passing was a highlight of the contest.

Mac's Big Five showed championship form in its twenty-four point victory over St. Mark's Pony Express. Gene Shaw and Bob Price played outstanding games as well as leading the scorers with 19 and 15 points respectively.

Bill Brehany scored 13 points and Joe Moss had 11 tallies for St. Mark's.

Before tourney games got underway last night, the tourney committee ruled that Lacy's Delicatets' victory over Keegan's Claimers Monday night will stand and that the final quarter of the game will not be replayed.

Four Games Tonight

Previously the committee had decided that the fourth quarter would have to be replayed because of a mixup in the rules. Lacy's won the contest, 47-33.

Pairings for today's games are as follows:

6:30 p. m., Armbruster Radio vs. S. S. Midgets.

7:30 p. m., Harris Spartans vs. Mason's All Stars.

8:30 p. m., Mac's Big Five vs. St. Paul's Alumni.

Chicken Thief Tells How To Silence Birds

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—A youth, confessing to theft of 130 fowls in four chicken roost raids, told Detective Chief Luther Laster he sprayed a "couple of shots" of chloroform over the sleeping birds. The rest, he said, was easy.

"I'd have thought any blade, that good, would sell for a fancy price..."

...then I found PAL HOLLOW GROUND cost no more than ordinary blades."

Lots of men would be perfectly willing to pay plenty for a really superior shave. Now they can have that superior shave, and pay no more.

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Result: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "bearing down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal "Feather Touch" shave

West Virginia Is Easy Winner Over Muhlenberg

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, March 20. (AP) — Overcoming an early 7-0 deficit, West Virginia's Mountaineers powered their way to an easy 65-40 triumph over Muhlenberg tonight to finish third in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square garden.

In winning the consolation game which went on before the championship clash between Kentucky and Rhode Island state, the Blue and Gold of West Virginia had a difficult time finding the range in the first three and a half minutes, but once captain Bob Carroll rimmed a jump shot, the Mountaineers were not to be denied.

Leland Byrd and Dave Wilson followed with two pointers and another shot and free throw by Carroll gave West Virginia a 9-7 lead after five minutes.

Mules Start Strong

After an auspicious start, the Mules fell off both in their shooting and pass work while the Mountaineers picked up speed to assume a commanding 37-18 half time lead.

Holding the Allentown (Pa.) five to one basket from the field in the first five minutes of the second half, West Virginia, with Tom Laverte and Howard Beverly joining in the scoring splurge, raced to a 41-19 lead and increased its margin to 53-28 before substituting an entire new team five minutes before the end.

Muhlenberg, which looked like a hustling fighting array in beating Syracuse in the first round and in losing to Rhode Island in the semi-finals, played lackadaisically and showed no trace of its previous scoring punch.

Byrd, with 18 points, led the scorers, with Van Combs topping the losers on six baskets and a free throw for 13 markers.

West Virginia couldn't score a point for the first three and a half minutes as the Mules piled up a 7-0 lead. Then the Mountaineers began hitting as Carroll opened the scoring with a field goal followed by a foul.

Within two minutes they had taken the lead at 9-7 with Carroll sinking the two pointer that put his team in front after Leland Byrd and Dave Wilson had scored from the floor.

Start Scoring Spree

Another scoring streak got under way after the count had worked up to 11-10 and Carroll netted three field goals and Howard Beverly contributed three fouls to make it 20-10 about half way through the period.

After Harry Donovan and Van Combs had tallied for Muhlenberg, the Mountaineers were off on another eight-point streak which included a pair of field goals by Byrd. Toward the end of the period West Virginia counted five more points in a row with Byrd netting three free throws and Beverly a field goal.

Once they started, the Mountaineers used a fast-breaking attack that seemed to bewilder the Mules, who tried a switching defense. West Virginia played a tight man to man defense that gave Muhlenberg few chances to get in for layup shots.

The Mountaineers still were hot as the second half opened and they rolled up the score to 49-26 midway through the period before they cooled off. Muhlenberg's last faint hope vanished when Red Baldwin, tall sharpshooting forward, fouled out after about seven minutes of play.

105 Horses Named For Four Stakes At Bowie Track

BOWIE, Md., March 20 (AP) — John P. Turner, Bowie racing secretary, announced today that 105 horses had been nominated for the four stakes to be run at the spring meeting starting April 1.

Topping the list is Bernard Seroy's Hillyer Court, winner of the $25,000-added New Orleans Handicap at Fair Grounds March 2. Hillyer Court was named for the $7,500 Bowie Handicap, mile and 70 yards, April 6, and the $10,000-added Southern Maryland Handicap, mile and a sixteenth, April 13.

The Bowie Kindergarten States, a $5,000-added fixture for two-year-olds at four furlongs April 10, drew the largest number of nominees—30.

Gustave Ring's Chally Mally, J. P. Smith's Suribachi, Jouett Shouse's Mesl, and A. G. Vanderbilt's Good Example, were among those named for the Kindergarten.

The Rowe Memorial Handicap, for $7,500-added money, drew 22 sprinters. This six furlong event April 3 probably will see the renewal of a Florida rivalry between A. F. Plock's Ellis and Gustave Ring's Happy Buckle. Another named for this affair is Bobanet, from the Bobanet stable of Bruce Livie of Baltimore.

Twenty-eight were nominated for the Southern Maryland, and 25 horses for the Bowie Handicap.

A Few Personal Pen Shots

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March. — JOHNNY BEAZLEY — Since we both hail from the same town, Nashville, Tenn., it is only fitting that a few kind words should be tossed in the general direction of this Cardinal pitching star. Beazley, 6 feet 2, 190 pounds, will be 27-years-old in May. In his last season with the Cardinals, before leaving for war service the good looking young Tennessean won 21 games and lost only 6. That was back in 1942, the same year that gave him two world series wins over the Yankees. The pleasant, mild-mannered Cardinal entry may easily be one of the pitching stars of 1946, as he was back in 1942.

"My arm still feels soft and a little weak," Beazley tells me. "But it isn't sore. It's just lack of work. I hope to have a good year for I happen to be with a ball club that can get runs for you, and save possible runs by opposing teams. Any pitcher on this Cardinal team has a good break. Only real hits ever gets by our infield or outfield, and often real hits get turned into putouts."

PHIL RIZZUTO — According to Bill Dickey, Phil Rizzuto, the Yankee infielder, will be one of the stars of the new campaign. Phil is now 27 years old, New York City born, only 5 feet 6 inches above the turf.

"I had Rizzuto on my Navy team for ten games," Dickey says, "and he was a star in every game. He was better than good when he left the Yankees, but he will be better than ever this season. I'd hate to try to pick a better all-around shortstop from either league, not overlooking the fact that he is almost sure to bat over .300. Rizzuto and Gordon will be two of the 1946 sensations." Arkansas Bill is no wild guesser. He has never cared for the end of a limb.

CHARLES RED BARRETT— Red Barrett, another Cardinal pitcher, was 30-years old before he hit the happy road of fame. Traded from the Braves to the Cardinals last season in the Mort Cooper deal, Red picked up 23 Cardinal victories after one of the best seasons in baseball. "This was a great club to pitch for last season," Barrett told me, "and it will be even better this season with that infield and outfield killing off base hits. When they can hit 'em by or through Marty Marion, Kurowski, Terry Moore and others there isn't any cove left on the ball. I love to see this bunch kill off those base hits— even more so when I'm pitching. I feel great already. Bring on the other teams."

Another Eddie Dyer Problem

Eddie Dyer expects to keep a dozen pitchers on his Cardinal squad. But Dyer's case differs considerably from other managers in the same numerical fix. When they have a dozen pitchers it usually means they have four or five starting pitchers with most of the others uncertain, mainly to be used as reserves. But the first dozen pitchers on this Cardinal team are practically all good starting pitchers.

To be effective a pitcher should work at least every fourth day. To be called on only once a week or once every eight days means he will lose much of his effectiveness. He will have a harder time with his control.

Suppose we take a look at some of the leading Red Bird pitchers—Beazley, Pollet, Lanier, Breecheen, Barrett, White, Burkart, Wilks, Martin, Brazle—with Munger due later on. If only four or five from this crop are used as starters, the others will adorn the bench longer than they'd like to. They won't get enough work. No one understands this situation better than Dyer, and the pitchers involved. They all want all the work they can get. But with ten or a dozen good workmen around, how can all of them get this work? The answer is—they can't.

Still Joe McCarthy faces an even tougher problem. He will also keep something like a dozen pitchers on the job, but his problem is getting four or five dependable starting pitchers, pitchers capable of winning eighteen or twenty games. Joe may come up with the four or five he will need to handle most of the work. But he isn't sure about it.

It will take some Yankee pitching to match the Tiger or the Red Sox staff, or the Cleveland staff. You can tell pretty well in advance what such pitchers as Feller, Gromek, Hughson, Ferriss, Newhouser, Trucks and a few others will do. But the Yankee staff is still a guess and a gamble. There won't be any guessing or gambling about the Yankee infield or outfield, or the catching. But the fellows pegging that ball up against hostile bats are a big part of baseball.

Hyndman Firemen Enter Interstate Baseball League

Volunteers Get Nod over Keyser and Cumberland K of C

The application of the Hyndman, Pa., Volunteer Firemen for the Westernport American Legion's franchise in the Interstate Baseball League was accepted by the seven other teams at a meeting last night at the Eagles home, John J. Long, president of the circuit, reported.

Two other teams, Keyser, W. Va., and the Cumberland Knights of Columbus, also sought to fill the Westernport franchise, but their applications were turned down in favor of the Hyndman request.

The Westernport Legion team already had posted its $50 forfeit money in the league but recently asked to be relieved of its franchise. After the action last night, G. Ray Lippold, league secretary, was ordered to return the forfeit money to Westernport.

In view of the acceptance of Hyndman, the circuit will operate with eight teams as planned. The schedule for the season already has been completed and Hyndman will fill dates originally allotted to Westernport.

Finger Injury To Keep Gordon Idle for Month

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP) — Joe Gordon, veteran second baseman, will be lost to the New York Yankees for the next four weeks and thus probably won't be in the lineup when the American League pennant favorites open the season at Philadelphia April 16.

This was disclosed today after an X-ray examination of the middle finger on Gordon's left hand which was spiked by Rookie Bob Rhawn in a game yesterday with the St. Louis Cardinals.

"It will be impossible for Gordon to use a glove for four weeks," said Dr. R. C. Lonergan, of Mound Park hospital.

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP) — Ralph Beard sank a free throw with forty seconds left in the game to give Kentucky a 46-45 victory over Rhode Island state in the final round of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Beard's one-pointer, coming after Ernie Calverley had charged him as the great Rhode Island center attempted to intercept a pass, gave the top-seeded Lexington quintet the tourney championship.

Until then, the pint-sized quintet from the smallest state in the union had put up a terrific struggle, which had the final outcome of the game in doubt until the last seconds.

Holding a half-time lead of 27-26, the rough riding Rams, an eleven-point underdog, saw their slim lead vanish in the first ten seconds of the second half, but fought back courageously against their taller opponents to regain the lead 31-30 after five minutes.

After Kentucky's Wallace Jones had committed his fifth personal foul in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent Bob Shea from sinking a layup shot—and he followed with a free throw to give the Rams a 42-40 lead at the fifteen-minute mark—it appeared Rhode Island State, last picked team for the tourney, was about to climax a brilliant series of upsets by defeating the Southeastern Conference champions for the title.

It looked even better for the little Blue and White outfit thirty seconds later when Kentucky's Jack Tingle followed Jones to the bench with five personals. But a pair of free throws by Malcolm Campbell and Joe Holland, substituting for the penalized players, tied the score at 42-all.

Rookie Holds Key To Cleveland's Success in '46

Boudreau Rebuilding on Power, Speed behind Four-star Mound Staff

By JACK HAND

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 20 (AP) — Rookies hold the key to Cleveland's chances in the American League race with Manager Lou Boudreau rebuilding for power and speed to back up his four-star pitching staff.

If Gene Woodling can play a big league center field and if Sherm Lollar can prove he's a Major League catcher, the Tribe will be dangerous all the way.

Woodling and Lollar aren't the only freshmen on the Cleveland list but their ability to make the grade probably is of most importance to the team's success.

Boudreau has Ed Robinson, a fine looking first sacker who may edge into the regular lineup. Bob Lemon, a hard hitting third sacker, is giving Don Ross a scramble for the hot corner job with veteran Ken Keltner still a holdout, and Cliff Mapes and John Ward are trying for the vacant right field post.

Pitching Looks Good

Pitching is Cleveland's strong suit with Bobby Feller, Steve Gromek, Allie Reynolds and Red Embree forming the nucleus of a strong staff. Don Black, acquired from the Athletics, figures to take a regular turn and the veteran Mel Harder with 212 wins to his credit, will pick up a few more on a once-a-week assignment.

Vic Johnson, who came from Boston in the Jim Bagby deal, looks the best of the left-handers, and Tom Ferrick and Win Stroupe, two ex-servicemen, have turned in creditable jobs in exhibition games.

The outfield is the big headache. George Case is the left fielder but the other two jobs have been wide open. If Woodling can live up to his early promise, Lou can stop worrying about the middle spot and concentrate all his attention on sifting through the numerous right field candidates. Pat Seerey, Paul O'Dea, Felix Mackiewicz and Buster Mills will scramble with Mapes, Ward and Sepkowski for the honor.

Woodling has been impressive in center during the spring tilts. He is not too big, five-foot-nine, but he packs good power in his 175-pound frame. Before he went into service, the Akron native played with the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., farm club in the Eastern League. He had a brief trial with the Tribe.

Lollar Shows Up Well

Frankie Hayes, the man of iron, figured to be the No. 1 receiver but this young Lollar is showing plenty. Last year in Baltimore, the 21-year-old slugger from Fayetteville, Ark, slugged International league pitching for a league-leading .367 average. His 306 total bases included thirty-four home runs although it was only his second year in organized ball.

Boudreau has used Lollar regularly in the exhibitions and the six-footer has hit well and left little to be asked in his handling of pitchers although some concern has been expressed about the strength of his throwing arm.

Cleveland probably won't be a pennant factor this season although their excellent pitching should land them in the first division. They have more good-looking young prospects around their camp than any other team in the league. This factor should pay off with interest in 1947 and 1948.

100 Middies Are Out For Spring Practice

ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 20 (AP)—Navy's football coach, Capt. Thomas J. Hamilton, said today his more than 100 Middies out for spring football practice looked in pretty good shape but it was too early to give an overall team picture.

The Middies are going through their daily rehearsals with accent on blocking and tackling.

Last year's veterans appear to be ready for the new season, but no definite division of players into first squad groups has been made, Captain Hamilton said.

The coach added, however, that he had selected some temporary team combinations for spring training practices.

ENOS SLAUGHTER, of the Cardinals, is out at home as he tries to score on a hit by Elvin Adams in the first inning of the Yankee-St. Louis game at St. Petersburg, Fla., Tuesday. Riggs and Budge Discuss Future Of Pro Tennis

Plans Are Being Made To Attract New Talent under Minimum Pay Plan

NEW YORK, March 20. (AP)—Bobby Riggs, a little guy with big ideas, and the bigger, more conservative Don Budge both thing the world of the future of pro tennis.

Stopping off here today on their tour which will take them to Troy, N. Y., and New Haven, Conn., before they come back for Saturday's doubleheader show for the benefit of the Red Cross and themselves, Bobby and Don reached an agreement on the following statements:

(1) That professional tournament tennis needs something like the Professional Golfers Association and they think they have it in the newly-organized Players' Professional Association.

(2) That the P. P. A. will stage three or four "world" championships each year — the hardcourt championship which Riggs recently won in California; a grass court championship at Forest Hills for a title now held by Welby Van Horn, and a clay court championship somewhere in the middlewest.

(3) That it will be necessary to stage about thirty pro tournaments a year for the players to make money.

The talkative and enthusiastic Riggs went on to explain how all this is to be accomplished. The P. P. A., organized because the old Professional Association had failed to produce enough competition, will be limited to those pros who have proved they are good tournament players.

Each will be required to participate in at least ten tournaments a year and each participant will be guaranteed a minimum of $50 expense money per tourney. The prize money, derived from the gate receipts and guarantees, will be apportioned among the last eight in the event with top prize of 18 percent going to the winner.

"By that $50 guarantee," Bobby explained, "we hope to attract young players. That's doing as well as they could in expense money in amateur tennis and by playing in thirty tournament a fellow can make out very well."

Budge added: "We have no quarrel with the amateurs, of course. One thing we must do is to stop taking cracks at the United States Lawn Tennis Association. We can find faults with the USLTA, of course, but there are plenty of faults in our association. If we ever want to have open tournaments, we'll have to clean house."

Pro Grid World Series Is Predicted by Crowley

CLEVELAND, March 20 (AP)—James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, commissioner of the new All America Football Conference, predicted today the National Football League eventually would "declare a truce" and permit its champions to play a pro gridiron "world series" with titlists of the new circuit.

Crowley, conferring with Head Coach Paul Brown of the All America Cleveland Browns, said the National league's "truce" might not be declared this year.

"I believe that all the National league is waiting for x x x is to see how we draw at the gate," he added.

There HAD to be a Better motor oil

To bring Germany and Japan to their knees fast—with a minimum loss of blood and treasure—there just had to be a better engine oil.

—for submarines, army trucks, jeeps, tanks—for all motorized land equipment. Otherwise we could not win a long range war on two fronts quickly.

The answer of American chemists and engineers was COMPOUNDED OIL!

Born of war? Yes! But the point is—

You Can Now Have COMPOUNDED Motor Oil For Your Car

Yes, in our new ALLSTATE Motor Oil you get the lubricant that is refined and compounded by the same advance methods used for oil developed for the Army and Navy.

What Is Compound Motor Oil?

Compounded Motor Oil is to ordinary motor oil what fine alloyed steel is to pig iron. So-called "additives" have been used to improve its penetrative quality between close-tolerance moving metal parts—and to insure its adherence to friction exposed surfaces, and therefore its dependable lubrication qualities.

Why Was It Necessary to Improve Motor Oil?

Because of greatly increased horsepower, heat, motor speed, and greatly decreased tolerances between pistons and cylinder walls. Under changed lubrication requirements, brought about by engineering refinements and developments, yesterday's motor oils simply could not properly lubricate today's more powerful, hotter, more closely fitted, faster running engines.

What Other Improvements Are Present in Compound Motor Oil?

Compounded Motor Oil, in addition to meeting the new lubricant requirements, contains a "detergent" which dissolves gum and sludge, and keeps it in solution so it can be drained away.

Compounded Motor Oil reduces motor "carbonitis" by at least 80%—imagine what this means to the smoother operation of your car, and to its longer life, with freedom from frequent overhaul.

What Compounded Oil Will Do for Your Motor

Specifically, Compounded Motor Oil will eliminate piston-drag—produce a much livelier, smoother, more powerful engine. It contains "Anti-Oxident" which keeps oil from carbonizing—from forming varnish and lacquer deposits on pistons and cylinder walls—thus locking piston rings in caked grooves, rendering them useless—meaning lost compression and power.

That's why we recommend it to all American motorists and back it with our famous Oil Bond.

Riggs and Budge Discuss Future Of Pro Tennis

Plans Are Being Made To Attract New Talent under Minimum Pay Plan

NEW YORK, March 20. (AP)—Bobby Riggs, a little guy with big ideas, and the bigger, more conservative Don Budge both thing the world of the future of pro tennis.

Stopping off here today on their tour which will take them to Troy, N. Y., and New Haven, Conn., before they come back for Saturday's doubleheader show for the benefit of the Red Cross and themselves, Bobby and Don reached an agreement on the following statements:

(1) That professional tournament tennis needs something like the Professional Golfers Association and they think they have it in the newly-organized Players' Professional Association.

(2) That the P. P. A. will stage three or four "world" championships each year — the hardcourt championship which Riggs recently won in California; a grass court championship at Forest Hills for a title now held by Welby Van Horn, and a clay court championship somewhere in the middlewest.

(3) That it will be necessary to stage about thirty pro tournaments a year for the players to make money.

The talkative and enthusiastic Riggs went on to explain how all this is to be accomplished. The P. P. A., organized because the old Professional Association had failed to produce enough competition, will be limited to those pros who have proved they are good tournament players.

Each will be required to participate in at least ten tournaments a year and each participant will be guaranteed a minimum of $50 expense money per tourney. The prize money, derived from the gate receipts and guarantees, will be apportioned among the last eight in the event with top prize of 18 percent going to the winner.

"By that $50 guarantee," Bobby explained, "we hope to attract young players. That's doing as well as they could in expense money in amateur tennis and by playing in thirty tournament a fellow can make out very well."

Budge added: "We have no quarrel with the amateurs, of course. One thing we must do is to stop taking cracks at the United States Lawn Tennis Association. We can find faults with the USLTA, of course, but there are plenty of faults in our association. If we ever want to have open tournaments, we'll have to clean house."

Pro Grid World Series Is Predicted by Crowley

CLEVELAND, March 20 (AP)—James (Sleepy Jim) Crowley, commissioner of the new All America Football Conference, predicted today the National Football League eventually would "declare a truce" and permit its champions to play a pro gridiron "world series" with titlists of the new circuit.

Crowley, conferring with Head Coach Paul Brown of the All America Cleveland Browns, said the National league's "truce" might not be declared this year.

"I believe that all the National league is waiting for x x x is to see how we draw at the gate," he added.

There HAD to be a Better motor oil

To bring Germany and Japan to their knees fast—with a minimum loss of blood and treasure—there just had to be a better engine oil.

—for submarines, army trucks, jeeps, tanks —for all motorized land equipment. Otherwise we could not win a long range war on two fronts quickly.

The answer of American chemists and engineers was COMPOUNDED OIL!

Born of war? Yes! But the point is—

You Can Now Have COMPOUNDED Motor Oil For Your Car

Yes, in our new ALLSTATE Motor Oil you get the lubricant that is refined and compounded by the same advance methods used for oil developed for the Army and Navy.

What Is Compound Motor Oil?

Compounded Motor Oil is to ordinary motor oil what fine alloyed steel is to pig iron. So-called "additives" have been used to improve its penetrative quality between close-tolerance moving metal parts—and to insure its adherence to friction exposed surfaces, and therefore its dependable lubrication qualities.

Why Was It Necessary to Improve Motor Oil?

Because of greatly increased horsepower, heat, motor speed, and greatly decreased tolerances between pistons and cylinder walls. Under changed lubrication requirements, brought about by engineering refinements and developments, yesterday's motor oils simply could not properly lubricate today's more powerful, hotter, more closely fitted, faster running engines.

What Other Improvements Are Present in Compound Motor Oil?

Compounded Motor Oil, in addition to meeting the new lubricant requirements, contains a "detergent" which dissolves gum and sludge, and keeps it in solution so it can be drained away.

Compounded Motor Oil reduces motor "carbonitis" by at least 80%—imagine what this means to the smoother operation of your car, and to its longer life, with freedom from frequent overhaul.

What Compounded Oil Will Do for Your Motor

Specifically, Compounded Motor Oil will eliminate piston-drag—produce a much livelier, smoother, more powerful engine. It contains "Anti-Oxident" which keeps oil from carbonizing—from forming varnish and lacquer deposits on pistons and cylinder walls—thus locking piston rings in caked grooves, rendering them useless—meaning lost compression and power.

That's why we recommend it to all American motorists and back it with our famous Oil Bond.

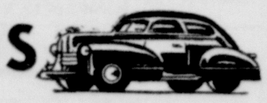

Protect your valuable motor. Drain out the old stuff . . . and fill 'er up with ALLSTATE Compounded Motor Oil. You can't buy a better "premium" quality motor oil at any price.

Russian Question Will Be Debated At Radio Forum

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP) — Here's the question to be put at America's Town Meeting in its weekly ABC broadcast at 8:30 Thursday night, "Have Britain and America Any Reason To Fear Russia?"

The discussion will be carried forward by the usual panel of four, to be made up this time of Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator from Massachusetts; H. V. Kaltenborn, NBC commentator; Dr. Jerome Davis, author and correspondent in Russia, and Joseph C. Harsh, news analyst.

Elaine Carrington's Playhouse, MBS at 8, is to do "The Sparrow," described as a drama of children of the French resistance movement.

Thursday night, like a lot of others on the networks, brings a hosts of guests, the supply of which never seems to run out even if there have to be plenty of duplications. So here are some of them:

On NBC—at 8:30 Joan Davis with Dinah Shore instead of the usual Groucho Marx; at 9 the Slim Gaillard trio with Bing Crosby; at 9:30 Joe E. Brown, not now an air regular, with Jack Haley, who will have the comedienne help of Eve Arden.

On CBS—At 9 second appearance of Dorothy Kirsten in the Andre Kostelanetz concert.

On MBS—At 9:30 Alfredo Antonini concert, Rose Bampton singing in place of Licia Albanese, absent for a Metropolitan opera appearance.

Plans call for an 18-foot statue with a nine-foot figure of Roosevelt resting upon a granite base.

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Here's the question to be put at America's Town Meeting in its weekly ABC broadcast at 8:30 Thursday night, "Have Britain and America Any Reason To Fear Russia?"

The discussion will be carried forward by the usual panel of four, to be made up this time of Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator from Massachusetts; H. V. Kaltenborn, NBC commentator; Dr. Jerome Davis, author and correspondent in Russia, and Joseph C. Harsh, news analyst.

Elaine Carrington's Playhouse, MBS at 8, is to do "The Sparrow," described as a drama of children of the French resistance movement.

Thursday night, like a lot of others on the networks, brings a hosts of guests, the supply of which never seems to run out even if there have to be plenty of duplications. So here are some of them:

On NBC—at 8:30 Joan Davis with Dinah Shore instead of the usual Groucho Marx; at 9 the Slim Gaillard trio with Bing Crosby; at 9:30 Joe E. Brown, not now an air regular, with Jack Haley, who will have the comedienne help of Eve Arden.

On CBS—At 9 second appearance of Dorothy Kirsten in the Andre Kostelanetz concert.

On MBS—At 9:30 Alfredo Antonini concert, Rose Bampton singing in place of Licia Albanese, absent for a Metropolitan opera appearance.

Statue of F.D.R. Planned in Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A bronze and granite statue of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt will soon be erected in this city, and ambassadors of other American nations will be invited to attend the bringing of earth from their countries to be planted at the statue's base. In Memoriam

In loving memory of Don Laffey, who departed this life three years ago, March 21, 1943.

My thoughts cannot express how I miss you,
My heart cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how I miss you
In my lonely home today.

Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest,
In memory's frame I shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best.

Loving, kind, in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he leaves behind.

Sadly missed by his grandmother,
MRS. JESSIE KALBAUGH.
3-21-1t-NT

A tribute of love in memory of our son and brother, James J. Robertson, who was killed two years ago today, March 21, 1944.

We think we see his smiling face,
Although two years has passed,
Still in our memory fresh is he,
And will be to the last.

Our family circle is broken,
The voice we loved is stilled,
Your place that's vacant in our hearts,
No one will ever fill.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
He gently closed your eyes, dear one,
And whispered "Thy labor's done."

Sadly missed by his MOTHER, DAD, SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Don Laffey, who departed this life three years ago, March 21, 1943.

My thoughts cannot express how I miss you,
My heart cannot tell what to say,
God alone knows how I miss you
In my lonely home today.

Deep in my heart lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest.
In memory's frame I shall keep it,
Because he was one of the best.

Loving, kind, in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he leaves behind.

Sadly missed by his grandmother,
MRS. JESSIE KALBAUGH.
3-21-1t-NT

A tribute of love in memory of our son and brother, James J. Robertson, who was killed two years ago today, March 21, 1944.

We think we see his smiling face,
Although two years has passed,
Still in our memory fresh is he,
And will be to the last.

Our family circle is broken,
The voice we loved is stilled,
Your place that's vacant in our hearts,
No one will ever fill.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb,
He gently closed your eyes, dear one,
And whispered "Thy labor's done."

MOTHER, DAD, SISTERS
AND BROTHERS.

Following his graduation from the university, Croft became associated with the British Celanese Corporation and has been connected with the textile industry since with the exception of the World War I years when he served in the Royal Naval Air Service.

Came Here in 1925

Croft was sent to Cumberland in 1925, after the new Amcelle plant of the corporation was opened. He was placed in charge of the dye plant where his experience as a dye chemist was utilized to best advantage.

During his twenty years of residence in Cumberland, Croft identified himself with the Masonic order, the Shrine and also was a member of the Loyal Order of Jesters.

The new plant that he will manage in Mexico is located near Guadalajara and construction will be completed soon. Croft said yesterday that his plans are not definite as yet regarding when he will actually take over the plant but anticipates that it will be sometime this summer. He will probably complete his work at the Amcelle plant around May 1.

Bradfield, Kiser Leaving

It has also been announced that two other Amcelle men will accompany Croft when he takes over the management of the new plant. They are W. E. Bradfield, who will be in charge of the textile department, and R. C. Kiser, who will be placed in charge of the spinning department.

Retail Meat Prices Will Rise about April 1, McCormick Reports

Recent increases in wholesale meat prices allowed by the OPA will be reflected in retail prices about April 1, according to Leo H. McCormick, OPA state director.

Increase to consumers, as previously announced, will amount to about one and a half per cent. Higher retail prices for beef, veal, lamb and mutton will be made public on or about March 25 and will become effective approximately April 1. Prices on pork, sausage and variety meats will be announced about ten days later, McCormick said.

New retail prices are being allowed to offset the higher prices retailers must pay wholesalers as a result of wholesale price increases covering wage increases granted to packing house workers.

PE Plant Workers Seek Wage Boost

Negotiations for 25-Cent Increases Will Start on Wednesday

The Utility Workers of America, CIO, is asking a wage increase of twenty-five cents an hour for about sixty river, steam, plant and Celanese sub-station employes of the Potomac Edison Company, James H. Dean, union president, said yesterday.

He added that other PE unions have been getting increases of about five cents an hour but that PE plant workers will not be satisfied with boosts of that amount.

A meeting has been arranged with the company for 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, according to Dean. George S. Humphrey, vice president in charge of operations, is expected to be the chief company negotiator with Henry W. Price, district manager, assisting. Among the union representatives will be Reginald Brown, West Penn Power Company employe and regional director of the union.

Dean said local employes realize their responsibility to the public, which expects to be provided with unlimited and uninterrupted service, and added that because of this the public will be kept informed concerning negotiations and possibilities of further action by the union.

Workers of the West Penn company, which operates in the Pittsburgh area, have been increased seventeen cents an hour, Monongahela Power employes in West Virginia have been increased fifteen cents and some Ohio companies have granted fifteen-cent increases, Dean said.

DeMolay Alumni Hear Fred Fortess

Implications of the atomic bomb were discussed by Fred Fortess, Celanese chemist, at the regular monthly meeting of Sandford H. Buley DeMolay Alumni, held yesterday evening at 8:15 o'clock at Central YMCA.

Fortess said the destructive power of the atomic bomb is so tremendous that world powers must decide to remain at peace, since destruction is the only alternative.

Stanley Buckley was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for the nineteenth anniversary dinner, to be held in May. He will be assisted by John Workmeister and Dr. Albert C. Cook.

Henry Gehauf, sponsor of the DeMolay chapter, introduced three officers of the newly organized DeMolay Majority club. They included Charles Beckwith, president; Homer Wise, secretary, and Charles Gray, treasurer.

Henry B. Jammer, president, presided at the meeting.

Seven Persons Are Treated in Hospitals following Accidents

James M. Raupach, 36, 863 Columbia avenue, was admitted to Allegany hospital early last evening for right ankle and right elbow injuries suffered, he said, when the motorcycle he was operating collided with a car on Route 40 in LaVale yesterday at 5:30 p. m.

Attaches said examination disclosed that a bone in the leg was injured but added that his condition is good.

Bittner Escapes Injury in Making Forced Landing

Brings Plane Down on Wolf Farm after Gas Supply Is Exhausted

R. E. Bittner, of Meyersdale, Pa., a student pilot of Cumberland Airways Incorporated, at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, made a forced landing with an Aeronca training ship yesterday at 5:20 p. m. on the Wolf farm in South Cumberland.

According to J. E. Chapman, manager of the local flying school and airport, Bittner flew a little longer than he had planned to, and the ship ran out of gas. The young student was uninjured, and the plane suffered only minor damage.

Chapman said he plans to repair the ship and fly it back to the port in the next day or two.

The airplane was one formerly owned by George Ruhl who sold it recently to Cumberland Airways. Ruhl has been instructing Bittner. The young pilot, however, had made his solo flight several days ago, and was building up his flying time.

Chapman Praises Student

Chapman said the forced landing was merely a case of running out of gas, and was actually not the fault of the student. Chapman said he had checked the ship and the student before he started his flight and everything was satisfactory. The airport manager, a man of many years flying and instructor of hundreds of pilots laughed about the incident and praised the student. He said, the young fellow did an excellent job in bringing the ship down and probably gained from the experience.

When the ship landed, wheels of the landing gear dug into the soft ground and the ship turned-turtle, coming to rest on its back.

City police were notified of the forced landing and Officer J. C. Stouffer investigated. The officer said Bittner landed in an area where he had sufficient room to come down without damage to persons or property, and that there was no indication of any negligence.

Propeller Is Broken

The plane had been noticed flying over the city for sometime, prior to the landing. At the point where Bittner brought the ship down, there are no houses, Wolf farm is situated in the valley below the airport, and Bittner said if his gas had held out for another minute, he would have made the field satisfactorily.

The farm, according to city police lies within the city limits and is near the Cumberland Box Company plant in South Cumberland. This is the same field where firemen fought a bad brush and grass fire two weeks ago, they said.

City police said the propeller of the ship was broken, struts were snapped and cowling damaged, when the plane nosed over on its top.

Spring Becomes Official In Cumberland Today

Spring became official in Cumberland last night at 12:33 a. m. with the weather forecast for today "fair and slightly warmer."

While today is the first day of spring officially in Cumberland, the city had already experienced a few agreeably warm days early in March.

When March arrived placidly there were some who hinted darkly that a large dose of bad weather could be looked for the latter part of the month but so far the only bad omen has been a frost Tuesday night that may have done some damage to flowers and some early plants.

While the temperature dropped to 27 degrees in Cumberland Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, County Agent R. F. McHenry said that in his opinion the frost did not harm fruit trees in the area.

The county agent explained that fruit trees have not fully budded yet as the recent cool and rainy weather retarded development accelerated several weeks ago by unreasonably warm weather.

Yesterday was one of the most pleasant days since the arrival of March.

Team Straddles Sign After Car Strikes Wagon near Eckhart

A Frostburg motorist will be given a hearing before Magistrate Owen Porter of Frostburg Monday at 10:30 a m. on a charge of reckless driving as result of an automobile-wagon collision on Route 40 at Barn Hill near Eckhart, yesterday at 8:45 a. m.

Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt and Trooper G. M. Rotruck, who investigated for state police, identified the driver of the car as Gilbert W. McKenzie, Frostburg.

The officers said McKenzie was driving east on Route 40 when he collided with a two-horse drawn wagon as the driver of the team, Frank J. Urbas, Barn Hill, was emerging from the entrance to his farm.

Both the wagon and the horses were shoved from the road, the officers said, adding that Urbas headed the team toward the fence to keep the team from bolting. When the horses stopped, the officers said, they were straddling a highway sign.

Some Tenants Evicted

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 20, (AP)—Area Rent Director Edward C. Condron said today his office is notified about fifteen time monthly that Washington and Allegany county landlords have been forced to evict tenants, and that the OPA "stands solidly" behind the landlords when eviction is for non-payment of rent.

Condron declared it was not fair to landlords and prospective tenants to permit tenants to become delinquent. He said he finds it "paradoxical" that any tenant would jeopardize his home in view of the present housing shortage.

Returned Missionary Discusses Haiti at Evangelistic Meeting

The Rev. R. C. Arbaugh, Willis, Va., a returned missionary from the Republic of Haiti, last night opened the first in a series of evangelistic services to be held nightly at the headquarters of the Volunteers of America, 151-153 North Mechanic street, through March 31.

In speaking of his experiences at Petionville, near the capital city of Port-au-Prince which has a population of 120,000, the Rev.. Mr. Arbaugh stated that the chief needs of the little republic are;

1—Medical aid.
2—Education.
3—Clothing and supplies.

Fruitful Field

"Haiti is a fruitful field for missionary work," the speaker said, "with the younger people showing a keen interest in education. I would say that the "Good Neighbor" policy is functioning well in Haiti with the citizens displaying considerable good will towards the United States."

Despite the voodoo practices that still exist in the interior of the island, Christianity is gaining ground in the republic, the missionary said. Christian teaching and all around sound education is what is needed to completely wipe out the weird beliefs and practices of the more backward people of the island, he said.

Asked if he had formed any opinions regarding voodoo practices in general and "zombis" in particular, the Rev. Mr. Arbaugh said that voodoo still has a strong hold in the interior of Haiti. He said he was "undecided" regarding the practice of zombism since all of his information on the subject has been received second hand. However, he said, there does not seem to be much doubt that native high priests and priestesses use an herb which robs humans of their brain power, reducing them to mere walking machines without the power to think. However, he did not elaborate regarding these practices.

"Wonderful Place for Vacation"

The word "Haiti" means "mountainous", the missionary said in explaining that the coastal towns and cities of the island seem destined to become a great tourist center now that the war is over. The coastal areas are a "wonderful place for a winter vacation," he said.

Saturday is the "big day" in Haiti and at the present time the people of the republic are conducting their annual Mardi Gras activities, he said.

Criticism of Police Force Brings Reply from Sgt. John E. Sherry

Several days ago, there appeared in print, a letter from a local citizen which was taken as personal abuse and criticism, by members of the local police department.

The police quite naturally took issue with some of the statements made in the communication, and last night Sgt. John E. Sherry submitted the following statement, which he said, "is the other side of the story".

"During the past year, much has been said, written and portrayed about the famous government "G" man, all of which is well merited," Sgt. Sherry said. "Their gallant deeds of bravery and endurance will never be forgotten. But the public, and very often the press have overlooked a very important cog in the machinery of the "G-man's" success, namely the nation's thousands of local police officers.

Police Furnish Information

"It is from local police that "G" men receive their first information concerning the person or persons being sought. It is from local police that assistance is most frequently obtained in hunting down kidnappers, dealers in narcotics, counterfeiters, car thieves and other undesirables. Without the assistance of the local "cop", and "flat-foot", the "G-Man's" efforts would many times be in vain.

"Let us find the position the blue-coat occupies in the minds of much too large a percentage of the general public, and sometimes the press. If he arrests for all violations he is labled 'a wing-sprouting Bible student'. If he passes up minor violations, he is termed a 'grafter and tool of the underworld'. If he makes an arrest at night, he must attend court the following day at an hour set to the convenience of everyone but himself, and no consideration is given to the fact that if he must work, he must have proper rest.

"Subject at all times to the beck and call of the public, and in all emergencies, he is termed the faithful watchdog. After an emergency, he is transformed in the minds of men, to a 'the kitten of unpleasant odor'.

Deal with Other Mistakes

Bittner Escapes Injury in Making Forced Landing

Brings Plane Down on Wolf Farm after Gas Supply Is Exhausted

R. E. Bittner, of Meyersdale, Pa., a student pilot of Cumberland Airways Incorporated, at the Cumberland Municipal Airport, made a forced landing with an Aeronca training ship yesterday at 5:20 p. m. on the Wolf farm in South Cumberland.

According to J. E. Chapman, manager of the local flying school and airport, Bittner flew a little longer than he had planned to, and the ship ran out of gas. The young student was uninjured, and the plane suffered only minor damage.

Chapman said he plans to repair the ship and fly it back to the port in the next day or two.

The airplane was one formerly owned by George Ruhl who sold it recently to Cumberland Airways. Ruhl has been instructing Bittner. The young pilot, however, had made his solo flight several days ago, and was building up his flying time.

Chapman Praises Student

Chapman said the forced landing was merely a case of running out of gas, and was actually not the fault of the student. Chapman said he had checked the ship and the student before he started his flight and everything was satisfactory. The airport manager, a man of many years flying and instructor of hundreds of pilots laughed about the incident and praised the student. He said, the young fellow did an excellent job in bringing the ship down and probably gained from the experience.

When the ship landed, wheels of the landing gear dug into the soft ground and the ship turned-turtle, coming to rest on its back.

City police were notified of the forced landing and Officer J. C. Stouffer investigated. The officer said Bittner landed in an area where he had sufficient room to come down without damage to persons or property, and that there was no indication of any negligence.

Propeller Is Broken

The plane had been noticed flying over the city for sometime, prior to the landing. At the point where Bittner brought the ship down, there are no houses, Wolf farm is situated in the valley below the airport, and Bittner said if his gas had held out for another minute, he would have made the field satisfactorily.

The farm, according to city police lies within the city limits and is near the Cumberland Box Company plant in South Cumberland. This is the same field where firemen fought a bad brush and grass fire two weeks ago, they said.

City police said the propeller of the ship was broken, struts were snapped and cowling damaged, when the plane nosed over on its top.

Team Straddles Sign After Car Strikes Wagon near Eckhart

A Frostburg motorist will be given a hearing before Magistrate Owen Porter of Frostburg Monday at 10:30 a m. on a charge of reckless driving as result of an automobile-wagon collision on Route 40 at Barn Hill near Eckhart, yesterday at 8:45 a. m.

Sgt. Thomas M. Hignutt and Trooper G. M. Rotruck, who investigated for state police, identified the driver of the car as Gilbert W. McKenzie, Frostburg.

The officers said McKenzie was driving east on Route 40 when he collided with a two-horse drawn wagon as the driver of the team, Frank J. Urbas, Barn Hill, was emerging from the entrance to his farm.

Both the wagon and the horses were shoved from the road, the officers said, adding that Urbas headed the team toward the fence to keep the team from bolting. When the horses stopped, the officers said, they were straddling a highway sign.

Some Tenants Evicted

HAGERSTOWN, Md., March 20. (AP)—Area Rent Director Edward C. Condron said today his office is notified about fifteen time monthly that Washington and Allegany county landlords have been forced to evict tenants, and that the OPA "stands solidly" behind the landlords when eviction is for non-payment of rent.

Condron declared it was not fair to landlords and prospective tenants to permit tenants to become delinquent. He said he finds it "paradoxical" that any tenant would jeopardize his home in view of the present housing shortage.

Criticism of Police Force Brings Reply from Sgt. John E. Sherry

Several days ago, there appeared in print, a letter from a local citizen which was taken as personal abuse and criticism, by members of the local police department.

The police quite naturally took issue with some of the statements made in the communication, and last night Sgt. John E. Sherry submitted the following statement, which he said, "is the other side of the story".

"During the past year, much has been said, written and portrayed about the famous government "G" man, all of which is well merited," Sgt. Sherry said. "Their gallant deeds of bravery and endurance will never be forgotten. But the public, and very often the press have overlooked a very important cog in the machinery of the "G-man's" success, namely the nation's thousands of local police officers.

Police Furnish Information

"It is from local police that "G" men receive their first information concerning the person or persons being sought. It is from local police that assistance is most frequently obtained in hunting down kidnappers, dealers in narcotics, counterfeiters, car thieves and other undesirables. Without the assistance of the local "cop", and "flat-foot", the "G-Man's" efforts would many times be in vain.

"Let us find the position the bluecoat occupies in the minds of much too large a percentage of the general public, and sometimes the press. If he arrests for all violations he is labled 'a wing-sprouting Bible student'. If he passes up minor violations, he is termed a 'grafter and tool of the underworld'. If he makes an arrest at night, he must attend court the following day at an hour set to the convenience of everyone but himself, and no consideration is given to the fact that if he must work, he must have proper rest.

"Subject at all times to the beck and call of the public, and in all emergencies, he is termed the faithful watchdog. After an emergency, he is transformed in the minds of men, to the kitten of unpleasant odor'.

Deal with Other Mistakes

Returned Missionary Discusses Haiti at Evangelistic Meeting

The Rev. R. C. Arbaugh, Willis, Va., a returned missionary from the Republic of Haiti, last night opened the first in a series of evangelistic services to be held nightly at the headquarters of the Volunteers of America, 151-153 North Mechanic street, through March 31.

In speaking of his experiences at Petionville, near the capital city of Port-au-Prince which has a population of 120,000, the Rev.. Mr. Arbaugh stated that the chief needs of the little republic are;

1—Medical aid.
2—Education.
3—Clothing and supplies.

Fruitful Field

"Haiti is a fruitful field for missionary work," the speaker said, "with the younger people showing a keen interest in education. I would say that the "Good Neighbor" policy is functioning well in Haiti with the citizens displaying considerable good will towards the United States."

Despite the voodoo practices that still exist in the interior of the island, Christianity is gaining ground in the republic, the missionary said. Christian teaching and all around sound education is what is needed to completely wipe out the weird beliefs and practices of the more backward people of the island, he said.

Asked if he had formed any opinions regarding voodoo practices in general and "zombis" in particular, the Rev. Mr. Arbaugh said that voodoo still has a strong hold in the interior of Haiti. He said he was "undecided" regarding the practice of zombism since all of his information on the subject has been received second hand. However, he said, there does not seem to be much doubt that native high priests and priestesses use an herb which robs humans of their brain power, reducing them to mere walking machines without the power to think. However, he did not elaborate regarding these practices.

"Wonderful Place for Vacation"

The word "Haiti" means "mountainous", the missionary said in explaining that the coastal towns and cities of the island seem destined to become a great tourist center now that the war is over. The coastal areas are a "wonderful place for a winter vacation," he said.

Saturday is the "big day" in Haiti and at the present time the people of the republic are conducting their annual Mardi Gras activities, he said.
